WIFE ACCUSES PHYSICIAN WHOM HUSBAND SLEW

Mrs. Sanderson Tells Life Secrets to Save Dr. Meredith's Slayer.

WOMEN WEEP IN COURT

Witness Breaks Down as She Tells Her Story at Carthage, Mo., Trial.

UNWRITTEN LAW PLEA

Fatal Shooting Followed Confession to Husband, Woman Swears.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CARTHAGE, Mo., March 22.—Weeping as she told her story in an effort to justify under the "unwritten law" the murder by her husband of his family physician, Mrs. Arthur Sanderson on the witness stand today told how Dr. Solomon D. Meredith had wronged her. Dr. Meredith was shot and killed by Sanderson on the morning of Jan. 2, 1907, in Sanderson's home.

Two hours and ten minutes after the selection in of the jury the State had rested its case at 4 p. m., yesterday. Mrs. Sanderson is a petite, attractive woman. When at the preliminary hearing of her husband she told of her conduct with Dr. Meredith, the shock was so great that she had to be supported from the witness stand.

In only one instance was Mrs. Sanderson's story today different from that which she told at the preliminary hearing. Today she explained that Dr. Meredith had used no force. Asked why she thus contradicted herself, the witness said her forwer answer was due to a misunderstanding of the question. At this point in her examination the prisoner's wife was overcome and afterward she faltered in her detailing of the shooting by her husband of the physician.

Mrs. Sanderson testified that Dr. Meredith had a strong influence over her and that she had told no one of his power until she related the circumstances to her husband the morning of the killing.

Tells of Confession.

She testified that she had been seriously ill late on the night of Jan. 1; that Arthur wanted to call a physician, suggesting that Dr. Meredith be summoned. Mrs. Sanderson said she told Arthur she did not want Dr. Meredith to attend her, btu he insisted. Finally she told him of her intimacy with Dr. Meredith.

Arthur Sanderson, the accused, is apparently the least interested man in the courtroom. Sanderson is 34 years old. He was born in Joplin and has lived here all his life. He is tall and slender. By his side sits his father, who evidences more than his son the strain they have undergone.

Mrs. S. D. Meredith, widow of Dr. Meredith, weak from excitement, entered the courtroom a few moments before adjournment yesterday morning. She was dressed in black and a veil shielded her face.

Widow Is Not Called.

Mrs. Meredith was not called to the stand; the prosecution will rely almost entirely on the dying declaration of Dr. Meredith. This statement, together with the actions of Arthur Sanderson on the early morning of the killing, make the State's case, except for the expert testimony of two physicians as to the cause of the doctor's death.

Dr. S. D. Meredith, who had been a practicing physician in Carthage for five years, was shot on the morning of Jan. 2, 1907. As brought out at the preliminary hearing, held 10 days after the shooting, Dr. Meredith was called from his home at 5 o'clock that morning to the home of Arthur Sanderson. Dr. Meredith was physician for the Eagles' Lodge and thus became family physician for Arthur Sanderson. In his dying declaration, made 30 hours after the shooting and just before his death, he said as soon as he entered the Sanderson home Arthur Sanderson, revolver in hand, shouted to him:

"Damn you, you've betrayed me; and I'm going to kill you!" Sanderson shot twice. The physician, who was a man of powerful physique, walked to his office, seven blocks away, called Dr. W. E. Steele. He told Dr. Steele he was mortally wounded. The wounds were dressed and he was taken to his home, where he died.

Sanderson's version of the shooting is that Dr. Meredith attempted to brain him with his medicine case, whereupon he shot, in self-defense. He says they were quarreling over revelations made a few hours before by Mrs. Sanderson to her husband.

Seven of the twelve men who will try Sanderson are residents of Joplin, where Sanderson was born. The jurors are: A. C. Daugherty, a farmer near Webb City; J. W. Page, E. O. Foster, L. C. McCarty, J. L. Kelley, James Pitts, Charles W. Glover and Joseph Williams of Joplin; R. O. Childers and W. B. Jones of Webb City; Walter Rollins, Neck City, and L. N. Mitchell, Orongo.

Accused of Cruelty.

Isaac Rose, a negro, aged 17, of 4561 Cottage avenue, was arrested at Grand and Russell avenues Friday morning and taken to the Magnolia Street Station, where a charge of cruelty to animals was entered against him. The negro is accused of driving a mule which was suffering from a sore shoulder.

Alleged Robber Rearrested.

Edward Gleason, who, with Edward Carroll and Conrad Hart, is to be tried on charges of attempting to rob and assaulting with intent to kill P. P. Hoxey, cashier of the Buss Milling Co., 1540 North Broadway, was arrested again Thursday night. The complainant is John Reedy of 2627 Howard street, who informed the police that on the night of March 16 Gleason robbed him of $1. Reedy recognized Gleason on the street and the prisoner is now charged with larceny from the person in the nighttime.

"Fair and continued high temperatures tonight and Saturday; southerly winds."

The hot weather will continue through Saturday, unabated, and, unless the area of high pressure in the Southern States is dissipated, may last even longer than that.

Private records show that Thursday's official temperature of 90 degrees was four degrees higher than St. Louis has seen in 71 years. The Weather Bureau was established in 1871 and the highest temperature on its official records for March is 85 degrees. Dr. Engleman, who made notes on the weather from 1836 until the establishment of the bureau, records 86 degrees March 29, 1842.

Following are the temperatures for other cities at 7 a. m. Friday:

Chicago 62, New York 44, St. Paul 38, Denver 50, Boston 44, Buffalo 50, Omaha 50, Cincinnati 66, San Francisco 44, Pittsburg 66, New Orleans 66, Kansas City 66, Austin, Tex., 44.

BOY HURT IN RUNAWAY.

A horse drawing a light delivery wagon, to the seat of which a frightened boy clung, dashe dmadly west from the Pine street entrance to the Planters Hotel at noon Friday, and at Broadway collided with a surrey and span of horses owned by the same livery company as the wagon.

The impact hurled the boy to the street, and the delivery horse, recoiling, dragged the wagon across his prostrate body, the rnan south on Broadway until the wagon overturned ata Chestnut street. The boy's right leg was broken, his head cut and perhaps fractured, and he was internally hurt.

The boy is Robert Foster of 1009 Pine street, 11 years old. His father is employed at the Planters, and he spends much time playing about the entrances. He climbed on the delivery wagon Friday despite the prohibition of Charles Peters, the driver, and picked up the reins. The horse started forward, the boy jerked the reins, and a moment later the animal, frightened at the unusual treatment, was in full gallop.

The streets were crowded with pedestrians and vehicles. The surrey and pair were driven by B. Bestoso. Charles P. Everle of the Eberly & Keyes Livery Co. was in a rear seat.

The delivery horse dashed against the span, snapping the iron-sheathed singletree and liberating the horses.

The boy was taken to the City Hospital. His condition is serious.

FORMAN SEEKS TO REOPEN SUIT FOR BANK STOCK

Court Hears Argument for New Trial by Lawyer for Bank President.

JUDGE FOUND FRAUD

HIDDEN ASSETS STORY

Deal Had Origin in Social Chats About St. Louis Hotel Corridor.

Argument on a motion for a new trial in the suit of George W. Davis against Hamilton A. Forman and Lawrence A. Browning was heard by Circuit Judge Allen Friday morning. Attorney Chester H. Krum appeared for Forman and Former Judge John A. Blevins for Davis.

This is the suit concerning the sale to Davis of shares of stock in the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City. It was decided in Davis' favor, Jan. 22 last by Judge Douglas, who ordered a cancellation of a note given by Davis and of the sale of the stock.

The principal point on which Judge Judge Krum argued for a new trial was that, according to his contention, the action in submitting the case to the jury on two statements of fact was not in accordonce with the statute which provides that such action shall be taken only "when an issue shall have been made up."

The record of the case shows that the attorney for Davis asked that the case be submitted on an issue of fact, but that the attorneys for Forman and Browning objected. Nevertheless, after the testimony had been heard, Judge Douglas submitted two issues of his own suggestion to the jury. Judge Krum sai dthat this was irregular.

Judge Blevins, in his argument, contended that the decision of Judge Douglas was in accordance wit ithe facts as submitted to the jury.

Judge Allen announced that he would take the case under advisement and allowed 10 days for attorneys to file briefs.

Under the decision Davis was also to get back the $5000 cash he had paid with interest of the $31,000 note, but was to repay all dividends he had received on the stock since it came into his hands in 1902.

Attorney Krum, in his argument for a new trial, commented extensively on the evidence. He called attention to the fact that Davis and Browning, who was a stock holder in the old Fourth National Bank of St. Louis, lived at the same hotel. At Browning's suggestion Davis transferred his account of $10,000 from another bank to the Fourth National. Forman was president of the Fourth National.

The evidence was that the two men, in their social chats about the hotel office, discussed investments and Browning recommended the stock of the Kansas City Bank, in which he said both he and Forman had confidence and both owned blocks of stock.

Davis charges that Browning told him of Forman's previous service as a national bank examiner and said that in that capacity Forman had learned of $1,000,000 hidden assets of the bank, which made the stock exceptionally good.

Got Stock for $360 a Share.

Davis asked where he could get some of this stock. He declares that Browning said he knew of "a Dutchman in South St. Louis that had some," but it would cost $400 a share. A few days later, Davis says, he was summoned to Forman's office, and Forman himself said that, from his knowledge gained as a bank examiner, regarded the stock as very fine, but he did not mention any hidden assets.

This conference resulted in Davis asking for 100 shares and Forman's agreeing to get it for him from A. C. Shellner. Some days after that Davis says Forman sent for him again, handed him a certificate for 100 shares made out in his (Davis's) name, and told him that the stock cost $360 a share or $36,000. Davis paid $5000 down and gave his note for $31,000.

Later, he alleges, he learned that the stock was worth only about $325, and he came to the conclusion that it was not Shellner's, but Forman's and Browning's stock that he had bought.

He was sued on his $31,000 note, and then he brought the suit against Forman and Browning, asking for a cancellation of the sale.

The Court's Opinion.

In his written decision Judge Douglas of the Circuit Court said, in part:

"The Court finds that on Sept. 12, 1902, plaintiff executed and delivered to the Fourth National Bank of St. Louis his promissory note for $31,000, payable on demand, with interest at 5 per cent per annum from date, and that plaintiff deposited or pledged as collateral to secure the payment of said note, 100 shares of the capital stock of the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, Mo., being certificate No. 1494, and that defendant Forman, after the execution of said note by the plaintiff, acquired the same from the Fourth National Bank of the City of St. Louis, for himself and defendant Browning with full knowledge of all the facts herein found by the Court and that defendants became the owner thereof.

"The Court further finds that the plaintiff was induced to execute said note to said Fourth National Bank of St. Louis, by reason of the false and fraudulent representations of the defendants.

"The Court further finds that the purchase by the plaintiff of said 100 shares of stock of the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, and the payment to defendants of the said sum of $5000 in cash, and the payment of said $1000 in cash on Feb. 7, 1903, and the various payments on account of interest as aforesaid, and the execution of said note of $31,000 to the Fourth National Bank of St. Louis, were induced, brought about and procured by defendants by reason of representations made by them and that said defendants conspired together to deceive and defraud the plaintiff by selling him 100 shares of stock owned by them in the said National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, at a price above its value, and that in carrying out said conspiracy or scheme to induce plaintiff to buy said 100 shares of stock, they represented to the plaintiff that they owned some of the capital stock of the National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, which said stock was in a pool and not for sale.

"The Court further finds that the plaintiff was not aware of the facts herein stated, and of the fraud practiced upon him, as stated herein, or that said stock so sold and delivered to him was in fact owned by defendants until Aug. 24, 1905, and that plaintiff upon the discovery of said fraud and deceipt so practiced upon him by defendants, immediately notified and informed them of his intention to rescind said contract of sale to him, of said 100 shares of stock, and demanded of them the return of the consideration paid by him therefor.

THAW JURY GETS 4 DAYS' VACATION

Counsel Will Make Affidavits That Harry Is Able to Advise Them.

TO HEAR DR. HAMILTON

Justice Fitzgerald Probably Will Examine Alienist Employed by Defense.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Thaw jurymen were brought before Justice Fitzgerald in the Supreme Court today and told they need not attend the trial again until next Wednesday morning. In the meantime, Judge Fitzgerald said he would receive affidavits from the defense in answer to the suggestion of District Attorney Jerome that Harry K. Thaw, on trial for the murder of Stanford White, is at the present in a condition of mental unsoundness which makes him incapable of advising his counsel or of understanding the proceedings against him.

Justice Fitzgerald has designated tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock for the defense to present its affidavits in the Clerk's office. He stated today that the District Attorney might have until Monday to make response to the showing of the defense.

Clifford Hartridge of Thaw's counsel stated today that the affidavits to be presented in Thaw's behalf would be made by his attorneys, and the various alienists who have appeared for the defense. These affidavits merely will state that Thaw at present is able to advise his counsel and fully understand the proceedings against him.

"That is all the law requires us to say," said the attorney. "It is not a question as to whether he is of unsound mind at all; the only question at issue is whether or not he understands the proceedings against him. We claim we can produce overwhelming proof that he does. We will also submit documentary evidence—Thaw's own writing."

Family in Courtroom.

When Justice Fitzgerald took his place on the bench today all the members of the Thaw family were seated in the courtroom, and when Harry K. Thaw was called to the bar he seemed surprised and delighted to find them present. They had been excluded ever since the taking of testimony was begun. The prisoner bowed to each member of the family group in turn and they all smiled at his confidently. Of Thaw's counsel, neither Mr. Delmas nor Mr. Gleason was present.

It was generally understood the proceeding was to be but a formal adjournment of court until Justice Fitzgerald had had time to satisfy his conscience as to whether a commission in lunacy shall be ordered. As the court's session was formally opened District Attorney Jerome suggested that the jury be excused until Tuesday morning next. Justice Fitzgerald thought Wednesday would be early enough. He so informed the jurors and they immediately withdrew.

ASKS FOLK TO KILL NEW COURT BILL

City Auditor Dierkes Says Tribunal Is Unnecessary, Could Not Support Itself.

City Auditor Dierkes has written to Gov. Folk asking him to veto the bill providing for a new criminal court, to be known as the "Court of General Sessions," and has prepared figures which he says show that the court could not be made self-supporting and that St. Louis does not need such a court.

Auditor Dierkes says the new court would require an additional expense of at least $15,100 annually, and might reach $20,000, including the salaries of judge, two assistant prosecuting attorneys, a clerk and deputy and the costs of the court.

He says there is not sufficient business for both the Court of Criminal Correction and a Court of General Sessions.

According to his figures, one of the courts would have only two or three cases a day. The Auditor thinks the figures will convince the Governor that a new court is unnecessary and in justice to the taxpayers he asks that the bill be vetoed.

It is generally understood that if the bill becomes a law Judge Orrick Bishop, who was defeated for re-election last November, will be appointed to preside over it. He is a Democrat. As the clerk and deputies and assistant prosecuting attorneys would be selected by officials in St. Louis they would be Republicans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 22.—E. M. Alvord, general superintendent of the M., K. & T., today issued a bulletin requesting section men not to wear red shirts while at work. The explanation is said to be that an engineer did not heed a red signal recently, and, when taken to task, he explained that he mistook the flag for the red shirt of a section man.

JUDGE DEFINES AN INSULT.

Man Who Called Another "a Bunch of Scrubs" Fined.

It is an insult to call a man "a bunch of scrubs" said Judge Tracy in deciding a case in the City Hall Police Court Friday morning. The defendants were Henry Steinhoff, 219 Duchouquette street, a painter, and Daniel Doerr, 2503 South Twelfth street, a barber. They had an argument which ended in a fight, in which Steinhoff was hit on the head with a gaspipe.

Steinhoff testified that Doerr had cursed him. This was denied by Doerr, who said he had merely called the painter "a bunch of scrubs."

Judge Tracy ruled that such an expression was an insult and fined Doerr $10.

Umpire Sheridan Fined.

Umpire Jack Sheridan, who will preside over the first game of the St. Louis Browns this season, was arraigned in the City Hall Police Court Friday morning and fined $3. The fine was suspended pending good behavior. A policeman, who arrested Sheridan, said that he had removed the umpire from a drug store at Sixth and Chestnut streets on complaint of a clerk. Sheridan was drunk, but not noisy, the policeman said.

BURTON OUT OF JAIL WILL TALK FOR PRINCIPLES

Senator Released From Ironton Jail Arrives in St. Louis With Wife.

PLANS A SPEECHMAKING

He Will Go to Abilene, Kan., to Take Charge of a Newspaper.

GIVES OUT STATEMENT

Says He Will Expose Administration Evils Overlooked by Citizens.

Former United States Senator Joseph R. Burton, convicted in the Federal Court in St. Louis of using his office in behalf of the Rialto Grain and Securities Co., a get-rich-quick concern, by appearing before the Postoffice Department, reached St. Louis at noon Friday from Ironton, where he served the six-months' sentence imposed with the exception of time deducted for good behavior. He was also fined $2500.

Senator Burton told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he would talk at Abilene, Kan., next Saturday night, and that until then he did not care to make an extended statement. In this speech, which he says will be in the nature of a friendly chat with neighbors, he will attempt, he says, to right certain wrong impressions about his conviction.

Senator Burton was accompanied by his wife, child and nieces. His imprisonment has made no marked change in his appearance, but he seems more nervous than formerly. No one met him at the station, and after giving out an interview he took a street car to the Southern Hotel, where he will stay while in St. Louis.

An article he wrote in the Ironton Jail, Senator Burton says, will be a complete record of his trial and conviction from his standpoint and a wide discussion of the legislative, executive and judicial functions of the United States Government, particularly as to the way in which they hinge on one another. This relation, he says, is the cause of most of the evils that have arisen.

Explaining this point, he said:

"It is, for instance, highly improper for the President of the United States, an executive official, to have at his disposal 500 positions and the authority to distribute such enormous appropriations. Such a thing was never intended by the men who wrote the Constitution."

Senator Burton left the Ironton Jail at 7 a. m. Friday, and at once took an Iron Mountain train for St. Louis. He entered the Jail Oct. 22 last. He will go from St. Louis to Abilene.

Just before boarding the train at Ironton, press dispatches say, Senator Burton declared that he felt better than before he began his Jail term. As the train started he waved his hand at a small group that had gathered to see him off.

Burton's Signed Statement.

Burton gave out the following signed statement:

"This is the first signed statement I have made for publication since the day I was indicted. The impression has gone out that I propose to live for revenge. This is a mistake. I have no such purpose.

"I shall talk and write. With pen and tongue, I shall stand for policies and principles that, I believe, will make for the general good, and oppose such as I think are bad.

To Conduct Newspaper.

"I shall have charge of a newspaper, unless there is a fraud order issued against it before I can arrange for its publication.

"The history of my casee, already prepared, will appear in serial form, first, in the paper. The story will not be sensational; it will be truthful. Interwoven with the history and a necessary part of it will be a discussion of certain conditions in our legislative, administrative and judicial government that, I think, have escaped the attention of the average citizen.

"The first statement will be made on Saturday evening, to my home people; then there will be more to follow.

"J. R. BURTON."

THREE DAYS BUYING TICKET

Man Had Plenty of Money, but Didn't Know How.

For the past three days the police at Union Station have noticed a stranger walking near the ticket windows, going first to one and then to another, and apparently deeply engrossed in the business of everyone who purchade a ticket and hurried away to catch a train.

As he invariably had his hands clasped behind his back and did not seek to get into conversation with anyone he was not interfered with.

Friday morning the stranger evidently became convinced that the time for him to act had arrived, for he approached Policeman Wardinski, and sought to tell him his troubles.

It was an exceedingly hard task, for although Wardinski is a linguist, speaking seven or eight languages, the words that came from the lips of the man were strange to him.

He got from him the fact that he wanted to go to New York and tiften Wardinski took him to a ticket window, inquiring the fare and wrote on a piece of paper $18.75.

Then a great light dawned upon the stranger. He went into the depths of his trousers' pocket and fished up a roll of bills that made the policeman's eyes bulge out. A $20 bill was separated from the roll and the man was soon in possession of a ticket to the eastern metropolis.

An interpreter learned from the stranger that his name was Joe Porates, that he was an Austrian and had been working in the mines at Leadwood, Mo. He was bound for home, but feared that he had missed the ship on which he intended to take passage for he said he had spent three days in the station trying to find out how to get a ticket to New York.

TWO YOUTHS FINED $890 FOR KILLING MAN

Agreement Is Made Between Prosecuting Attorney and Judge in Fink Case.

ONE CHARGE IS PENDING

If Boys Are Not Good They May Be Tried for Buddemeyer Killing.

JURY IS DISMISSED

Simoon Will Serve Five Months in Jail in Addition to Paying Fine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UNION, Mo., March 22.—Charles Simoon of St. Louis was today sentenced by a jury to serve five months in the Franklin County Jail and pay a fine of $490 for his part in the killing of Walter Robertson, one of the two youths slain in a fight at Washington, Mo., Dec. 8 last. His companion, Walter Fink, whose bullets actually killed Robertson and Otto Buddemeyer, was fined $400 by agreement of the Prosecuting Attorney and the Court.

The jury returned its verdict in Simoon's case this morning, after an all night session.

Charges of murder are still pending against both youths—each is 20 years old—as the result of Buddemeyer's death. As the evidence is the same as that in the Robertson case, it is not anticipated that they will be prosecuted on these charges, but they will be continued on the court docket in order to insure good behavior on the part of the two.

Immediately after the Simoon verdict was returned, the case of Fink Simoon's companion at the time of the double killing, was called. While the autopsy showed that the bullet had caused both deaths, testimony showed that he followed Simoon into the fight and was fighting with and for him.

In view of the light punishment of Simoon, it was decided that it was useless to try Fink on a murder charge. The Prosecuting Attorney agreed to accept a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the fourth degree and to consent to a fine of $400. If the fine is paid, the youth will avoid imprisonment; otherwise he will be confined here for a time with his comrade.

Simoon said that he would not appeal from the verdict, but would serve his sentence, pay his fine and let fire-arms alone in future. He and his mother were highly gratified by the verdict, Fink's father is also here and says that he will try to pay his son's fine and take him back to St. Louis.

Verdict Not a Surprise.

The verdict is not a surprise to those who listened to the stories of the tragedy. It was shown that Simoon went to the Doriot home in Washington to see Ida Stetz, a sister of Mrs. Doriot and his sweetheart. He was accompanied by Walter Fink on the trip from St. Louis. Simoon was armed with a magazine revolver, while Fink had a 45-caliber weapon in his pocket.

Admittance was denied to Simoon and Fink at the Doriot home until the arrival of four or five young men who live in Washington. The door was then opened, and all went into the house, where there was a general fight. Simoon's revolver was discharged once, the bullet going through the doorsill and hurting no one. Fink's revolver was fired twice, one bullet killing Walter Robertson in the house and the other killing Otto Buddemeyer in the yard.

Fink and Simoon then escaped and were at liberty until noon of Dec. 10, when they went to the office of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis, saying they wished to tell their story of the affair and then surrender to the police. The story they told was that they had been attacked at the Doriot home, that they drew their revolvers to frighten their assailants and that in the struggle the weapons were discharged. Fink said that his weapon was taken from him, and was used by one of his assailants. Neither Simoon nor Fink had ever seen the men who were killed before the fight.

The jury stood eight for fourth-degree manslaughter and four for second-degree murder on the first ballot. On the second ballot the vote was 9 to 3, and this morning the three were won over.

The understanding here is that the verdict was brought about by the belief that there was an understanding that the St. Louis youths were to be "done up" if they went to Washington.

Simoon Won Sympathy.

During the trial it was evident that many of the eye-witnesses were friendly to Simoon. Mrs. Doriot and Ida Stetz told of hearing threats against Simoon before his visit to the Doriot home. Other witnesses declared that some of the opposing party were armed, though this was not clearly proven.

Emil Glaser, a rival for the affections of Ida Stetz, was in the Doriot home at the time of the shooting, but was in another room and did not see the fight. Julius Meyer admitted that he was struggling with Simoon during the affair. He said that he heard Simoon tell Fink to "Shoot, and shoot to kill."

Prosecuting Attorney Cole said during the trial he found much difficulty in getting assistance from those who knew about the shooting. Even the relatives of the men who were slain rendered no aid to the prosecution and did not come to Union to see the Prosecuting Attorney until brought her by subpoena.

The case was given to the jury at 6:30 p. m. yesterday. Simoon, who had sat throughout the trial with stolid indifference, broke down and cried as his attorney, Gov. Johnson, referred to the tragic consequences of his love for Ida Stetz. In a few moments he had raised his head and resumed his old attitude.

Simoon gazed with expressionless face at Ida Stetz as she told how she had promised to marry him, but had failed to do so because of her parents' objections. She stated on cross-examination that she [illegible] Simoon to St. Louis against her parents' will and told how Mrs. Louis Doriot, at whose home the shooting occurred, had found her with the aid of the police.

The Court refused to give instructions for first-degree murder, holding that no motive for the shooting had been established by the prosecution.

HANDSHAKE DIDN'T MEAN BETROTHAL

Henry Mangels Says Brother's Widow Never Promised to Wed Him.

WANTED A HOUSEKEEPER

Says He Proposed When She Refused to Go Abroad With Him.

Henry Mangels wanted Mrs. Bernhardine Mangels, his sister-in-law, to go to Europe with him as his housekeeper, he testified Friday in her $40,000 breach of promise suit, and when she refused, he asked her to go as his wife. He says she refused. She says she did not.

Mangels said when he took the stand in Judge Shields' court that he was "going on 67." He admitted that he gave Mrs. Mangels a hat, a dress and a watch and chain while she was his housekeeper and before her husband, Fred Mangels, from whom she was separated, died.

"Didn't you give her a sealskin coat?" Mangels was asked.

"Not to my knowledge," was the reply.

Mrs. Mangels says that Henry proposed marriage to her in 1901, after her husband's death, and that she accepted. He denied. His version is that he told her, if he could sell his business, he wanted to go to Europe and take her along as housekeeper. He says that she agreed, but that when he did sell out in 1904, she told him she did not want to go. He then, he said, asked her to go as his wife, but he denied that she agreed to do this.

The handshake, which Mrs. Mangels said she regarded as a marriage compact, was only an agreement, the witness said, that she would follow him to Germany if he went there.

On cross-examination Mangels was asked if he went out with anybody else than Mrs. Mangels to the Freie Gemeinde, or Free Thinkers' meetings, and replied, "not to my knowledge."

Confronted with a letter to Mrs. Mangels, written from Germany, Oct. 8, 1904, in which Mangels said he could not find a suitable place for a home, he said this was only written to Mrs. Mangels as a prospective housekeeper.

Married Soon After Meeting.

Mangels said he met his present wife in Germany, in January, 1905. He married her in February. He testified that he was worth $60,000 or $60,000.

When Mrs. Mangels was on the stand Thursday afternoon, she testified that a kiss a year was about the average exchanged during Henry Mangel's courtship with her. In a deposition some time ago she said she did not remember that he had ever kissed her, but she had refreshed her memory since then. In reply to a question of Attorney Kortjohn, representing her, she said:

"Yes, sir; he kissed me once or twice."

"When did he kiss you?"

"After we became engaged in 1901."

"Did he ever kiss you after that?"

"That was in 1902. Was that the only time he kissed you between 1901 and 1904?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did he ever address a word of endearment to you?"

"He told me that he dearly loved me, that I was the best woman he ever saw and that he wished he had a wife like me."

Mrs. Mangels testified that she was 49, but she looks much younger. She is stout and has a round face and a small mouth.

"Why Sure," She Said.

"In October, 19—," she testified, "he said to me 'now we are both alone, let's get married,' and I said 'why, sure.' Before that he had given me a silk dress, a sealskin sack and a gold watch and chain. He gave me the gold watch and chain on my birthday. He said as soon as he could sell his business we would go to Europe and get married there. He didn't want to get married here because he was afraid of a housekeeper that he had before me. I was afraid of her, too. She came to the house and scattered powder around in the kitchen. He said he was worth $80,000 or $90,000.

"The first of July, 1904, he sold the business and said: 'Now, let's go to Europe and get married. I told him I would think about it. That night he showed me his will. 'That shows how much I think of you,' he said, 'everything's for you.' I told him he ought not to leave his boys out. He said he knew I was a good woman and would provide for them after he was dead.

"The next day he asked me again, and I said: 'Well, I don't know.' In the evening he asked me if I had thought it over. I told him yes, but I must wait till after the wedding of my daughter, Grace. She was going to be married in October to her cousin, Henry's son, and I had to go with them to another State to get a license.

"So we agreed for him to go on to Europe and me come in October, and then we would be married. We joined hands, and he says: 'Are you a woman of your word?' and I said 'Yes.' And I said 'Are you a man of your word?' and he said 'I am.'

"He said he would leave money with his brother, Claus, for me to come to Europe. I was to start Oct. 17. Oct. 15 I received a letter from him. He said he hadn't been able to find a home for us yet, and for me not to come yet, and he would let me know when to come.

"The next thing I received was an invitation to his wedding to another woman."

Mrs. Mangels, the plaintiff, lives at 1012 Grattan street.

CANDY BILL VETOED.

Mayor Wells Sends Forest Park Measure Back to Council.

Mayor Wells vetoed the bill granting the Blanke-Wenneker Candy Co. exclusive confectionery concessions at Forest Park. It is now up to the Council and House to pass the bill over his head or kill it. The bill will come up for action Friday afternoon, when the Council convenes.

Opponents of the bill say it will be killed by the Council, as it requires a two-thirds majority to pass it over the veto. The bill passed on March 1 by a vote of 8 to 5.

If the Council should pass it over the Mayor's veto then it is believed the bill will become a law, as there was practically no opposition to it when it passed the House.

NAMES HIS SECRETARY.

Congressman Caulfield Appoints Charles H. Duffer.

Congressman Henry S. Caulfield, from the Eleventh Missouri District, has appointed Charles H. Duffer of 3824 Cook avenue to act as his private secretary in Washington.

Mr. Caulfield is at present in Washington. Mr. Duffer is attending to the Congressman's affairs in his St. Louis office in the Lincoln Trust Building.

Mr. Duffer has been employed by various firms in clerical capacities. He also understands the workings of politics, having been active among the Republicans of the Twenty-first Ward.

Hand Crushed in Machine.

William Schultz, aged 22, of 2630 Missouri avenue, an engineer at the Lemp Brewery, will probably lose three fingers of his right hand as a result of an accident which occurred while he was at work Friday morning. His hand caught in the machinery of his engine. The injured member was dressed at the South Side Dispensary.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS TO PLAY FOR MEDALS

There Will Be Two Independent Leagues Under Post-Dispatch Direction, One Public and the Other Parochial, and Championship Games Will Close the Series.

Besides the Public School Baseball League which has already been organized there will be a Parochial School Baseball league, for which the Post-Dispatch will give the same medals and pennants as it has already announced in connection with the Public School League.

These two leagues will play out their schedules independently as the American and National leagues do. At the end of the season there will be a series of championship games between the pennant winners of the Public School and the Parochial School Baseball Leagues, like the series of games between the White Sox and the Cubs at Chicago last year.

Archbishop Glennon was enthusiastic when told of the scheme. He suggested that as the Christian Brothers' College had arranged annual meets for the parochial school boys, the college directors would be able to assist in making the baseball league a success by tendering the use of their grounds and helping to manage and umpire the different games. The athletic directorship of the college was communicated with by the editor of the Public School and Parochial School Baseball Leagues, and they were equally enthusiastic.

BILES CASE JUROR SAID TO BE FIXED

Grand Jury and the Circuit Attorney Investigating Jail Prisoner's Story.

OVERHEARD DEFENDANT

Case Goes to Jury After Conclusion of Expert Testimony on Poison.

Detective Michael Cremin, suspended, has placed evidence before Assistant Circuit Attorney Newton, tending to show that one of the jurors in the case of Arthur C. Biles, charged with the murder of Robert Harvey, has been tampered with. An investigation is being made by the Circuit Attorney's office and the grand jury.

Biles is on trial in Judge Muench's court. Harvey, the dead man, was found unconscious in a vacant lot the night of Nov. 10. He had an injury in his side, which seemed to have been caused by a heavy blow.

Joseph Brown, who was with Harvey and Biles early in the evening, before Harvey was found dying, made a confession, implicating Biles. Brown, who was tried and sentenced several weeks ago, said that knockout drops were administered to Harvey by Biles, and that, in a stupefied condition, Harvey was led to a vacant lot, robbed and kicked in the side by Biles.

Jail Talk Overheard.

The trial of the Biles case was begun Tuesday. Shortly after the jury was sworn in Cremin made his report to Newton. He said a Jail prisoner had overheard a conversation in the Jail between "Tabby" Moran and Biles. Moran had been released from the Jail that day. This prisoner declared that Moran advised Biles to accept a certain man as juror, to which Biles replied, "O, that's all right; he's fixed."

Moran was summoned before the grand jury Wednesday and Thursday, but insisted on his privilege of refusing to answer questions tending to incriminate himself. The matter is still under investigation, however, though the trial has continued without interruption.

Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl, the only witness for the defense, was on the stand from 8 until 11:45 p. m. Thursday at the night session held by Judge Muench. A hypothetical question of 900 words was propounded to him by Attorney John A. Gernez, representing Biles. In reply to this question Dr. Gradwohl said that the coma resulting from uremic alcoholic and opium poisoning and diabetes was identical.

He said that, basing his answer on the hypothetical question, he would say Harvey was suffering either from uremia or alocholism.

On cross-examination, when Newton called his attention to testimony that Harvey had drunk only three pints of beer that day, the doctor admitted that, in that event, he could hardly have been suffering from alcoholism, and the probability was that it was opium poisoning.

Dr. Gradwohl is a graduate of the Washington University Medical School, and has made a special study of texticology at Berlin, Heidelburg and Paris.

No Evidence of Alcoholism.

Dr. Ferdinand Birdmann, who was in charge of the City Hospital reception room the night of Nov. 10, 1906, when Harvey was brought in, testified that the man did not give any evidence of alcoholic poisoning, although repeated tests were applied.

He said that among these tests was pressure on the bone above the eye, which almost invariably produces some response in alcoholic cases. Harvey did not respond to such pressure, nor did he revive sufficiently to be able to tell more than his surname.

Biles did not take the stand and the case was closed.

Judge Muench charged the jury Friday morning, directing their attention particularly to the crime of murder in the first degree. The jury then retired.

REPORTED ROBBERY, HELD.

Servant Now Accused of Plundering Salorgne Goods.

Tony Schmidt, who reported to the police the theft of $300 worth of goods belonging to Mrs. A. Salorgne, for whom he worked, and who gave them an entertaining description of two men suspected of the robbery, is himself under arrest charged with having stolen the missing articles.

He was arrested, the police say, while trying to dispose of some of the goods in a pawnshop, and was found to have pawn tickets for much of the remainder. He denied to the police that he had stolen the articles, but said he had found them wrapped in a bundle and abandoned in the back yard of his employer, at Page and Partridge avenues.

Dr. Day Talks of Unions.

Rev. John W. Day of the Church of the Messiah addressed the Citizens' Industrial Association Thursday night at the Odeon on the subject of union labor. "This association believes in the principles of labor unions," he said, "and has objections to make only when those principles are subverted by selfish or incompetent labor leaders. The boycott is a conspiracy. Industrial education for every boy in the public schools will do much to lessen labor troubles."

Vagrancy Act Invalid.

Judge Muench of the Circuit Court is the second judicial officer to declare invalid clause 1 of the vagrancy act, providing for the arrest of persons having no certain place of abode or no visible means of support. The Judge granted a writ of habeas corpus Friday, releasing from the Workhouse John Burke, sentenced Jan. 7 by Judge Tracy of the City Hall Police Court. A new measure has passed the City Assembly and is now awaiting the action of the Mayor.

TWO ROBBED AND LEFT SENSELESS

"Strongarm" Men Operate Almost Under Eyes of Police in Downtown District.

Two men were robbed almost under the eyes of the police of Central District Thursday night. Both were "strong-armed" and left senseless by their assailants.

Charles B. Carroll, an attendant at St. Luke's Hospital, was dragged by two men into a yard adjoining the saloon of William Doyle, 1000 Market street and choked into insensibility. The robbers took $2 and his overcoat and escaped.

Jefferson de Long, 2000 De Kalb street, was attacked by two men at Broadway and Spruce street. While one of the robbers choked him the other searched his pockets and got $5.55. De Long gave the police a description of his assailants.

FATALITY AT ORPHAN HOME.

Girl of Nine Dies From Burns in Bakery Pit.

The shock of serious burns upon a weak heart caused the death of Louise Stoerger, 9 years old, in the German Evangelical Protestant Orphans' Home, St. Charles Rock road.

She and a playmate were playing near a heap of live coals in a pit at the home's bakery Wednesday, when Louise's skirts became ignited. Frantic with terror, she ran towards the home, the wind fanning the flames to increased violence at every step. Her skirt was burned off and her legs severely burned. She died Thursday. She was the daughter of Philip Stoerger, an East St. Louis grocer.

SHOT RESISTING ARREST.

Policeman Severely Wounds Prisoner in East St. Louis.

Marvin Cookingham, 32 years old, was shot in the left side by Policeman John Stack of East St. Louis at 11:30 a. m. Thursday. Cookingham was taken to St. Mary's Hospital and is in a serious condition, but the physicians think he will recover.

Cookingham, a switchman boarding at 128 South Fourth street, East St. Louis, armed with a revolver, visited a negro settlement near Eighth street and Walnut avenue and terrorized the locality.

Officer Stack, sent to the place, found Cookingham in the home of Mamie Adams, a negress, and arrested him after a fight. Another scuffle followed in the yard, during which Stack disarmed Cookingham. While Stack was calling for the patrol wagon, Cookingham attacked the officer. In the struggle they fell. Stack then fired.

A few days ago the police received a letter from a woman in Salamanca, N. Y., claiming to be Cookingham's wife, asking them to find him. The police had been unable to locate him until his arrest.

Cabanne Place Sale.

A beautiful residence site in the Cabanne district was sold yesterday by the John S. Blake & Bro. Realty Co., to Arthur T. Morey of the Commonwealth Steel Co. The lot is 50x162, on the north side of Bartmer avenue, about 450 feet west of Belt avenue. The lot and those adjoining are fully restricted to high-class residences. It is understood that Mr. Morey will build at an early date. The lot was sold for account of Alfred Matthews.

NEGRESSES LURE AND ROB.

At least 50 men have been robbed by negresses in the Central Police District since the first of the year. The latest victims reported to the police Thursday night.

Frank Curry of Risk, Ill., was lured into a house at 205 Center street and a negress robbed him of $20. The police arrested one woman, but she has not been identified.

Louis Fisher, 1807 South Eleventh street, while in a hallway at 1305 Market street, was robbed of $9 by one of two negresses who engaged him in conversation. Fisher held one of the women, who gave her name to the police as Laura Manaley. Fisher's money was found on the floor.

An Announcement and An Invitation

To the Ladies of St. Louis

IT WILL be our pleasure next week, beginning Monday, to present to you the achievement of two world-famous Parisiennes—Mme. Foulde de Grasse, the painter, and Mme. Margaine La Croix, the modiste who was awarded the Grand Prize at the Paris Exposition for the most artistic creation in gowns. The united geniuses of these two extraordinary leaders in their respective arts made perhaps the most revolutionary advance ever discovered in woman's dress.

The pictures by Mme. Foulde de Grasse, hanging in honor places in the art galleries of Europe and America, and the gowns by Mme. Margaine La Croix for European nobility and the women of America's smartest set, were the precursors of this most artistic product. Working together they seemed "to snatch a grace beyond the reach of art." Unfettered by narrow precedents, and with only their great art as a foundation they evolved and builded a new Corset—a Corset essentially DIFFERENT from any hitherto known—a Corset with all the qualities of true elegance, symmetrical beauty, refined taste and poetic attraction.

Mme. Foulde de Grasse, understanding to a nicety the value of art and its lines, contributed this knowledge and invented the patentable features of the Corset. Mme. Margaine La Croix, as the artistic dressmaker, understood to perfection the construction of a correctly fitting garment. The combination was ideal. It had been the province of one to paint, the other to gown, the world's most charming examples of femininity. Their two arts blended and their achievement was ideal.

Written description cannot do this clever French idea in Corsetry justice. We give you only an anticipatory hint when we tell you that these Corsets—"L' Irresistible" and "The Gossard"—LACE IN FRONT. Instead of endeavoring to describe them we extend a sincere and cordial invitation to come and see for yourself this foundation for a perfect costume at the demonstration which will be given in our Corset Section commencing next Monday morning, under the personal supervision of Miss Farrisee, an expert Corsetiere, the personal representative of the makers.

W. L. DOUGLAS

BEST IN THE WORLD. $3.50 SHOES FOR MEN

Do you wear W.L. Douglas shoes? If not, I believe I can give you good and sufficient reasons why it will pay you to wear them.

I give the wearer the benefit of my thorough and practical knowledge of shoemaking, which has extended over fifty years.

I give the wearer the benefit of my exclusive method of tanning the bottom soles, which makes them more flexible and gives longer wear than any other sole leather produced in this country.

As I am the largest manufacturer of men's fine Hand-Sewed Process shoes in the world, it is necessary for me to purchase leather and other materials in enormous quantities; the benefit of the very low prices I obtain I give to the wearer in superior quality over other makes.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer and are of greater value than any other make.

W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.
I have worn W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes for several years. They have always given satisfaction. I consider them equal to other makes for which I have paid $5 and $6.
A. BEECHER, Pullman Conductor, 4331 Maryland Ave.

These are a few of the reasons why I make and sell more Men's Fine Hand-Sewed Process $3.50 Shoes than any other manufacturer in the world.

$40,000 SAVING TO WORKMEN BY M'KINLEY LINE

Estimated Benefit of Low Rate To and From East Side Plants.

CUT IN COAL ARBITRARY

Many Other Advantages Pointed Out at House of Delegates Hearing.

NINTH ST. OPPOSITION

Question of Signatures to Petition and Legality of Gauge Raised.

Over $40,000 a year will be saved by laboring people alone in travel between St. Louis and Granite City if the McKinley System gets a franchise, according to a statement by C. Porter Johnson, counsel for the St. Louis Electric Terminal Railway (McKinley System), to the Railroad Committee of the House of Delegates at a public hearing at the City Hall Thursday afternoon. The new rate proposed is 5 cents each way.

Estimating from the statistics of traffic into East St. Louis yearly over the McKinley route of 1,485,000 passengers will come to St. Louis from that source.

An arbitrary bridge tariff of 30 cents on coal now charged by the Terminal Association will be eliminated and a mileage basis charged, said Johnson. He also said passengers would be carried on sleeping cars to distant points in Illinois from St. Louis at a lower rate than is now charged for Pullman sleepers alone for the same distance.

Express rates to and from St. Louis will be reduced to a freight rate level and freight rates from the terminals at Salisbury street to points in Illinois and from Illinois to the St. Louis terminals will be reduced 40 per cent according to the statement of Attorney Johnson.

He said the line would open up new territory for St. Louis merchants and manufacturers heretofore held by Chicago.

Mr. Johnson said it now cost more to haul coal from East St. Louis to St. Louis than it did to haul coal from the mines at Danville, Ill., and deliver it to concerns in Chicago.

Validity of Signatures.

The question of the validity of the signatures on the petition and the provision in the bill for a narrow guage were the principal issues raised Thursday afternoon before the Railroad Committee.

No objection was made to the McKinley System entering St. Louis on any other street than North Ninth, while prominent business and professional men appeared in behalf of the measure and urged the committee to make a favorable report as early as possible.

The Railroad Committee of the House of Delegates started at 10 a. m. Friday on a trip over the proposed route within the city limits of St. Louis. They rode in automobiles and were accompanied by representatives of the company and citizens representing those opposed to the bill. Following this inspection tour the committee will return to the City Hall and frame its report to be submitted to the House of Delegates Friday evening.

The House chamber was filled and many were seated in the galleries when the Railroad Committee opened the public hearing on the bill Thursday. Chairman Gazzolo presided and all the members—Nash, Connell, Simmons Metzler, Golden and Conran were present.

J. F. O. Reller, for the North St. Louis Business Men's Association; C. F. Ziebold, for the West St. Louis Business Men's Association; L. D. Kingsland, for the St. Louis Manufacturers' Association; Samuel Bowman, for the Real Estate Exchange; George W. Parker, for the Business Men's League; Charles A. Stix, for the Washington Avenue Retail Dealers' Association; A. B. Barret for the United Free Bridge Committee, urged immediate favorable action.

Attorney Kinealy, representing the opposition, speaking against the petition, said that the name of H. U. Pollman and Fred Sikman signed on the original petition were signed without the authority of the men.

C. C. Crone of North St. Louis, who obtained the signatures, said the signatures were authorized. He said he owned the property of Sikman now and had the authority to sign for Sikman at the time. He also said that Pollman's signature was genuine.

R. D. Smith explained to the committee that the McKinley System would not haul freight on its lines in St. Louis and would haul only light express, as the bill provides. He said his company had made soundings and was ready to begin the erection of a bridge. During the progress of the construction of the bridge it would use a ferry for transportation from St. Louis to Venice. He said the company would give a bond of $100,000 to complete the bridge within five years and would be responsible for all damages to property along its route. He said if the property owners on North Ninth street could prove in court that they were damaged by the road it would readily pay the damages.

2445 WORDS IN HALF HOUR.

Chicago Girl Breaks Typewriter Record Third Time.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Miss Rose L. Fritz, two-time winner of the national championship typewriting contest at the Coliseum last night, won the championship for the third time, winning permanently the silver cup offered and breaking the world's record for copying dictation from shorthand notes. The record she established last night was 2435 words in 30 minutes. This is 200 words better than her last record, which was made a year ago at the contest held at Madison Square Garden, New York.

"LOOKOUT" GAVE WARNING.

Grocery Robbers Scared Away by Proprietor's Wife.

A burglar entering the grocery of John Mollenbock, South Seventh street and Lafayette avenue, was frightened away at 11:20 p. m. Thursday by Mrs. Mollenbock. Mrs. Mollenbock heard a noise in the store, which is below their living apartments, and going to a window she said to a man she saw across the street: "What do you want?" He ran to one of the store windows, warned his partner inside and ran down the street. The second man in fleeing took an opposite direction from the other, who was doubtless his lookout.

Society

Frank X. Delaney, president and treasurer of the Everglades, says it is the general spirit of pleasant social rivalry that keeps up interest in young people's dancing clubs.

The roster of the Everglades is limited to eight members. They have successfully piloted the club over social seas since 1904 with their pennant of white and gold always respectfully saluted by rival organizations.

The membership includes Messrs. Frank X. Delaney, president and treasurer; George E. Brown, secretary; William J. Delaney, William E. Kruger Jr., John H. Pearson, James A. Ryan, William J. Scott and Robert J. Ball.

The club name is one which has appealed to every member and was taken from a favorite waltz. "Down in the Everglades," much in vogue the season the club organized. Four informal dances are given at Westminster Hall during the winter season, which begins in October and closes this year May 24 a "shirt-waist" party—the usual feature of the closing event—will be observed.

The line is drawn very rigidly as to invitations, thus insuring an exclusive and congenial guest list. The members wear attractive club pins of shield and spears carried out in the club colors, with an old English "E" and the year of organization enameled in white. These pins, with the ribbons, make the club members conspicuous when entertaining.

Mr. Will J. Scott is master of ceremonies, and is ably assisted by the other members. Mr. Scott was formerly a member of the Maragold Club and was warmly welcomed by the Everglade enthusiasts who know and appreciated his executive ability.

An understanding of the club members is that they attend to the pleasure and comfort of our guests, see that dancers have partners," said Mr. Scott. "It is usually about No. 10 on the program before we think of our dances. This we arrange that none of the guests will be obliged to sit out a waltz or two-step. The usual expense of a party amounts to about $100. This includes rent, engraved invitations in white and gold decorations and incidentals. This amount is always covered and allows a snug sum to be divided among the members, but a generous reserve is kept in the treasury for current expenses and summer functions. The latter include trolley parties, which are always complimentary to the friends of the club.

"The prosperous financial condition is generally enjoyed by social clubs and is possible as a result of the enthusiastic and hearty co-operation of the members of other clubs, hence the pleasant rivalry," said Mr. Delaney.

The attractive invitations emblazoned with the club emblem and pennant have been issued and announce the next third informal at Westminster Hall Friday evening, April 5, at 8:30 o'clock. Goldman's orchestra, which has been an attractive feature of the parties, will be given a testimonial benefit April 16 at Westminster Hall by the Everglades, and the following well-known dancing clubs: The Black Feather Club, Buckingham Club, Devonshires, Minerva Club, G. A. R.'s, Iris Girls, Usona Club, Colonials and Louisiana Tennis Club.

Among the young girls who attend the parties given by the Everglades are: Misses Emma Kennedy, Alice Fricker, Norma Kobush, Cecilia Hilger, Belle Rino, Lida Rino, Hilda Kennedy, Alma Ramsey, Lelia Grady, Ida Blackburn, Clara Blackburn, Jessie Blackburn, Lillian Russell, Maud Laurenson, Lydia Leuman, Marjorie Hawkins, Aigo Alszewski, May Baker, Blanch King, Fannie Dickson, Louise Herman, Lucille Kroenitzer, Marie Emery, Blanch Snyder, May Rice, Emma Boehm, May L. Delany, Evelyn K. Delany, Rose Locatell, Edna Schnettler.

Mrs. Alfred Clifford of Westmoreland place entertained on Friday afternoon in honor of her prospective daughter-in-law, Miss Judith Hoblitzelle. The marriage of Miss Hoblitzelle and Mr. Arthur Clifford will take place on April 3, cards being already out.

Mrs. Clifford's luncheon was very informal and small, owing to the Lenten season. The round table was trimmed with spring flowers. Among those who enjoyed the luncheon were Miss Hoblitzelle, Miss Streett, Mrs. John Tritle of Kansas City, and Mrs. George Hoblitzelle.

Mrs. Harry S. Wheeler of the Washington Hotel entertained this week with a violet luncheon, followed by "500." After having spent the winter at the Washington Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wheeler and family will soon remove to the Glen Echo Club to spend the summer as they did last season.

St. Louisans at Eureka Springs.

Guests of the Crescent Hotel at Eureka Springs, Ark., including many promnent St. Louisans, gave a pleasant surprise banquet a few evenings ago in honor of the twentieth wedding anniversary of Manager and Mrs. Gillies.

Mrs. Harry Scullin of St. Louis accompanied her father-in-law, Mr. John Scullin, to Eureka Springs last Saturday. Mr. Scullin went on business. Mrs. Scullin has her friend, Mrs. Joseph Perry, with her, and they are contemplating taking a cottage at Eureka for the summer.

Miss Helene Brown of St. Louis is a guest at the Crescent. She is the daughter of A. D. Brown.

Mrs. George W. Fryhofer of Forest Park boulevard is a guest at the Basin Park. Mr. W. E. Morgan and son of St. Louis, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Morgan, who, in company with her mother, is making an extended visit at the Basin Park. Mrs. J. F. Harrington and Mrs. E. Warren of St. Louis are at the Basin Park for a few weeks' stay.

The Crescent's register shows the following St. Louis guests there: George M. Burns, Edgar Rozier, Welton Rozier, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Levis, Miss Tessa Levis, Miss Edna Haas, Mrs. Alden Little and child, Mrs. Rowena Mason, Mrs. L. L. Lynn, Everett Davis, John Scullin, Mrs. Harry Scullin, Mrs. Joseph Perry, Mrs. Charles H. Flack, Miss Bertha Flach, H. C. James, Mrs. D. F. Hulbert, Miss Lillian E. Hulbert, Miss Marie Schlange.

A large number of St. Louisans will arrive at the Crescent April 1, and the real social events of the season will then begin.

Fashionable Thursday Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Rose Pfeiffer and Dr. Samuel E. Newman took place on Thursday evening at 6:30 at the Columbian Club. Five little flower girls preceded the bride. They were the Misses Hortense Lazarus, Rosalind Mayer, Ethel Schlanger, Corinne Fuller and Lucille Frank. They carried baskets of flowers, the little leader with white roses, the second pair, white roses veiling pink roses, and the third pair, white with blue violets. They all wore lingerie frocks of mull and lace.

The bride was served by one maid, Miss Mercedes Maestre, who wore pink chiffon crepe and lace, carrying a shower of pink roses. The bride wore white chiffon satin, with much rose point lace and panels of brocade satin. Her veil was also of point lace held to the back of the hair by a spray of orange blossoms and a pearl crescent. She carried white orchids for her bouquet. Mrs. Pfeiffer wore a Paris gown of black lace appliqued in pearl gray chenille.

Benton S. Oppenheimer of Cincinnati served the bridegroom as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Charles, Julius and Herman Newman, all brothers of the bridegroom; Dr. J. E. Cook, Cyrus Meyer and Louis Mayer.

After a dinner and reception, with dancing, Dr. and Mrs. Newman departed for New York and Old Point Comfort. They will spend two weeks in the East and sail on April 4 for a trip of seven months abroad. They go first to France, then to the Mediterranean, visiting Egypt, Greece and Turkey, and coming home by way of Germany and England next fall.

Palm Beach Social Season Waning.

With the commencement of this week there is marked evidence that the season at Palm Beach is on the wane, as all the reservations on the northbound trains were all taken. Though the arrivals from points south of there and from Havana have been unusually large, yet they fell short of the number of departures.

The attractions of the week were a series of baseball games. Monday night the last cake walk of the season was held, the judges at this event being Senator Chauncy M. Depew of New York, Senator N. B. Scott of West Virginia and Gen. Howard Carroll of New York. The affair was not only well attended, but a very enjoyable event. Senator Depew made the presentation speech to the fortunate negro couple.

Sailing on Lake Worth has been popular and the house boat at the Inlet has been the scene of merry parties. An elaborate birthday dinner party was given there in honor of Dr. Everett N. Huggins of New York, at which occasion Mr. John Kennard of St. Louis, a long time friend of Dr. Huggins, was the toast master. Mr. Kennard will remain at the beach about a week longer and later visit his large orange groves in middle Florida and spend some time at Jacksonville and Savannah before returning to St. Louis.

Mrs. N. L. Philpot of St. Louis, who is a patron at Hotel Palm Beach, has been entertaining her friends with parties and has chaperoned boating jaunts during the week.

Among the late arrivals are John Groves and Fred Harvey, Richard Gentry, Miss Ruth Gentry, Miss Mary Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sidney Smith and Miss Gertrude Smith, all of whom are from Kansas City, and Mr. and Mrs. N. Feldman and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Pierce of St. Louis.

Mrs. Sylvester Scovel of St. Louis, who was at the beach for a stay three weeks ago, with Mrs. B. B. Garland, has returned there with Mrs. Garland from a trip to Havana.

Miss Shannon's Pink Luncheon.

Miss Ella Shannon of Page boulevard entertained her club last week with a pink luncheon. The principal feature of the afternoon was a progressive conjecture game. The dining room was decorated in Killarney roses and throughout the house were daybreak carnations. Miss Shannon was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. E. J. Shannon, and Miss Bess Murnahan. Mrs. Shannon wore black net, while Miss Ella Shannon wore a simple gown of pink embroidered mull, with a corsage bouquet of Killarney roses. Miss Bess Murnane wore lavender silk mull and violets.

Among those present were: Misses Mary Alice Talbot, Anna Hartt, Frances Hogan, Johanne Voegele, Loretta Mooney, Louise Sweeney, Lydia Iborg.

Charity Circle's Euchre Saturday.

The West End Charity Circle will give a six-handed euchre at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Kupferle, 5215 Lindell boulevard, Saturday afternoon. The proceeds will be donated to the St. Louis Society for the Relief of Consumption. There has been a good demand for tickets to the function.

Mr. and Mrs. Kupferle are in Florida, and, during their absence, Mrs. John P. Woods has undertaken to act as hostess, assisted by the president, Mrs. C. A. Garvey, and other members of the circle.

Many Guests at Shamrock Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun, Rittenhouse and George gave a shamrock party March 16. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all in dancing, singing and other amusements. The Misses McCarthy assisted in receiving. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clark, George, Calhoun, Cleary, McCarthy, Rittenhouse; Mmes. Burley, Foley, Johnson; Misses Alma Derring, Kate Feeney, Lillie Crowley, Marme Malsed, Lillie Feeney, Mayme Runzi, Stella Vandaveer, Annie Runzi, Addie Buttenuth, Marie Haney, Bernice Buttenuth, Virginia Haney, Rebecca Hodgens, Della Elsfelder, Inez Burley, Margaret McCarthy, Pearl Rittenhouse, Beulah Rittenhouse, Alice McCarthy; Messrs. Tom Booth, Jesse Novy, Martin Carey, Harry Reed, Walter Miessler, Kenneth Blumeyer, Walter Mellies, Cleland Mitchell, Biese, Archie Strong, Jry George, Al Binder, Pete Powers, Percy Kennedy, George Turton, Dan Haney, George Hodgens, George Cannon, Dan McCarthy, Lawrence Riley, Dale Fetters, Flannery, Lambert, Jas. McConlin, Earl Calhoun, Frank McCarthy.

Personal Mention

Miss Leona Schierloh was guest of honor at a luncheon given Wednesday by Misses Hermine Haag, Lottie Boeck and Iva Hubert.

Mrs. Edward Heitzig of 5217 Vernon avenue has returned from a pleasant trip to Havana and other points in Cuba.

Mrs. A. J. Miller, whose left arm has been injured, has indefinitely postponed her bridge whist party which she expected to hold early in April.

A progressive euchre will be given in St. Leo's Chapel Hall on the afternoon and evening of April 1 for the benefit of St. Leo's new temperance hall. The affair will be managed by the Queen's Daughters of St. Leo's Parish.

Mrs. Charles Cummings and her children arrived home on Thursday after a month's stay in Pass Christian.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius S. Walsh have gone to Hot Springs, Va., after a fortnight in New York.

Mrs. Casper Cole, wife of Lieut. Cole U. S. A., is in the city making a farewell visit to her mother, Mrs. Rose Flanagan of Cabanne. Lieut. Cole is ordered to the Philippines, his transport sailing early in April for a two-years' stay. Miss Adele Flanagan, sister of Mrs. Cole, will accompany her on the trip and will spend an indefinite time in Manila.

Among the guests from other cities who reached St. Louis for the marriage of Miss ose Pfeiffer and Doctor Samuel Newman on Thursday night at the Columbia Club, were Mrs. R. Newman, the bridegroom's mother, from Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. H. Schlanger of Pittsburg, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fletcher of Cincinnati, and Mr. Lillien Jacobs of Parsons, Kan.

The St. Louis Chapter, D. A. R., will hold its regular meeting Friday afternoon at the Hamilton Hotel. Following the program an informal reception will be given for Mrs. John Walker of Virginia, former vice-regent of the State of Missouri, who is guest of her sister, Mrs. John Wilkinson in Kirkwood.

At this meeting Friday Mrs. J. William Williamson, the newly elected regent, will preside for the first time.

Miss Edwina Tutt and Mrs. Willard Bartlett will sing.

The engagement of Miss Eloise Trostle of 4509 Page boulevard to Mr. Adolph Haender of New York has been announced to their friends. The wedding date has not yet been settled.

Mrs. Joseph A. McLaughlin of Kansas City has sent out cards announcing the marriage of her sister, Miss Laira Henry, to Mr. J. W. McGuffin of St. Louis, on Thursday, March 14, in Fort Worth, Texas.

Thomas W. Crouch Jr., who is now in business in New York, and Mr. John Williams are expected to arrive on Friday, to be here for the Crouch-Carter wedding on Wednesday, March 27.

HER ENGAGEMENT IS JUST ANNOUNCED.

The Olive Leaf.

When the dove returned to the ark it brought the olive leaf as a token that the flood had happily passed away and nature had garlanded the earth with verdure. Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound is an assurance of his good will, and it was accepted by the millions as an olive leaf which promised relief from disease. This famous remedy has produced the most satisfactory results in ailments with the following symptoms: Pains in the back, side and under the shoulder blade, constipation, loss of appetite, sour, bloated stomach, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, dizziness, headache, tired feeling in the morning and coated tongue. 30 days' treatment 25c. All druggists.

A Skin of Beauty is a Joy Forever.
DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM, OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash and Skin diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 39 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as least harmful of all skin preparations." For sale by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers in the United States, Canada and Europe.

MADAME YALE'S BEAUTY CULTURE LECTURE

A Matinee for Women and Girls.

Century Theater
Monday, April 1st
At 2:30 P. M.

As an authority on Woman's Beauty and Physical Culture Mme. Yale stands alone in her greatness. Her own physical perfections portray in tones more convincing than words the quality of her remedies and methods—perfect in face, figure and general mannerism, she is an inspiring picture for women to imitate and profit by her example and teachings.

The Yale System

provides for the removal of all blemishes and defects to face or figure that mar beauty. If a woman is too stout or too thin Mme. Yale has exercises and methods for bringing about the desired change. She will tell in her lecture how women and girls may increase in beauty and become physically perfect. In justice to themselves all women should learn the scientific logic of the famous Yale system, the only successful means known of transforming human ugliness into youthful, lasting beauty.

Tickets for Mme. Yale's Lecture good for reserved seats may be had free of charge by applying for them at the Toilet Goods Department of the Wm. Barr Dry Goods Co. The best seats, however, are given those who make a purchase of Madame Yale's Remedies at the time of applying for tickets, amounting to 75 cents or more. In order to obtain choice seats, tickets should be secured early in advance of lecture. Tickets are now ready.

A Brilliant Array of Easter Millinery: Special Values

WE direct your attention to the exquisite Spring Hats exhibited in our Millinery Salon. This is, beyond doubt, the most comprehensive and the most fascinating display ever shown in the city of St. Louis. There are Hats that trace their origin to Paris—Hats that have sprung from the creative minds of master milliners of New York—Hats that stand as conceptions of our own expert milliners. We call especial attention to the Hats illustrated below, which represent three of our most popular groups.

These Are Two of Our Easter Hats at 5.00

AT this price we have a collection of about 75 styles. They are all the newest shapes, on wire frames. They are made of braid, straw, and also Peroxyline, trimmed with the newest silks, maline, quills and other new effects. Each Hat has individuality and character. They are worth $7.50 to $8.50, but are especially priced at 5.00

(Second Floor.)

These Are Two of Our Easter Hats at 8.75

THERE are some 60 styles besides those which we illustrate above. There are many tailored effects, also elaborately trimmed Hats. Every one has that snap, that dash and that swing that characterize the May Co.'s millinery. It would be impossible to duplicate these Hats anywhere for less than $12.50 to $13.50. Especially priced here at 8.75

(Second Floor.)

These Are Two of Our Easter Hats at 12.50

AT this price we have a magnificent assortment of about 50 different styles. These are handmade and Tuscan Pressed Hats, many of them copies of the finest imported models. No two are alike—each one is a picture. They have the appearance of the Hats which sell every day from $20 to $25; especially priced here at 12.50

(Second Floor.)

VICTIMS IDENTIFY TWO PICKPOCKETS

FRANK ("DUTCH") BRESNAHAN.

Sam Rosenblatt of 2264 Madison street, Friday morning positively identified Frank, alias "Dutch" Bresnahan and William Ryan, arrested Thursday night by Detectives Coakley and Byrnes, as two of the three men who attempted to rob him as he was boarding a Spring avenue car at Sixth street and Washington avenue, March 10.

Rosenblatt was carrying a baby and when about to step on the platform of the car he felt a hand in his pocket. As Rosenblatt reached for the hand three men ran out. Rosenblatt says he got a good look at the men and is positive Bresnahan and Ryan are two of them.

Rosenblatt said his brother was with him at the time and also got a good look at the robbers.

Bresnahan was also identified by Harry Parker of 5134 Easton avenue as one of two men who robbed him on a Wellston car Wednesday evening.

Bresnahan is under bond to answer to a charge of picking pockets at a South Broadway show. He begged the police to let him go Thursday night, saying his father had just died, but his plea did him no good.

Ryan, arrested with Bresnahan, is not street, arrested with Bresnahan, is not known to the police. He resisted Detective Coakley, putting up a stiff fight. Ryan has not been identified by any victims of the recent street-car robberies.

Bresnahan gave the name of Hiram Moore when captured Feb. 14, after an exciting chase, on South Broadway. He had in his possession then the purse of Adam Delk of 2125 Bismarck street.

William L. Smith of 2311 Montgomery street, F. W. Clemens of 3351 Gravois avenue and Rudolph Dittmar of 3825 Laclede avenue, all of whom have been robbed by street-car pickpockets recently, will be requested to look at the two prisoners.

FELT PITY FOR RATS.

Crowd Sorry Until It Learned Trap Was Being Singed.

A crowd on Broadway near Chestnut street during the noon hour witnessed what many thought was a flagrant case of cruelty to animals.

A negro came from a clothing store carrying a rat trap, in the front of which was stuffed a large quantity of paper. He set the trap on the curbstone and ignited the paper.

Humane spectators shuddered as the word went round that the negro was burning rats alive.

Some even spoke of calling a policeman to put a stop to what they thought was an act of wanton barbarity.

When the fire burned out the negro with his trap re-entered the clothing store where he is employed. He was seen there a few minutes later.

"Why, no," said he. "I didn't burn any rats. I was just burning out the trap. You have to do that after rats have been in it. If you don't you can't catch any more.

"I found two rats in the trap awhile ago. I killed them in the basement and brought the trap upstairs to singe it out."

The bodies of the rats were shown as evidence of the truth of the negro's statement.

World's Greatest Clothing Store

The Globe, the World's Greatest Clothing Mart

Inaugurates Tomorrow, the Annual

OF

Finest Suits and Topcoats!

A selection to be found nowhere else in St. Louis. Prices that are lower than other stores can afford to take. Why? No high rents on Franklin avenue. The Globe owns its own building; consequently, smaller profits. Why, again? The Globe sells as much clothing as all the other clothing stores here combined. Therefore, bigger wholesale purchases; therefore, price concessions that manufacturers do not give to other stores. Put two and two together. Hundreds of cases of the finest grade Suits and Topcoats made in America have been unpacked in the last few days. Some people have an idea that the Globe does not carry the highest-grade clothing. Don't be foolish! Come over and have a look. The Globe sells more $25 and $30 Suits than $15 ones. Is it worth $5 to $10 to walk a little out of the way? Anything lost, even if you don't buy? Why not investigate a little? Just for fun, let's say! But drop in tomorrow at 7th and Franklin av., anyway.

"BUD DOZIER" NABS COMET BY THE TAIL; THE EARTH IS SAVED

Navigators of Space-Killing Airship From St. Louis While Visiting on Venus, Spy Destroyer and Capture Him by Throwing a Few Shovels of Salt.

BY WILLIE ASCEND.
Balloon Reporter for the Post-Dispatch.
(By Wireless Telephone.)

ABOARD THE BUD DOZIER, IN SPACE, March 22.

WE have just passed through an adventure which makes the wildest flight of the most disordered imagination seem tame and dull. In fact, we have saved the Earth from destruction by the Marchette comet, which we overtook and routed in midspace, about 10,000,000 miles sou'sou'west of the moon.

I suppose I ought to have called you up oftener, but we have been spending a very pleasant time on the planet Venus, and there was nothing particular to report. We might have been leading this idle life still had not Capt. Saturday, the valiant aeronaut of that gallant airship the Bud Dozier caught sight of the comet making straight for our own dear Earth as a bulldog makes for the calf of a tramp's leg.

Capt. Saturday and Prof. Starr at once set themselves to the task of figuring out the comet's orbit. They discovered that on March 20 the comet evaporate all the water in corporation stocks and scatter a great deal of refuse and dirt on the clean streets of St. Louis. At least it would be decidedly uncomfortable to think of our friends, the members of the St. Louis Aero Club, flying around aboard their balloons in the midst of a comet-ridden sky.

Venus' Guns Salute.

The figures of Capt. Saturday and Prof. Starr were audited by the chief accountant of the leading bank of Venus and found to be correct, so we said farewell to our friends in Venus and departed, with every band on the planet discoursing stirring tunes and the guns of the Government forts booming a vast salute.

Of course, the earth has been through many comet scares and nothing ever came of them, and never will, as is well known. But this fact did not lessen our ardor one whit.

Machinist Highball, whose good horse sense has proved invaluable to us many a time in our wonderful flights, made a suggestion that simplified matters a great deal.

"A comet is mostly tail," said he, "now the way to catch anything that flies and has a tail is to put salt on the tail. We must take a couple of sacks of salt with us."

This was a suggestion worthy of Columbus and we provided ourselves with the salt, drawing lots to see who should have the honor of sprinkling it on the comet's tail. I was delighted when that priceless privilege fell to me.

We first ascended a couple of million miles in order to come at the comet from above, so that all we had to do was to descend rapidly when immediately over the monster, sprinkle the salt on the immense fiery tail and victory would be ours. Fortunately, our advance was rendered invisible by an enormous expanse of nebulous matter, which hid our flying airship from the comet's view, for Machinist Highball insists that comets are alive.

Salt Scooped on Its Tail.

Soon we were in the right position to carry out the daring strategy we had planned. We descended with hair-raising rapidity and rested at a point about 750 miles above the unsuspecting comet. The bags of salt were opened and I scooped a shovel full which I poured out. We watch its progress through the air with bated breath. If the comet should wriggle ever so little the salt would not light on the tail and our enterprise might prove to be in vain.

But Providence was with us. The salt went home, striking squarely on the big flat tail of the comet. The effect was startling and instantaneous. The comet stuck its tail between its legs and whined like a whipped dog. It stopped, seemed to look up and whined again. It was cowed utterly.

With a wild shout of delight we went straight for our quarry, describing an arc in our flight and coming around by the nose of the now dejected and downcast monster of the heavens. With great dexterity we threw out a big rope and lassoed the thing and set out again.

This time our destination was the nether regions, already visited by us, where we had seen the red gentleman with the horns and tail, who had a pitchfork for a scepter. It was only a matter of 18,000,000 or 20,000,000 miles and we did that distance in a pretty fashion in about 3 hours and 37 minutes by Capt. Saturday's stop watch.

The comet in the meantime we had in tow, trailing along behind us like an immense lightning bug. When we arrived at the nether world we tied the rope with which we had lassoed the thing to a mountain peak and sought the king of those regions, the red gentleman with the horns.

Burned in Nether Regions.

He seemed much pleased to see us again, greeted us warmly and invited us to make our home with him permanently, which we declined because of the extreme tightness of the lid in those parts. We explained to him that we had captured a vicious comet, which was making for the earth and asked his permission to burn the thing in his furnaces.

"Certainly," said he, "my fuel supply is practically unlimited, but I have no objection whatever to accommodating you gentlemen in this matter. All I ask is that you burn it in one of the regular furnaces and not in the brimstone lakes. I am anxious to keep them chemically pure."

We assured him that his wishes would be respected and he sent a large company of his subjects to assist us in getting the comet into the furnace. Each of these fellows carried a pitchfork, which was stuck into the side of the comet and the monster was thrust bodily into a big roaring furnace, where it was consumed in the twinkling of an eye, while all the imps cheered lustily.

Capt. Saturday delivered a brief address of thanks and said he regretted that he did not have even a watered stock certificate for them to chew for the sake of the moisture. He was roundly applauded and then we started for home.

If we meet with no mishap we will alight on the roof of the Post-Dispatch Building about 10 a. m. Saturday.

COFFEE INVALIDS

Cause of Trouble Often Unsuspected.

A confirmed coffee-drinker who found herself rapidly becoming a chronic invalid and was puzzled as to the cause, consulted her physician, and under his advice was cured without the use of drugs. She writes:

"After 20 years of coffee drinking I suddenly found that I was beginning to have trouble with my heart, palpitations and a smothering sensation, and my occasional sick headaches were becoming an almost daily occurrence.

"I did not suspect that coffee had anything to do with it, and began to take medicines, but kept on drinking coffee.

"Finally my heart trouble and headaches grew so much worse and my nerves became so shattered that any unusual noise would make me jump and shake all over as if I had the ague. Medicines did not help me and I could not do my housework satisfactorily, so I asked my physician if coffee was good for me.

"He at once replied, 'No. I would not advise you to use it.' 'Will Postum hurt me?' I asked. 'Not at all!' was his quick response. 'In fact Postum will be beneficial.'

The doctor was so emphatic, I bought some and had it carefully prepared according to directions on the box. I found the new beverage delicious and refreshing, and the craving for the old kind of coffee disappeared, and I grew very fond of Postum.

"It was but a short time till all my ailments were gone. The heart trouble has vanished, and with it has gone the headaches, my nerves have grown steady and my head clear, I can do my work without distress or fatigue. I hope this will encourage some sick one to take a step in the right direction, and reach 'The Road to Wellville' by giving up the old kind of coffee and using Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

To Hold Annual Communion.

The members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of St. Louis County and the Ladies' Auxiliary will meet in St. Patrick's Church, Sixth and Biddle streets, Sunday morning, for their annual communion. Father Dempsey, the pastor and State Chaplain of the order, is making preparations to entertain 500. The church will be appropriately decorated. Seventy-five men in the uniform of the Hibernian Knights will act as guard of honor.

A Voice From The Stomach

A Bloodless Fight Between a Tablet and a Habit—The Tablet Wins.

At the age of 22 Clarence had good digestion. He had gastric juice that could dissolve doughnuts and turn apple-skins into good corpuscles.

At the age of 24 he began to be profuse about the waist and lean backwards. He also began to cultivate several chins. In his new-found pride he began to think it his duty to gorge himself on everything, the good and the bad, for appetite feeds on appetite—and every good thing is abused.

His picture showed that he took on weight after he put his collar on.

At the age of 26 Clarence married and went to boarding. On top of all this, he attended oyster suppers and wine dinners, which reduced the size of his collar from 16½ to 15. With still abiding faith in the strength of his stomach he gulped his meals, and chewed them afterwards.

At the age of 28 Clarence began to hear an inward voice—a warning from the stomach. After each meal he would feel bloated—and belching became a habit.

He began to be a light eater—and a heavy thinker. He tried to think out a cure, for now he would sit down at his meals absolutely disgusted at the thought or sight of anything to eat.

He would sit down at his meals without the trace of an appetite, just because it was time to eat.

He would often feel a gnawing, unsatisfied "still-hungry" feeling in his stomach, even after he was through eating, whether his meal was well-cooked or not.

And he suffered a good many other things with his stomach that he could not explain, but that made him grouchy, miserable, out-o'-sorts and generally sour on everybody and everything.

Finally he read an account, something like this, about the truly wonderful results obtained from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach trouble, dyspepsia and so on. He bought a 50c box at the drug store, and took the whole box. When he started, he had little faith—and less appetite. When he finished he had absolute faith—and more appetite, and more good cheer. Things began to taste different and better to him.

Now he has no more dyspepsia, no more indigestion, no more loss of appetite, brash, irritation, burning sensation, heartburn, nausea, eructations, bad memory or loss of vim and vigor.

Remember, one ingredient of Stuart's "Dyspepsia Tablets" will digest for you 3000 grains of food, just as it did for Clarence.

This relieves your stomach of the work of digesting until your stomach can get strong and healthy again. Your stomach has been overworked and abused. It's fagged out. It needs a rest.

Let Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work of your stomach. You will be surprised how fine you'll feel after eating and how lusciously good everything will taste to you.

Heed the call of the stomach now! There's a world of good cheer in one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—at any drug store, 50c.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 84 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

HIS WOE LIKE LEAR'S.

Rich Man Gave Daughter All, Died a Pauper.

The death of Isaac Thompson, who, from being one of the most prosperous men in St. Louis County, had been reduced to live in destitution as a county charge in a cabin on Hanley road, repeats the story of King Lear.

Two years ago, when his only daughter married a teacher, he deeded to her all his possessions, consisting of oil lands in Texas, timber lands in Washington, orange groves in Florida and real estate about Tuxedo Park. Soon afterwards he returned to Tuxedo from Santa Barbara, Cal., where his daughter lived, broken in heal and destitute. He never told the cause of the trouble between himself and his daugater. His funeral will be held Friday afternoon at the home of a neighbor.

POLICE PENSION CHANGE.

Funds for Ten and Fifteen Years' Service.

Policemen who have served ten years on the force and wish to retire will receive $250 from the Police Relief Association as the result of an amendment to the constitution of that organization adopted at a meeting of the Executive Committee, Thursday.

By virtue of the same Amendment, those having served 15 years will receive $500 upon retirement from the force, and those having served 20 years will receive $1000. The amendment will be effective Oct. 1. Heretofore provision was made only for patrolmen having served 20 years.

McCulloch Is Commander.

Capt. Robert McCulloch, vice-president and general manager of the United Railways Co., was elected commander of Camp St. Louis, No. 731, United Confederate Veterans, at the annual meeting of the organization. Dr. R. C. Atkinson was elected Lieutenant and A. W. Moise Adjutant. Capt. Lloyd P. Harris of the Loyal Legion was guest of honor at the banquet which followed the meeting. The meeting and the banquet were held at the Planters Hotel Thursday night.

Local Option Plank Missing.

Nothing is said about the Kirkwood local option qustion in the platform adopted Thursday night by the Independent party. The platform deals, in a general way, with the qualifications the party would like to see in the men elected. Leaders of the party had said that a local option plank would be included, and the absence of it caused surprise. The following nominees for Aldermen were chosen: First Ward, George G. Floyd; Second, Cale Pate; Third, Joseph Coulter; Fourth, Stanley D. Pearce.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER

CONSTIPATION

I can tell a person who is constipated on sight. Their complexion is pasty or yellow. Their eyes are dull, and they look and feel sleepy. No wonder they do. The bowels are a sewer. They carry away the poisonous refuse. If they don't act the poisonous matter is absorbed by the body, and headaches, dullness, bad complexion and eventually serious troubles result.

SAMUEL BOOREN.

There is no better rule for good health than that the bowels should move every day at the same hour if possible. Regularity can be acquired by making a habit of this. Foolish people neglect this and when chronic constipation affects them they take pills every few days to force the bowels to perform their natural function. As years go on they require more and more pills. This should be stopped. Cooper's New Discovery will build up the stomach and cause the bowels to act naturally. While taking the medicine get the habit of regularity, then gradually stop taking the medicine.

"For sixteen years I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic constipation. I had frequent headaches and always felt tired and worn out. I heard of Cooper's New Discovery and began its use. After I had finished one bottle I was wonderfully improved. Constipation gave way to a pleasing regularity of the bowels and I ate better, slept better and felt better than I had for months. It is the greatest medicine I have ever known." Samuel Booren, 1742 Munsey Av., Scranton, Pa.

NOW STEPFATHER OF CHILDREN HE BOSSED.

ALEX. M. MELDRUM

ALEXANDER M. MELDRUM, aged 23, whose tendency to "boss" Mrs. Marie C. Letson's children greatly provoked Mrs. Letson's mother-in-law and led to litigation regarding the little ones, now has a right to boss three of them. Mrs. Letson is his wife. They were married Wednesday by Rev. J. W. Cunningham, and returned to 4054 Evans avenue, Mrs. Letson's home, where they will live. The three children who were the cause of the suit are not in Mrs. Letson's custody. She has six in all.

At Mrs. Letson's habeas corpus suit for her little girls, brought against Mrs. Grace Letson-Scully, the mother-in-law testified that after Meldrum became a boarder at their flat, Mrs. Letson became "all wrapped up" in him, and that he "bossed" the children around.

The children in dispute were Grace, 14 years old; Ada, 12, and Naomi, 4. They went to live with their grandmother after she left their mother's home. Mrs. Letson's three sons—Benjamin, 10; George, 8, and Charles, 6—remained with her.

Judge Fisher granted the custody of the girls to Mrs. Letson-Scully. A motion for a change of this order may follow the marriage of the mother.

WEBER'S CLERK HELD FOR THEFTS

Arrest Follows Confession to Comedian That He Robbed Him of $10,000.

HAD PLAYED THE RACES

Hayden Tells of Taking Employer's Funds at Close of Performance.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Wm. J. Hayden, bookkeeper for Joseph M. Weber, the comedian, at his Broadway Music Hall, was arrested by Central Office detectives late last night, charged with grand larceny, and locked up in police headquarters.

The arrest resulted from a confession, the comedian says, Hayden made to him shortly after the curtain was rung down on the final act of "Dream City" and "The Magic Knight," and was as dramatic as any scene ever enacted in melodrama. So surprised was the comedian when his most trusted employe declared he had been systematically robbing him for 18 months that he refused to credit his senses until the bookkeeper, with tears in his eyes, protested that he was telling the truth and begged for clemency.

Mr. Weber always goes to his office over the theater at the end of every performance to look over the box office statement, and he was ascending the stair when Hayden approached and said he had something of importance to tell him. The comedian tried to put him off until today, but the bookkeeper insisted. When they reached the office Mr. Weber saw that the man was laboring under intense excitement and was pale and trembling.

"I've got a confession to make," he blurted out, according to the comedian, "and I want to make it now before I sleep."

"All right," replied the comedian, "go ahead."

"I've stolen between $8000 and $10,000 of your money," Hayden continued, hardly stopping for breath. "I've been stealing for 18 months and I want to make a clean breast of it."

"Stealing from me? Why, you're joking," gasped Mr. Weber. "You couldn't have stolen from me."

"Well, I have," insisted the bookkeeper. "That's just what I've done."

"He then went on to tell me that he had begun by taking small amounts, with which he played the races," said Weber this morning. "He told me just how he did it, but I was so surprised that it isn't quite plain yet. As I understand it, he would take the receipts from the hall, bank part of them, credit all and keep the rest.

"I was utterly dumbfounded. The man had been in my employ three years and I would no more think of his robbing me than I would think of robibng my brother. I was even going to raise his salary, but I see he raised it himself. He played the slow horses, evidently. He knocked the wind completely out of me, but I've got my health yet and that's something to be thankful for."

After the confession Hayden begged for mercy, but Mr. Weber called in detectives and they took Hayden to police headquarters, where he was locked up. Hayden lived at 227 West 116th street with his wife and two children. He told the police that his wife was soon to become a mother and he feared the shock of his arrest would seriously affect her. Before he was employed by Mr. Weber he was bookkeeper for Florenz Ziegfeld Jr., manager of Anna Held.

GAZZOLO FOR CLERK.

Defeated Delegate's Friends Urge Him for Place.

Friends of Andrew Gazzolo Jr., member of the House of Delegates from the Fifteenth Ward, who was defeated for renomination by James J. McFadden, are urging him to become a candidate for Clerk of the House, and it is understood that he will do so.

Friends of Gazzolo and McFadden made a futile effort to have McFadden withdraw and let Gazzolo be named for the House of Delegates. McFadden is a close friend of Senator Kinney.

Stephen A. Martin, present Clerk, has strong support. There are no other candidates so far announced and unless Gazzolo enters, Martin will have no opposition.

Tom Leonard, Assistant Clerk of the House, will be a candidate for re-election, and has no opposition up to the present time. Dan Corbett will be a candidate for re-election as page. It is understood that Sergeant-at-Arms Jeremiah McGrath will seek re-election.

In the Council George Meckler will be a candidate for re-election if the Democrats win. Sergeant-at-Arms Wray will also stand for re-election.

SWORD SWALLOWER ILL.

Mercury From Looking Glasses He Ate the Cause.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 22.—After having swallowed swords, tacks, needles, six penny nails, broken bottles and pieces of looking glass, year after year, to the astonishment of audiences here and abroad, Albertus Pierce, the "human enigma," is in Bellevue to be treated for a pain in his leg.

"My stomach's all right," he said to Dr. Smith, "but my leg bothers me." The surgeon found the bone in his leg was decaying, due, probably, to the poison in the mercury on the backs of the mirrors he had swallowed from time to time, which had settled in his joints.

Pierce said he was half Mexican, half Indian, and had been swallowing all kinds of weird things since he was a child in Pueblo, N. M. Once when he was in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore he said, the doctors X-rayed him and found needles, nails and other pieces of hardware scattered all through his body. A number of tacks had lodged in his stomach lining, and these were removed. After seven months all the junk was got out of him and he resumed his career.

In Baden-Baden, Herr Dr. Pfinger threw up both hands and yelled when he looked through the "human enigma" with the X-ray beams. He asked Pierce to send him his body for the hospital museum after his death.

"How could I?" said Pierce. "He was daffy."

The Bellvue sharps say Pierce's bones will likely all decay, or at best he is good for seven months in his cot.

British Envoy in New York.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Ambassador Bryce and Mrs. Bryce arrived in New York last night from Washington and went to the residence of Joseph H. Choate, where they will be entertained until Tuesday, when Mr. Bryce will go to Canada.

Mr. Choate will give a dinner tonight in honor of the British Ambassador and tomorrow night Mr. Bryce will attend the annual dinner of the Pilgrims. On Monday evening he will attend a banquet in the Union League Club.

Pure Food Banquet Given.

The members of the United Pure Food Committee of St. Louis were entertained at dinner Thursday night by Dr. H. W. Hartscher. In a speech he expressed dissatisfaction with the concessions made in order to get the pure food law passed by the Legislature.

The TERROR of OLD AGE in men is the probable necessity of the cutting out of the prostate gland. Its enlargement causes a difficulty in the passage of the urine, and sets up an inflammation of the bladder, which in turn aggravates the original trouble. Both conditions get worse. The catheter must be used and finally the surgeon must be sought for relief.

SANURY

will so mitigate the condition, cure the inflammation of the bladder and render the urine bland and nutritating as to keep the patient in comfort and able to void the urine in the natural way. The necessity for an operation will be obviated and the catheter may be thrown away. In these troubles no other medicine approaches in efficacy the wonderful remedy Sanury.

BRYAN IS AGAINST FEDERAL CONTROL

Believes That Railroads Should Be Regulated by State Legislatures.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 22.—In his Commoner today, Mr. Bryan argues that State regulation of railroads has proved more effective than Government regulation. He says:

"The discussion of railroad regulations is furnishing a conclusive answer to the charge that the 'states rights' doctrine is a cover for the friends of predatory wealth. The Federal Congress, after a great effort, passed a bill that stopped rebates and enabled the railroads to keep what they had formerly returned in the way of rebates to favored shippers. The railroads weakened the bill as much as possible, and no one knows yet how valuable or valueless the measure will prove. But the State legislatures want to work to lower rates. A number of legislatures enacted 2-cent fare laws and some reduced freight rates. The railroads, instead of accepting these laws, loudly proclaimed that they would ruin the roads, and now, as a result—not of the laws, but of the wild language of the railroad managers—the roads find it difficult to obtain loans for improvements. No wonder the railroads want to get away from State legislatures. The State legislatures are near to the people and quickly respond to public sentiment, while the national Congress is more remote and harder to reach."

Mr. Bryan concludes by saying the states should be protected in all the rights guaranteed them.

SLEW TWO WOMEN IN "SELF DEFENSE"

George Kern Will Tell Why He Killed Mother-in-Law With Wife.

ACCIDENT ALSO PLEADED

Tries to Show That Wife Was Jealous and Demanded Much Money.

Witnesses for the defense continued to give testimony Friday in the case of George Kern, on trial before Judge Williams for killing his divorced wife, Mrs. Mary Lillian Kern, July 14 last. Kern is expected to take the stand in his own behalf. In outlining the theory of the defense at the conclusion of the State's case Thursday, Attorney Harry Walsh stated it would be proved that the shooting was both in the nature of an accident and in self-defense.

The defnse expected to show, he said, that Mrs. Kern took a revolver from a dresser drawer, concealed it in her waist and advanced threateningly upon Kern; that she was shot with this revolver while Kern struggled to get possession of it. He intimated that Mrs. Annie Lutz, mother of Mrs. Kern, who was shot and killed at the same time, was a party to the struggle that ended in the tragedy. The killing of Mrs. Lutz does not figure in the present trial.

Attorney Walsh stated that Kern and his wife quarreled repeatedly during their married life, because she expected him to give her more money than he could afford. He said it would be shown that she tried to obtain money from him after their divorce in December, 1905, and that for this reason she held out promises of a future marriage.

On the night of the shooting, he said, Mrs. Kern made an appointment to meet her former husband in a Chinese restaurant at Sixth and Chestnut streets, in the expectation that she would be able to get money from him. He refused to give her the money, and escorted her to the home of her parents, 3602 North Eleventh street.

On the way home she became mollified, the attorney said, and made an appointment to meet Kern at 8 p. m. When Kern called to keep the appointment, Attorney Walsh said, Mrs. Kern renewed her demand for money, holding a revolver under her waist. The shooting followed, Mrs. Lutz falling across the body of her daughter.

Much Shorter Than She.

Attorney Walsh declared that it was a physical impossibility for Kern, who is 5 feet 7 inches tall, to have shot his wife, who was nearly 6 feet tall and of large frame, in the manner described by the State's witnesses. Kern, during the recital of the shooting by his attorney, displayed emotion for the first time during the trial.

Four women testified Thursday that Mrs. Kern was jealous of her former husband and had threatened his life. Mrs. Annie Owens and her daughter, Mrs. A. Appleton, said that one day shortly before the shooting they were talk to Kern on the sidewalk in front of the Lutz home when Mrs. Kern came out and cursed them, saying that she would kill Kern if she found them with him again.

Mrs. Della Murphy and Mrs. Lillie Smith testified that they heard Mrs. Kern speak jealously to Kern and strike him with her fist.

Statements made by Kern to the police after the shooting were introduced in evidence, after the attorneys had engaged in a tilt over their admissability. Attorney Walsh tried to have the statements stricken out on the ground that they were made under duress.

Walsh said he would disprove the testimony for the State that Kern bought cartridges shortly before the shooting. Mabel Snyder, 14 years old, told of having carried notes between Kern and his wife after they were divorced.

BURNS FATAL TO CHILD.

"Sis" Thompson Dies Two Days After Accident.

The funeral of Eveline Thompson, fondly called "Sis," the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Thompson, living four miles from Dow, Jersey County, Ill., will be held Sunday morning at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Newbern.

She died Thursday evening as the result of burns received while playing near a bonfire in the family yard Wednesday. Her clothes were burned from her body. Her mother was seriously burned in trying to extinguish the flames, and an elder sister, Jessie, and a farm hand, Albert Jones, burned their hands in trying to save the little girl.

AUTO BURSTS, MAN JUMPS.

Chemical Engine Fails to Save Doctor's Machine.

An explosion of Dr. Jules F. Valle's $2000 automobile, followed by a burst of flames, made him jump for his life Thursday afternoon in front of his home, 4955 Maryland avenue.

He was just turning in at his home when the accident occurred. The Fire Department sent a chemical engine, but its stream of fluid seemed to excite the gasoline flames to greater fury. By the time a water hose was directed upon the blaze the machine was a total wreck. Dr. Valle carries $1500 insurance on it.

Princeton Club to Meet.

The thirty-second annual meeting of the Princeton Club of St. Louis will be held at University Club on Tuesday, March 26, at 9 p. m. Dean Andrew F. West will lecture before the St. Louis Archeological Society the same evening, but will go to University Club immediately after the lecture. The business of the club, including the election of officers, will be disposed of before Dean West arrives. This is the first visit of Dean West to St. Louis since he declined the presidency of the Massachusetts School of Technology to remain dean of the Princeton Graduate School.

Three Days to Unload Coal.

Beginning April, according to a decision of the Missouri Railroad Commission, the free time for unloading coal in St. Louis will be increased from 48 to 72 hours. The decision of the commission probably will be contested by the railroads. They contend that the commission has no power to act in the matter, as the coal used in St. Louis originates in Illinois, making the traffic interstate. The commission, in making the ruling, overruled the railroads' objection, holding that the interstate haul ceases when the car is set on unloading track at the place where it is to be delivered.

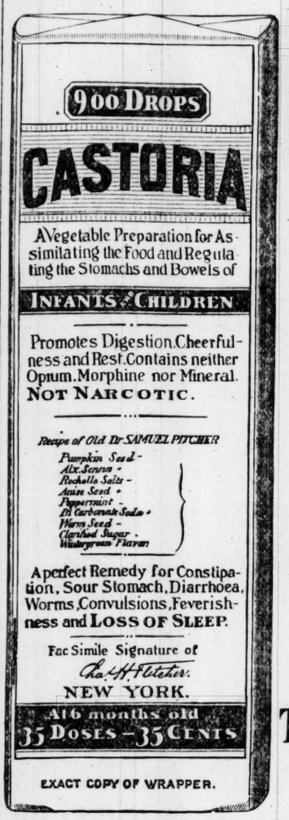

Mrs. Robb's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Caroline C. Robb, aged 83 years, who was a social leader in St. Louis before the war, was held Friday from St. Rose's Church, Goodfellow and Etzel avenues. She died Wednesday at her home, 5646 Von Versen avenue. She was a Chauvin before her marriage to the late Findley Robb, who was a well-known hatter 30 years ago. She leaves two sons, Ben E. Robb and James M. Robb.

A New Baby.

A New Baby! What magic, what mystery, what charm these words have for us. Yet, how infinitely more they mean to the mother. A new life; short, to be sure, but full of possibilities. Some one must be patient, hopeful, watchful, proud and never discouraged. That "some one" is the mother. She has heard her baby's first cry, and whether it be her first or tenth, the feeling is the same. Her feeble arms are out-stretched; those arms that will never desert it as long as the mother shall live. And that hand which supports the head of the new-born babe, the mother's hand, supports the civilization of the world.

Is it any wonder, we ask you, mothers, that with all these responsibilities resting upon your all too weak shoulders, we urge upon you the necessity of selecting the babe's medicine with utmost care; the necessity of protecting your babe from worthless, unknown and narcotic drugs as you would protect it from the fire?

A SIMPLE HOME MIXTURE SAID TO RELIEVE BACKACHE AND KIDNEY TROUBLE. FIX IT YOURSELF.

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here, also bladder trouble and rheumatism.

A local physician stated that pain in the back, loins or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature hangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no alcoholic patent medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, harmless and inexpensive, is known and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This preparation is said to restore the natural function of the kidneys so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, purifying it and relieving rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared, and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful, frequent and other urinary difficulties.

HIT WOMAN WHO TOLD OF DRINKS

Husband's Witness in Divorce Suit Resists Wife With Hatpin.

SPECTATORS IN CIRCLE

One Man Forces Way Through Crowd and Offers Aid to Vanquished.

Circuit Judge Reynolds has under advisement the divorce suit of John Green against Mrs. Annie M. Green, in which Miss Cora Poland, a handsome young Chicago woman, was the chief witness for the plaintiff. After the trial of the suit Thursday, Mrs. Green met Miss Poland on crowded Broadway and attacked her after chasing her half a block. Miss Poland used a hatpin in defending herself, but the wife apparently got the better of the encounter.

The chief testimony against Mrs. Green was that she drank too much beer. Her husband said she drank a case—24 bottles—in a day. Miss Poland's testimony was corroborative, and she told of occasions when she had seen Mrs. Green intoxicated.

The fight occurred at the lunch hour on the east side of Broadway, between Olive and Locust streets. The women met face to face. Miss Poland wore a swagger blue suit and blue gloves to match her eyes, and Mrs. Green wore somber black. As soon as Miss Poland saw Mrs. Green she turned and ran north, with the other in hot pursuit.

Mrs. Green overtook Miss Poland just south of Locust street and made a grab at the hat with the blue plumes. Miss Poland turned and jabbed Mrs. Green on the neck. They clinched. Miss Poland freed her right hand and drew a hatpin from among the plumes. A moment later the clinch was broken.

Ring Around Fighters.

Both women were disheveled, and the crowd that fills Broadway at the lunch hour gathered in a ring to stare at them. Miss Poland had dropped the jacket to her suit, and Mrs. Green picked it up, starting south. Miss Poland followed, expostulating, and took it away from her. There was an exchange of blows, and the women separated.

From a window of the Commonwealth Trust Building C. A. Stevenson, president of a pig iron and coke company bearing his name, saw all this happen. He hurried to the street and overtook Miss Poland as she entered a candy store to straighten out her clothes and features. Stevenson gallantly proffered his card and assured the young woman that if she needed a friend he would be glad to help her in any way he could. He assisted in brushing off Miss Poland's clothes, and lifted his hat as she departed from the store. He didn't ask her name.

Miss Poland hurried around the corner and out Olive street, her eyes on the ground to avoid the curious stares of the lingering crowd.

In a mild way Judge Reynolds touched on Miss Poland's relations with the Green family and her interest in the suit on trial at the conclusion of her testimony before him. He asked if she was a friend of Mrs. Green. She replied that she was a friend of the family. She had testified that she had come to St. Louis from Chicago Thursday morning, but was not asked if she came solely to testify against Mrs. Green.

Miss Poland said she met Mrs. Green in Decatur, Ill., in January, 1901, when she occupied the same building. Mrs. Green, she said, was intoxicated on the rear stair, and she assisted the almost helpless woman to her room.

Subsequently, the Greens moved to St. Louis, and Miss Poland visited them here. Once Mrs. Green and Miss Poland drank together in a wineroom at Fifteenth and Olive streets, Miss Poland said, then separated downtown. The young woman said that when she got home she found Mrs. Green in bed, fully dressed even to her shoes.

Says Wife Was Often Drunk.

On another occasion Mrs. Green drank with men in a Sixth street wineroom, Miss Poland said. Mrs. Green was nearly always drunk around home, she declared. If she didn't have bottled beer in the house she sent out a pitcher and had it filled at the corner. Mr. and Mrs. Green then lived at 1819 North Grand avenue. Mrs. Green would have the pitcher filled about a dozen times a day, and drink it all herself, the witness said.

Green was a model husband, according to Miss Poland. He provided plenty of money and never abused his wife, she said, although Mrs. Green drank and the house was never in order. He is an electrician.

Green testified that his wife drank when they were married, and that he knew it, but that she wasn't so fond of beer then. A grocer was introduced who testified that Mrs. Green ordered 19 cases of beer from him in two months—456 bottles.

Judge Reynolds said he did not know whether this was sufficient cause to throw Mrs. Green friendless on the world, particularly as Green admitted he knew she drank when he married her.

BOY HIT BY AUTO DIES.

Newman Samuel, Driver, Must Testify at Inquest.

Newman Samuel, manager of the South Side Automobile Co., will be required to testify at the Coroner's inquest in the case of Warren Knorumel, aged 10 years, who died Thursday night at the Centenary Hospital from injuries inflicted by Samuel's automobile.

Samuel was arraigned Thursday in the City Hall Police Court, but his case was continued until March 29. It was not thought at first that he was fatally hurt.

The accident occurred at Lindell boulevard and Grand avenue. Samuel says he was coasting his machine well within the speed limit when the boy, who was playing with companions in the street, ran suddenly in his path. Samuel stopped and carried the boy to a drug store, summoned a physician and had him taken to the hospital.

BAD CHECK FOR COAT.

S. A. Wallace Accused of Forgery at St. Charles.

S. A. Wallace of Indiana, who says he is a second cousin of Gen. Lew Wallace, is under arrest in St. Charles, charged with forgery. He presented a check Thursday for $25, said to be worthless, to S. A. Gordon, a clothier, representing himself as a solicitor for J. W. Teasdale & Co. of St. Louis, in payment for a $10 cravenette coat.

Gordon caused the arrest after talking over the telephone with the Teasdale firm, which said Wallace was not employed there and that the check was fraudulent. Wallace is 70 years old.

Saving does not imply being miserly, but just watchfulness against the little leakages in the home expenses. The Mercantile Trust Co., Eighth and Locust streets, pays 3 per cent interest on savings accounts.

To us it seems that the mere statements or claims of quality are too easily made to influence thinking men unless they are sufficiently augmented by reasons to evidence their sincereity.

We do not, as is the usual custom, delegate the selection of the materials to the maker, but choose for ourselves the most worthy imported and domestic loom products. By keeping in touch with noted designers in Paris, London and New York, we are enabled not only to design our own garments in an authentic manner but also to correctly interpret the trend of fashion, and give to our models an individuality not usually encountered in ready-for-service clothes.

The result is quality—quality of design, of fabric, of workmanship, quality which is apparent to you ana to those with whom you come in contact; quality which manifests itself more and more in actual wear, quality which means satisfaction in value received for the price paia.

At either $15 or any price up to $45, you can get in this house a better suit than can be obtained anywhere else at the same price.

SANITARIUM PLANNED FOR THE TREATMENT OF TUBERCULAR CHILDREN

A Sanitarium for the treatment of tubercular children may be erected in the shore of Lake Erie, not far from Cleveland, in the near future, under the direction of the executive committee of the Anti-Tuberculosis League. The committee is relying on J. D. Rockefeller to start the fund for this purpose.

Consumption is a disease much more easily prevented than cured, and it is most essential that it should be checked in its earlier stages. The disease in its incipiency is most often found in apparently insignificant coughs and colds.

Ordinary colds and coughs should never be neglected. There is perhaps no more efficient means of checking a cold quickly than the formula prescribed by a well known authority, as follows: Mix a half ounce Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) with two ounces of Glycerine and a half pint of good whiskey. Use in teaspoonful doses every four hours. The ingredients for this mixture cost little and can be found in any good drug store. Care should be exercised to use only pure ingredients, and to this end it is better to purchase each separately and mix them at home.

Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is put up for dispensing only in half-ounce vials. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case with an engraved wrapper, showing the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure)—guaranteed under Food and Drugs Act of June 30th, 1906, serial number 451, prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, Ohio—plainly printed thereon. The oils sold in bulk and the many rank imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) put out under similar name and style of package are not only ineffective for the purpose, but are often dangerous. It is always well to remember that the object of an imitator is to deceive. There is no known substitute for Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure).

HUNDREDTH MAN OWNS BANK STOCK

"BIG CINCH" IN MINORITY

Market Value of Stocks Represents $160 for Every Person in City.

One out of every hundred persons in St. Louis is an owner of St. Louis bank stock. But you couldn't pick them out on the street. The man with the shiny coat and the baggy trousers is likely to have a big package of dividend payers, while the fellow with the silk hat and tan spats may be on the free lunch route.

A surprising thing about the returns made to the Assessor is that the records show that the so-called "Big Cinch" members have only a very small slice of the bank stock pie.

They own St. Louis bank stocks to the market value of only $19,000,000, a mere bagatelle compared with the $95,000,000 worth in the hands of "the common peepul."

All the holdings are divided among 700 persons scattered throughout the city. The stockholders will not be taxed directly by the city. The banks will pay the taxes and deduct them from the stockholders' dividends.

The returns show that the aggregate capital, surplus and undivided profits of the St. Louis banks is $85,000,000, and that the present market value of the stocks is $112,000,000. If this money were equally divided among the residents of St. Louis there would be exactly $160 for each man, woman and child, on a basis of 700,000 population.

Some Heavy Holdings.

Of the heavy holdings the largest is that of the William H. Thompson estate, whose holdings of bank stocks amount to nearly $3,000,000. The next largest holder is the A. G. Edwards & Sons Brokerage Co., which has bank stocks worth $1,750,000. The American Central Insurance Co. controls about $1,300,000 and the Francis interests the same amount. John Scullin's holdings in the Mercantile Trust Co. are worth $1,200,000.

Among the other large stockholders, in different institutions, are: L. B. Tebbetts, $700,000; Daniel Catlin, $600,000; Festus J. Wade, $500,000; W. K. Bixby, $500,000; H. Clay Pierce, $500,000; Edward Mallinckrodt, $450,000; John A. Scudder, $450,000; Thomas H. West, $450,000; James Campbell, $450,000; H. C. Haarstick, $400,000; R. McK. Jones, $400,000; John N. Drumond, $400,000; Charles H. Huttig, $400,000; D. A. Chaffraix, $375,000; G. Pantaleoni, $375,000; the trustees of the Barnes Hospital, $350,000; Julius S. Walsh, $320,000; Breckinridge Jones, $325,000; William D. Orthwein, $350,000; Edward F. Goltra, $320,000; John A. Holmes, $350,000; John H. Louderman, $275,000; Eben Richards, $300,000; J. C. Van Blarcom, $300,000; John J. O'Fallon, $359,000; James W. Bell, $275,000; William H. Lee, $270,000, and Henry G. Garrels, $170,000.

CAPT. GRIMES TO ASK CONTINUANCE

Slayer of H. B. Hines Explains His Defense and Expects an Acquittal.

Attorneys for Capt. A. C. Grimes expect to obtain a continuance when his case, on the charge of murder, is called next week in the Lincoln County Circuit Court at Troy, Mo.

Capt. Grimes has announced that he will not again prosecute Henry Mitchell, whose second trial, on a charge of attempting to assault the young woman who is now Mrs. Grimes, is set for next week.

Mitchell was convicted at a former term of attempted assault and was sentenced to the Penitentiary. It was discovered that the jury in the case had not been sworn, and this oversight caused the remanding of the case by the Supreme Court for a new trial.

Capt. Grimes and his wife have come to pity Mitchell on account of the latter's wife and children, and both hope that the withdrawal of the charge will cause Mitchell to be freed.

As to his own case, Capt. Grimes expresses confident expectation of a favorable outcome. He said to a Post-Dispatch representative that he would prove, when the case comes to trial, that H. B. Hines, whom he killed, had referred to him in vile terms in ordering Mrs. Grimes and several others out of a pasture where they were nutting.

"He not only said things which were defamatory and unfit for my wife to hear, but he insulted the memory of my mother, more than 30 years dead," said Capt. Grimes.

"Later I warned him against trespassing on my property. When he trespassed in spite of my warning I then took him to account for what he had said of me. I asked him if he was going to apologize for his words to Mrs. Grimes.

"He shouted out that he would not apologize. Then I shot him."

A civil suit brought by Hines' widow was settled out of court, coincidently with the sale of Capt. Grimes' extensive property at Grimes Lake, a fishing resort.

Choose Those New Easter Togs at Famous Saturday From Our Extensive and Richly Equipped Stocks of Men's and Young

MEN'S MAGNIFICENT EASTER APPAREL

And Thus Make Sure of Securing Clothes of Sterling Quality, Up to the Minute in Fashion.

Famous—For thirty-six years acknowledged St. Louis' most reliable clothes store, is better than ever equipped this season to supremely satisfy your most exacting Easter wants. The magnitude of our stocks, by far the largest and best in all St. Louis, the wide range of original and desirable fabric and pattern effects, the authentic style correctness of each garment makes buying at Famous a delight and insures satisfaction to the people.

You can thoroughly rely upon Famous clothes, because each garment that bears our label has been expertly tailored through and through—the hidden and minor details upon which depends much of the shape-retaining properties and continued sightliness of a garment, have had even closer attention than the outward and more conspicuous features—they're clothes of character and tone—clothes of unusual merit—clothes that Famous can conscientiously highly recommend to its patrons.

THIS rich exhibition of artistic Easter Clothes, represents the choicest productions of America's master tailoring craftsmen—all the new and novel effects introduced for service this spring are here in plentiful variety—men and young men of every build and proportion can be accurately fitted.

The decided superiority of Famous values should forcibly impress you—our four-store buying organization, with our remarkable output, enables us jointly to place tremendously large orders, which justifies manufacturers in making us closer prices than smaller concerns can obtain—all of which benefit goes direct to the people in the way of greater values—come Saturday and acquaint yourself with the new Easter Clothes and let us sharply demonstrate the advantages of doing all your trading at Famous.

"JIMMIES" SURE OF WINNING IN THIRD

LATTER BOSS OF WARD

Would-Be Delegate and His Sponsor Tell Why He Appeals to Voters.

THE word has been passed around among the faithful in the Third Ward that James J. Gallagher, familiarly called "Jimmy," the Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates will have a walkover.

The Democrats of the ward facetiously say they are going to use two "Jimmies" to win. One of these is "Jimmy" Gallagher, the candidate, and the other is "Jimmy" Miles, Justice of the Peace and political boss of the ward. Miles is Gallagher's sponsor. He has told Gallagher that it was all over but the shouting. That's enough for Gallagher.

The belief that Gallagher has a walkover is strengthened by the fact that A. H. Gruendler, who was nominated for the House of Delegates by the Republicans has withdrawn from the race. The notice of his withdrawal was filed with the Election Board last Saturday and up to the present the Republican City Central Committee has done nothing in the way of substituting another candidate for Gruendler.

Gruendler thought so little of his chances against Gallagher that he refused to contribute $300 to the Republican campaign fund to help the party in its fight to elect him.

Ward Safely Democratic.

"There's no chance for a Republican in this ward, anyway," says "Jimmy" Miles. "I told Gruendler so. The ward has a normal Democratic majority of 500 out of a total vote of 2640. The total vote used to be about 4500, but factories are taking the places of tenements and there aren't so many voters here now.

"But they have never elected a Republican for anything down here and I don't think they ever will. Gallagher is just a plain young fellow. He was born and raised in the ward and he has lots of friends. I don't seen anything to keep him from winning."

Gallagher himself is equally confident. He isn't doing anything now and his only immediate prospect of employment is a place in the House of Delegates which will yield him a salary of $25 a month. If he is elected he will enter upon the duties of his office unencumbered by views on any public question. He boasts that he is just "one of the boys" in the Third Ward and that he has no idea what the requirements for a delegate are.

Proud of Three Things.

Gallagher is proud of three things which may be said to constitute his platform as an officeseeker.

1. He is popular with the "boys."
2. "Jimmy" Miles is his friend.
3. He is a member of Boilermakers' and Iron Shipworkers and Helpers' Union No. 51.

He isn't working just now because he can't find anything congenial. If anybody told "Jimmy" he was handsome he would be insulted. He is below the medium height and his build is stocky. His hair is sandy and his eyes are blue. His speech is slow and a deep frowning wrinkle between his eyes precedes every statement he makes. He has a morbid fear of jokers.

"They're always trying to put something up on me," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter who had found him after a long search. "I thought it was a gag when they nominated me and I thought they were stringing when they told me I had won at thep rimaries. It's all right, though. I am going to the House of Delegates sure.

"I'm strong with the young fellows in this ward. I was born here 26 years ago and I've lived here ever since. My home now is with my mother at 1401 North Tenth street. I'm a bachelor. I went to St. Patrick's Parochial School and I worked in O'Brien's boiler works. You can't get around things like that. I've got a cinch."

Language Is Picturesque.

Gallagher acknowledges that his education is not complete. His foregathering with "the boys" has developed proficiency in a careless lingo which abounds in "dis" and "dat" and "knowed" and "seen" and similar ungrammatical expressions. When asked why he was so sure of election he said:

"Well, in the first place the ward is Democratic to a cinch. Then I've never done nothing that they can bring against me. I didn't like the boiler-making business because the work was too hard. I got a job in a newspaper office, but I couldn't stand it. That printers' ink stopped up my nose so I couldn't breathe.

"Since then I've been holding office. I was a deputy sheriff under Pat Clarke and I was a deputy marshal under both Scullin and Weinbrenner. When I was in the marshal's office I used to get all of the Health Department subpenas to serve in this ward. I treated everybody right; gave everybody a chance. The way I served subpenas made friends for me all over the ward. Why, they love me up here. Just ask anybody how 'Jimmy' Gallagher stands."

"Jimmy" isn't quite clear as to what he will do if he is elected to the House.

Will Insist on Transfers.

"I was never at one of those meetings," he said. "The only thing like that I ever saw was when I was a clerk for Schoenlaub when he was a Senator at Jefferson City. I didn't do much up there. The clerkships were rich picking. Schoenlaub got out and Kinney got his place and of course I was rolled."

Gallagher has his own ideas on the three-cent street car fare proposition.

"I said I was in favor of that when the Post-Dispatch asked me about it," he said, "but what I want to know is this: Can they make them do it? Can they make them give transfers if they have a three-cent fare? It looks to me that the company is behind this three-cent move. There isn't any law to make them give transfers. If we pass a three-cent fare bill the company can just say, 'All right, we won't give transfers any more.' Then we'll have to pay six cents, or maybe 9 cents, when we want to go anywhere. I won't vote for that three-cent bill unless they make the company give transfers."

The Republican opponent of Gallagher is expected to be Lewis H. Ehrlich of 1708 North Tenth street, a second-hand dealer. It is said that his name will be sent to the Election Commissioners Thursday.

The Socialist nominee for the House in the Third Ward is Dr. A. Kean, a physician, who was born in Prussia and came to America in 1882. He lives at 1109 North Eleventh street.

Fight Over Marbles, 1 Slain.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CROWN POINT, Ind., March 22.—In a battle over a game of marbles, Freddie Weis, 11 years old, struck and killed [illegible] years old, yesterday. [illegible] was struck with clenched hand and landed under the ear of the older boy. The blow broke the lad's neck and death was instantaneous. Both were newsboys.

Will Entertain Hitchcock.

The Commercial Club of St. Louis will give a dinner at the St. Louis Club Saturday night in honor of Ethan Allen Hitchcock, former Secretary of the Interior. The club will elect a secretary at its regular meeting Saturday to succeed the late Charles Gordon Knox, who died at sea on the return trip from Panama.

Holy Week at Old Cathedral.

Elaborate ceremonies will mark the observance of Holy Week at the old Cathedral. The oils to be used in the various parishes throughout the coming year will be consecrated at services on Holy Thursday, March 28, at 9:30 a. m. Archbishop Glennon will officiate. The oils to be blessed include the holy chrism, the oil of catechumens and the oil of the sick. Pontifical high mass will be celebrated after the consecration, with Very Rev. O. J. S. Hoog, vicar-general, as assistant, and Revs. E. J. Shea and H. Nieters as deacons of honor. Rev. Henry Geers will be deacon of the mass, Rev. John R. Morgan subdeacon and Rev. M. S. Brennan master of ceremonies. Rev. J. J. Tannrath of the chancery office will have charge of the

Breaks Up a Cold in Ten Hours

As a usual thing a remedy that has immediate action contains powerful drugs that should be used sparingly. This is one of the reasons why the ordinary tablets that are sold for coughs and colds should not be taken by people with a weak heart, as they have a dangerous stimulating effect.

When Hyomei, however, is breathed quick relief is obtained in a natural way. Its healing medication goes right to the spot where the disease germs are present, at once soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane. The action in this way is similar to spreading a soothing salve upon a burn.

No other medicine for the cure of coughs, colds and bronchial troubles is as rational as Hyomei. Breathing it through the neat pocket inhaler which goes with every outfit, it can be used either in the nose or mouth, thus getting full medication into the nasal passages or the throat and lungs, as desired. It gives almost instant relief in all affections of the bronchial tubes, and is guaranteed to break up a cold in ten hours.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a bottle of Hyomei, an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and a medicine dropper, costs but one dollar, with a guarantee that if it does not give satisfaction the money will be refunded.

Should extra bottles of Hyomei be needed they can be obtained for only 50c; the inhaler lasts a life-time.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei, or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unles it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. Booth's Hyomei Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Weak Lungs

its cod liver oil elements heal and strengthen the lungs.

Many people inherit weak lungs which are likely to be attacked by consumption. So also are lungs weakened by disease or by a stubborn hacking cough.

No matter what the cause Vinol strengthens weak lungs and gives one the power to throw off wasting diseases.

The reason that Vinol has such power to heal and strengthen is because it contains in a highly concentrated form all of the curative, medicinal and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

Every person in St. Louis suffering from weak lungs, stubborn hacking coughs or any wasting disease should try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in St. Louis, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

H. CLAY EWING DIES AT CAPITAL

Former Attorney-General Was Dominant Figure in Democratic Politics.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 22.—H. Clay Ewing, Attorney-General of Missouri from 1872 until 1874 and member of the celebrated Ewing family, which practically dominated the State for many years through its control of Democratic politics, died at his home in Jefferson City today. He was 79 years old.

Gen. Ewing had been in feeble health for several months and his death was due to infirmities that came with his advanced years. Gen. Ewing has spent his entire life in Jefferson City, having been born here Aug. 15, 1828. He represented Cole County in the Legislature one term and was also a Supreme Court Commissioner, a position amounting to that of Supreme Judge. When Attorney-General Gen. Ewing conducted the celebrated suit to set aside the questionable sale of the Missouri Pacific Railroad property, made by the State during the administration of Gov. Fletcher.

Gen. Ewing's wife, who died a year ago, was a niece of Gen. Sterling Price. Gen. Ewing was one of the organizers of the Exchange Bank of Jefferson City, of which he was president at the time of his death.

Salvation Army Warns.

The following notice has been sent out by Lieutenant-Colonel J. C. Addie and Brigadier George Wood of the Salvation Army: "Some of our subscribers have called our attention to the fact that certain persons calling themselves the 'American Salvation Army,' have just appeared in the city and are sending around appeals for a Young Women's Home, etc. In justice to our friends who have helped us in the past, and to ourselves, we feel it right that we should give publicity to the fact that we have issued no such an appeal and that these people have no connection whatever with the Salvation Army (incorporated). All solicitors for the Salvation Army bear an official authorization card signed by Lieutenant-Colonel J. C. Addie and Brigadier George Wood, and our headquarters are situated at Ninth and Market streetse."

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

South Dakota—Generally fair Friday night and Saturday; warmer Friday night.

With less water in the railroads and more in the rivers, we may have solid prosperity.

The warm spell may not be due to the tail of the comet, but to the hot air of the scientists discussing it.

What is uppermost in Gov. Folk's mind is shown by the fact that two out of eight recommendations for the special Legislature session relate to saloons.

A CHANCE FOR GOOD CITIZENS.

In some of the wards of the City the candidates for the Houses of Delegates of both the Republican and Democratic parties are unworthy of the support of good citizens. Monopoly interests through their political allies in both parties have fixed the tickets so that they will win no matter which candidate of the two leading parties is elected.

The question arises, what are good citizens, in these wards where both the Republican and Democratic candidates are bad, to do? Shall the fight against corrupt politics and an untrustworthy House of Delegates be abandoned? Shall the victory go to the "Big Cinch" and its political bosses by default?

There is a third party ticket. The Socialists have a complete ticket in the field, upon which there are some good men—reliable and responsible citizens and taxpayers. The Post-Dispatch has no sympathy with State Socialism as a political propaganda. That issue does not concern St. Louis as a municipality. The only point where the municipal issues touch any form of socialism is the question of municipal ownership, and municipal ownership of public utilities is indorsed by both the Republican and Democratic organizations. So that Socialists in this respect are no worse than Republicans or Democrats.

The vital questions to be passed upon concern the interests of the plain people as opposed to the interests of public service corporations, and the ordinary business problems of the municipality involving public improvements and public work. For the right determination of these questions honest citizens are needed in the Municipal Assembly.

The principle in Municipal elections for which the Post-Dispatch stands and has stood, and in harmony with which independent citizens have cast their votes, is the election of honest men regardless of party affiliations. The Democratic Council ticket offers the oportunity to elect good men of standing and character to the Council. By voting for the Socialist candidates for the House of Delegates in wards where the Socialists present honest, reliable, competent men, and where the candidates of the other parties are untrustworthy, voters can assure a fairly reliable House of Delegates. Good citizens may vote for Socialistic candidates under the existing conditions not because they are Socialists but rather in spite of the fact that they are Socialists, because they are honest men. Better an honest Socialist in the Municipal Assembly than an untrustworthy Republican or Democrat.

The military doings at Jamestown will be incomplete without our Battery A.

"PARANOIA" AND "WICKEDNESS."

The ending of the Thaw case in the appointment of a lunacy commission may impress some with the belief that this result was anticipated by the prosecution from the beginning and that all the proceedings on the part of the prosecution, supposably intended to force the defendant into the electric chair, were what lawyers call "ad captandum."

This is a special phrase needed both in law and politics to define confidentially to experts on the inside what they purpose to conceal from the public—the fact that their strenuous exhibitions of zeal, indignation or other forms of high-pitched professional emotion are devices of the profession, which, like the desperate sword combats on the stage, are carried on for the benefit of the public by those who know exactly from the beginning of the play what the end will be.

While this suggests itself inevitably to those who have followed the case, it may be true on the other hand that the prosecution has been fully determined from the beginning until it changed its mind on the evidence, that at least one representative of the irresponsibility of reckless millions should be held to the same account for insane crimes resulting from his irresponsible habits, as if he were a common criminal with the same habits.

This may be true, but however it is in fact, the Lunacy Commission is called for after the evidence of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton that the defendant is a "paranoiac" suffering from a form of insanity in which there are only about two cases of recovery in the hundred.

This may be true, for as he defines "paranoia" it is a fixed and controlling habit of what in ancient writings before the meaning of simple English words was concealed by experts with words of Greek coinages was described as "wickedness."

Unquestionably "paranoia" runs through this case as it did through the Guiteau case, where it had developed into uncontrollable insanity. But under the definitions given by Dr. Hamilton, every "boodler," "embezzler," "grafter," bribegiver and bribetaker and every criminal whose irresponsible life finally develops into open lawbreaking is also a "paranoiac," and the object of law is to keep paranoia confined either within the limits of reason and decency or within actual walls and behind bars.

The asylum for the criminally insane may be the best place for the defendant in the Thaw case, if he is actually to be sent there and kept there. But the final question in the case is of whether, if sent there, his is to become one of the two cases in the hundred of "patients" for whom as they enter asylums from the courts, the asylums are only convenient way stations on the road to liberation and escape from law.

Gov. Folk might to the advantage of the State take a leaf out of the reform book of President Roosevelt and Gov. Deneen, of Illinois, concerning the issuing of stocks and bonds by public service corporations. A law providing that no public service corporation shall issue more stocks or bonds than are needful for actual construction, improvement or equipment, and all proposals for the issue of securities shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, with a sworn statement of the objects to which the proceeds shall be devoted, under suitable penalties for violation of law and oath would be an effectual check on overcapitalization. Then when the water is squeezed out of the existing public service corporations we would be on a permanent solid basis.

NO NEED TO FEAR THE COMET.

The scare which some people are feeling in regard to the comet is absurd. There is no need to fear, for the following reasons:

The earth is enormously heavier than the portion of the comet with which we might collide. It would be like a locomotive running into a fog bank.

The earth is spinning at the rate of 1000 miles an hour. It is like a huge, heavy top. In comparison with it, the comet may be compared to a vast cloud of gas or very fine dust, with a lot of the cloud streaming out behind, or sometimes in front, like a woman's hair.

Try and bombard a big heavy spinning top with a cloud of dust. What happens? The top goes on spinning. The dust is violently thrown off to one side.

This is precisely what would happen to the comet if it should attempt to collide with the earth. It would be repelled by the rush of our revolution long before it could come in contact with us.

And the fact that the comet may be composed of fiery material need not alarm anyone. It is by no means certain that comets are actually hot. A mass of hazy matter extending for millions of miles, as a comet does, needs only to be phosphorescent in order to be visible. It may not even be warm.

But whether hot or cold, it can hardly do us any harm. In 1861, says Father Brennan in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, we were buried in the tail of a comet 300,000 miles. "And there was not the slightest thing by which anybody could know that it happened. There was not even a haze."

We rushed through that comet's tail unharmed, because our globe is covered with a big cushion of air, which is much denser than a comet's tail and probably denser than its head. You can see a fifth-magnitude star through a comet's head. But you cannot often see a first-magnitude star through the St. Louis atmosphere. It is probable that a St. Louis smoke cloud could "put out of business" the best sort of comet that "ever happened."

The Kentucky courts have done the whole country a service in declaring the Kentucky gerrymander unconstitutional. Everywhere the gerrymander should be wiped out. It is an infamous scheme, which has been long practiced by both parties.

THE CENTRAL FACTS.

This is a great country and Mr. E. H. Harriman knows it. He knows also that it is going to be greater and that soon.

"There is much left to be developed," he tells us. "Towns are growing up like magic and the people are toiling like Aladdin-lamp genii. The railroads are not overcapitalized for the country and its capabilities."

These are not mere rhetorical tropes and metaphors.

They are solid facts. They will become more and more solid. The magic of growth will continue. The railroads will continue with it. They will go forward as the country goes forward.

It is also a fact that now at this present writing they are "not overcapitalized for the country and its capabilities."

On the contrary they are undercapitalized on that basis. There will be room on that basis for another hundred million or so in fresh and beautiful new paper capital in the next month.

But what is it Mr. Harriman proposes to capitalize, the railroads or the people who are "toiling like Aladdin-lamp genii?" Does he think capital stock ought to be based on investment or on "the country and its capabilities?"

With the extra session postponed to April 9, the Governor will have more time to fish.

SUFFRAGETTE AND CIGARETTE.

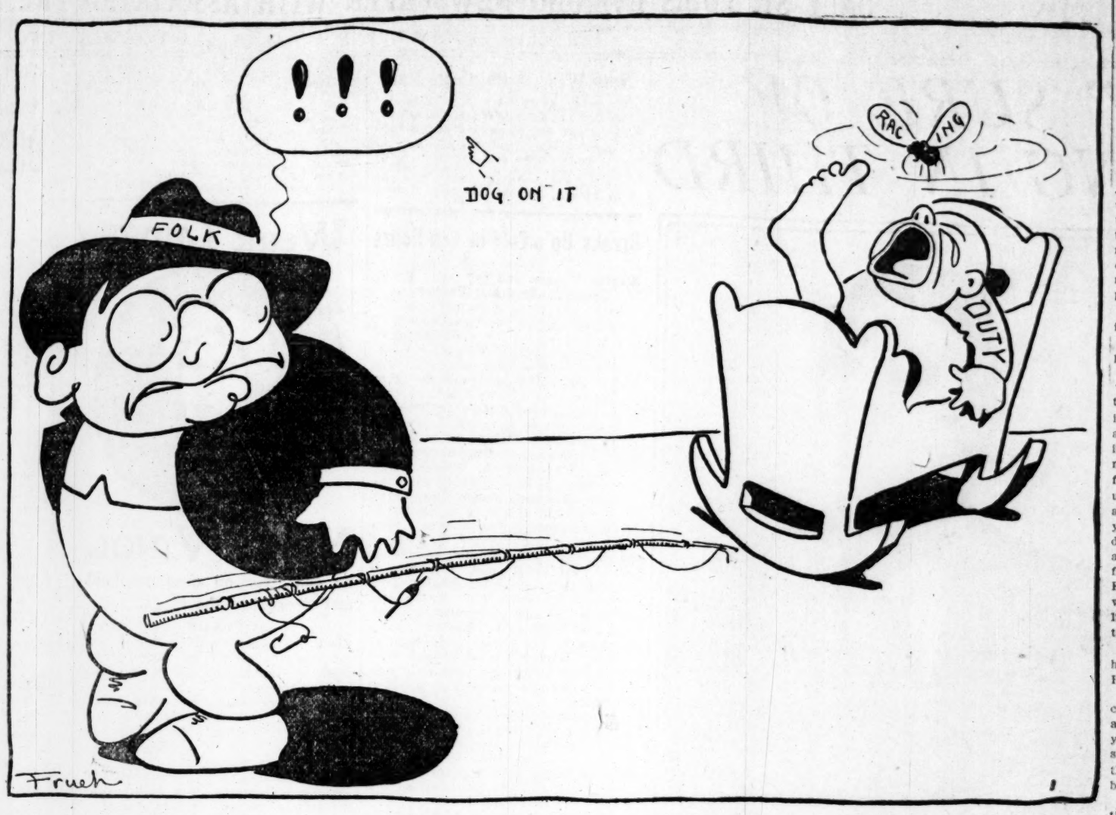

Between suffragette and cigarette, there is plenty of war news. The suffragette is making a storm center of the British House of Commons and the cigarette is at least under indictment for having made a storm center of the young American's brain.

At any rate, the storm raged in both places last week. In England, where woman wants the ballot and will not be ladylike until she gets it, the event of the week was the attempt of an "organized mob" of women suffragists, whatever that is, to trample down the cordon of "beefeaters" and beard the House of Commons in its own den. In St. Louis the event of the same period was the attempt of a boy whose cigarette record is said to be only 17 per day, to kill his father because that hard-hearted parent refused to give him money with which to buy more cigarettes. In both instances the denial was more than frail human nature could bear, and it began, figuratively speaking, to shoot up the base world in which we suffer such deprivation.

Neither the English woman nor the American boy shows any disposition to smoke the pipe of peace.

CIVIC SUGGESTIONS.

If Mr. John I. Beggs were I,
And I, in turn, were he,
And I had in my hollow hand
This great community
As Mr. Beggs has, what a place
To live in it would be—
If Mr. John I Beggs were I,
And I, in turn, were he.

I'd shut up things on Saturdays
And bid the people run
And play in whatso pleasant ways
Appeal to them for fun.
I'd have by night a round, full moon,
By day a smiling sky—
If I were John I. Beggs, and he,
In turn about, were I.

I'd never let it storm, nor would
I stand for summer heat,
But always keep the weather bluffed
And cowered at my feet.
I'd make the winds quit varying
With whim and wild unrest,
And settle down to blowing us
Cool breezes from the west.

I'd have the stars come closer in
And to the earth be pals,
And order Mars come nearer us
And show us the canals.
And I would leave Milwaukee, too,
And live here for the fun
Of seeing to it on the scene
That all these things were done.

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.
Don't sell your overcoat.

Another Sign of Spring.

It is one of the mysteries of life that nothing ever happens while one is passing a game of baseball on a train or a car. Usually the ball is out of play. Somebody starts for it and falls down. Finally, he gets up and throws it to the pitcher. The pitcher reaches for it, and falls down, the ball rolling some place where there is no one to pick it up. The pitcher refuses to go after it, and they seem to be ragging when—the scene passes from sight.

If Mr. Rockefeller's fifty million will only induce Chinese of the male persuasion to wear pants, it will have given civilization an entering wedge.

The blind student who "reads law by a lady tutor's eyes" is not introducing so much of an innovation. Many a man has read law in his wife's eyes.

The enforcement of the automobile speed law and the disappearance of struck-by-an-auto news from the papers, is perhaps only a local coincidence.

ANSWERS.

KIRKWOOD—You have a perfect right to make a garden in your front yard. If your neighbors bother you again, assert your right, and if they do not desist, assert your right and left both.

LET'S DO IT.

O, it would be a mercy if Someone would make a law
With penalty of hanging if
One even mentioned Thaw.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

Written for the Post Dispatch
By WALDO PONDRAY WARREN.

WHERE THE TROUBLE LIES.

HARD problems often have an easy solution—when you know just where the trouble lies. I remember one cold winter morning, some years ago, I was passing a grocery store and saw a number of people waiting to get in. The man was there to open the door, but the key wouldn't work. With the help of a policeman and one or two of the other men he was trying to force the lock. I joined the crowd for a few moments. One man asked to see the key. He reasoned that if the key had always worked before it should work now unless there was something wrong with it. Looking down the little hole in the end, he found a small pebble, which kept the key from going all the way in. Picking out the pebble, he put the key in the lock, and opened the door readily.

I have often thought of this experience when confronted by perplexing problems. And many a time I have found that what at first seemed a difficult problem was instantly solved—when I found the pebble in the key.

Somewhere, in every problem, there is a place where the trouble lies. We do not make any progress until we find that spot and remove the obstruction. All other effort is wasted. We gain nothing by trying to force the lock. The thing to do is to find the pebble in the key.

GOSSIP ABOUT GIRLS

Written for the Post-Dispatch
BY GERTRUDE BARNUM

THE LONG-FACED GIRL.

YOU know the long-faced girl?

I met her the other morning. There was a blockade of cars, and she and I were walking down to work.

Presently a jolly-faced boy came driving a bakery wagon down the street and I hailed him as though he were a street car.

"We're late," I said, "and cold. Will you give us a lift downtown?"

"Sure thing," said the boy, grinning widely.

The long-faced girl wouldn't climb up into the wagon, so I drove off alone with my new friend. As we rattled gayly along toward my office we told each other the story of our lives. The last chapter of the baker boy's life would have taught the long-faced girl a lesson.

"I get up at 1 o'clock of a winter morning," he said, "to get fresh rolls to all the customers for breakfast."

"B-r-r-r-r!" I shuddered. "Aren't you most frozen?"

"I've been warmer," he said with a laugh. "I'll chuck this job as soon as I get a better one."

"I need an office boy," I said. "Will you take the place?"

"Me for the steam heat!" he said without a moment's hesitation. "When do I come?"

While the long-faced girl was glumly tramping through the cold the broad-faced boy was smiling his way into a "warm corner."

If working girls have spirit enough they can help to change even their working conditions by "looking pleasant." A group of smiling girls can win concessions from almost any employer. The larger the group, of course, the better—the composite smile is almost irresistible.

People will pay for cheerfulness. They may not realize that they are being hypnotized, but just watch the colored porter of the Pullman car show his teeth and pocket his tips!

When we are really civilized we will provide asylums and lock up all the long of face. They are more dangerous to society than ordinary thugs; they knock the stiffness out of our backbones.

If ill-fortune overtakes us there is just one of two things to be done: We must either bear it or better it. If it has got to be borne, it may as well be borne cheerfully; but generally trouble may be lightened.

Let the long-faced girl tramp alone with her grievance if she will. As for me, I choose the wagon and the smiling company.

ODDEST STRIKE ON RECORD.

From the New York World.

ODD as the London music hall strike may seem, there is an even odder one in Switzerland, in the canton of Geneva. Some parts of the canton are infested with vipers, so much so that viper-killing is a regular calling and is followed by a considerable number of persons. A reward of 20 cents for every viper killed used to be given by the Department of Justice and Police, which has these reptiles in charge, but lately the department lowered the reward to 10 cents. But the viper-killers objected, as they truly said that their calling had got no less dangerous, and so they went out on strike. As long as the dispute lasts people are advised not to walk in the woods near Geneva.

Salary for Delegates.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I think it is advisable to vote that a delegate in the lower House shall have a fixed salary of $3000 per annum, so they can come to the front with clean linen, answer all legitimate questions and do the right thing by all taxpayers. CITIZEN.

Railroad Rates.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

What would become of us good-natured Americans if we all viewed the regulation of passenger rates as does Mr. J. R. Holt? I believe we can all agree with him that nothing has contributed more to the country's good than the railroads; but who produced the material and built the railroads? Was it those who derive the most benefit? No! It was the general public or those who patronize the railroads directly or indirectly. That being true, who is more qualified or competent to regulate railroad rates than those who built and maintain them? Mr. Holt also says it is confiscation for legislatures to reduce the fares. I suppose it isn't confiscation for the railroads to fleece the public. T.

Criminal Courts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

As a taxpayer and member of the St. Louis bar, I should like to have investigated the amount of work done by the criminal divisions of St. Louis courts. The Circuit Attorney has been given three more assistants. The truth of the matter is Mr. Sager has so many assistants now that they are actually falling over each other for want of work. The St. Louis Court of Criminal Correction now no longer conducts preliminary examinations for felonies, and hence has much time on its hands. Its sessions at present are seldom longer than three hours per day. And yet, in face of these facts, the Legislature has just passed an act which gives St. Louis another Criminal Court. The Governor should insist that the Court of Criminal Correction be first abolished. The truth of the matter is that even a so-called Clerk of Criminal Division of our Circuit Court is absolutely unnecessary. Why could the Circuit Clerk through deputies not perform the work of the Criminal Division? It would save the city from $5000 to $8000 annually. The abolishment of the Court of Criminal Correction would save taxpayers an item of about twenty thousand dollars annually. TAXPAYER.

Rental Rates.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I notice in the Post-Dispatch a plea of a landlord about his high taxes. Your paper is fair and above suspicion, a la Caesar's immaculate spouse; why do you not print the pleas of the "tax" ridden tenants? This class, especially the laborer and the mechanic not protected by a union, work for an average mediocre wage. Take at random from your columns property advertised for sale, tenements, flats, etc., with the price and rental given and you will find it in every instance above 12 per cent per annum. This demand in these times of cheap money is just cruel larceny.

W. D. KING.

Working Girls' Home.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read with approval the article on "Solving the Social Problem" and the true and noble-hearted work of Mrs. West of the Gospel Rest Rooms, which appeared in the Monday's issue of your paper. All the work outlined in the article was, indeed, Christlike in its design, especially the work of Father Dunne in his Newsboys' home; but why can't some noble person organize a home for the betterment of the welfare of the working girl? I am a working girl earning the pittance of $4.50 a week and out of this must come $1.25 per week for room rent, besides car fare, eating and clothes, so what is left for recreations? I am 17 years of age and have been living this way for three years. I am without home, friends, church influence and encouragement of any kind. All the pleasure I see is within the four walls of a poorly furnished room after working eleven hours.

DOROTHY COLFAX.

Gravois Avenue Widening.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Board of Public Improvement has a plan under consideration to widen Gravois avenue from Grand avenue to city limits from sixty to a hundred feet. I don't know why they come on this plan now, as I think a year ago they could have made it for less money. How much will they ask on Grand and Gravois for the corners now? Furthermore, who shall pay for the long fronts of the cemeteries? They are free from all taxes. For many of the new lot buyers in the new subdivisions on Gravois avenue it would be confiscation of their homestead. Is a widening of 100 feet necessary? It would be better to keep the 60 feet street in good order.

GEORGE BULLMER.

JANITOR HOGAN

He Points Out to the Fireman the Difference Between Being a Philanthropist and a Plain Giver.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.
BY GRATTAN KERANS.

"'TWILL soon be a pleasure fer to be poor," said Janitor Hogan, pausing in his reading to knock the ashes from his pipe.

"I see be the paypers that Mrs. Russell Sage and Jawn Rockyfelly are goin' to spind twinty millions to discover why other people are not so rich as they two. They could get the information from the newspaypers or the Interstate Commerce Commission, I'm thinkin' a good dale chaper, but they can afford the money and instead iv bein' turrible examples iv the wretchedness iv riches they'll both become known as phillyanthropists."

"You may be sure they'll go from bad to worse," interjected Hurley, the morose fireman.

"Ye're wrong, me b'y, that's from bad to better," pursued Mr. Hogan, didactically.

"A phillyanthropist is a felly that'll show where to get a job whin ye're starvin'. Charity can be touched, but phillyanthropy must have good security. Anny plebeian can be charitable, but it takes a millionaire fer to be a rale phillyanthropist. Charity gives alms, and phillyanthropy makes investments. Charity will feed yer baser nature with coffee and rolls; phillyanthropy elevates yer mind be useful knowledge. It is powerful quick at figgers and is always doin' sums with the poor. 'Twill show you while I'm chargin' me pipe that 5272 babies died in 1906 because they got no milk. Turnin' over a leaf iv its book, 'twill convince you that 25,640 infants died in the same year because they got milk. Eleven thousand four hundred and nine poor childer were vaccinated free iv cost to their parents in 1904; 86,429 doses iv quinine were distributed among the tenements durin' the same period.'"

"But does annyone get a meal, or must he pawn his capsules fer a mouthful iv wienes?" demanded Hurley.

"'Tis the likes iv you debases the poor. You can't rayform a man be feedin' him. Give him a meal and he won't listen. Keep 'im guessin' till you've filled 'im full iv statistics. Then put 'im sawin' wood. The book, 'Waste and Want,' shows that the wageworkers iv Amerlky are mostly poor because they spind their money fer food and clothes.

"Charity to such as them would make 'em glad they was broke. Phillyanthropy makes 'em sorry and ashamed they ever had to ask for help. One is a weak sintimint. The other is an exact science. So I say Jawn Rockyfelly and Mrs. Sage do well to dimonstrate the wrong and folly iv bein' poor. With experts gettin' $10,000 a year to investigate the cause iv poverty, there's chanct fer to find the secret iv bein' rich."

"I'd like to have the job investigatin', but I'm not promisin' I'd make a prompt rayport at wages like that," remarked Hurley.

"I suppose not," said Hogan, "but me p'int is this: Phillyanthropy is not a bad substitute fer charity."

GERMS AS HIRED MEN.

From the Minneapolis Journal.

The farmer emptied a white powder into a pail of water, and added thereto a tiny wad of cotton.

"I'm getting ready to vaccinate my land for the spring," he said. "This is the virus. The Government gives me the virus for nothing, and the vaccination increases my crops from 50 to 300 per cent."

Stirring the fluid, he went on:

"Dr. G. T. Moore of the Department of Agriculture, is the inventor of soil vaccination. Thanks to him, you can fertilize for 4 cents as much soil as $40 worth of nitrate would cover.

"You see, the thing that fertilizes soil is nitrogen. Well, there is a lot of nitrogen in the air—seven-tenths of the air is nitrogen. And Dr. Moore has bred a germ, a little living germ, that all its life long works like Rockefeller at extracting this nitrogen from the air and storing it in the soil around it.

"This germ is what I vaccinate my land with. This germ, put in my soil, toils day and night—a fine little hired man. To it the air, the free air we breathe, is a perfect guano bed, and from that guano bed I draw all the profit.

"And the result? Well, a potato field yielded 50 per cent more potatoes after vaccination; an oat field yielded 200 per cent more oats; a wheat field yielded 52 per cent more wheat; a rye field yielded 400 per cent more rye."

MR. AND MRS. PINCH

FOR THE SAKE OF ARGUMENT

Written for the Post-Dispatch

BY RUTH DIMMICK.

WHY does the single woman yearn to be yoked in the holy (?) bonds of matrimony and the married woman yearn to slip off the yoke?

Why does the colored young lady long for straight hair and the white lady want kinks?

"Why?"

The single woman is dissatisfied because the future is an uncertain quantity, and she spends her days waiting, Micawber-like, and goes about with the look of a hunter in her eyes. She is ever on the alert for that fleeting phantom termed "affinity," or "perfect love," and she won't be happy till she finds it, and then—but let her hope on; hope keeps the heart young.

And the married woman; she, too, is waiting. She is waiting for "hubby to do great things, and what does he usually do? Why he waits also, content to have her wait on him while he waits content to have her wait—oh, pshaw!

Now the single woman thinks the married woman has all the best of it and the married woman knows the single one has. The young lady with no incumbrances may go and come at her will. The married woman looks back and believes this independent condition constitutes joy.

The single girl seldom stops to think; on seeing a little woman with rings on her wedding finger, and under her eyes, that the latter probably spent the previous night crying because Jack failed to come home, or because he left the house in a huff that morning, saying he was going back to papa. Oh, no! the ignorant one imagines the initiated has been living too high and very likely had a champagne supper late the night before. And here an old adage comes to mind: "Where abstinence is bliss 'tis folly to imbibe." As to whether this should apply to a case of matrimony or champagne, I am not clear—possibly both.

At this enticing season of the year there is nothing so gladdens the feminine heart as a new gown, and while the bachelor girl is running here and there, seeing dressmakers, matching samples and trying on hats, her married friend is home wondering how she can make over her last season's dress so it will look like a new creation and how she can cut down John's trousers to fit little Willie and Make Mary a jacket out of an old coat. John can't realize that it costs more for gloves these days than it does for shoes and that trimmings cost more than a whole dress formerly did.

She recalls how, not long ago, he liberally handed her $30 and told her to get an evening gown and when she finally got it home and wore it for the first time he expressed dissatisfaction. She also remembers that on the same evening she wore it, Miss Bachelor appeared with one on that cost at least $65, and John turned to her and said: "Now, dearie, that is the kind of dress I want you to wear."

And now at Easter, Miss Bachelor sails forth in her new spring frock and is the admired of all admirers.

"Oh, how beautiful," whispers the little wife to John. "How nice to be able to have pretty clothes and nothing in the world to worry about."

But Miss Bachelor, after the day is done, seeks her little room alone to think her conquests over. "After all," she sighs, "there is not much satisfaction in clothes when one comes home to an empty room, and this is the time Miss Bachelor wishes she had incumbrances—a little Willie and Mary to make over old coats and trousers for, and she goes to bed hungry-hearted.

And now what is the point of this argument? I don't know, do you?

A BUSY SESSION.

From Puck.

The Senator from Vitriol (who breaks but never bends),
Arose to tell the meetin' that his Legislative Friends
From Caraway and Harriman and Bourbon seemed to him
A Cab-horse and a Lemon and a Hole-with-out-a-Rim!

Now this was Out of Order, and the Senate had to act;
It called a Secret Session where, with eloquence and tact,
That Senator from Vitrol was hinted for to be
An Ostrich and a Cyclone and a Curly Snickersnee!

This Diplomatic Language had the requisite effect;

His Toga-clad Associates accordingly withdrew
All items of disparagement, admitting that they knew
The Senator from Vitriol to be (in private life),

Preserve our Noble Senate from an avalanche of cares,
To regulate these Crises in our National Affairs!
And sportfully and speechfully and gaily may it rule—

ALL WOMEN SUFFER

from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drift them into the horrors of all kinds of complaints, organic troubles, ulceration, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness.

Women everywhere should remember that the medicine that holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female ills is made from simple native roots and herbs. For more than thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, regulating the functions perfectly and overcoming pain. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for child birth and the Change of Life.

Mrs. A. M. Hagerman of Bay Shore, L. I., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "I suffered excessive and painful functions so that I had to lie down or sit still most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman so that I am able to attend to my duties. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see what relief it will give them."

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female illness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham, in advising. Therefore she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health.

Superstitious Customs.

From the Chicago Journal.

Many of our customs date back to the dark ages and are based on superstition. We sit up with our dead because long ago our ancestors kept watch by night lest evil spirits come and bear the body away.

We shake hands with the right hand because that is the dagger hand and means that we disarm ourselves in the presence of a friend.

We bow the head in passing others because our ancestors were wont to bow before the real yoke of the oppressor.

From the Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. Tucker: Tommy, I wish you wouldn't play with that Flango boy any more.

Tommy: Gee! I'm only playin' with him because his mamma told him that if he had anything more to do with that Tucker boy she'd spank him.

HINTS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS

WHEN selecting a fernery for the dining table, by all means get one at least four inches deep. As a rule, the pan is too shallow, and it is impossible to provide sufficient earth to properly nourish the ferns. Whatever style is chosen, expensive or inexpensive, it should be made in two pieces—an outside dish and an inner pan of porous earthenware to hold the earth and plants. Even if you choose a deep one, it does not follow that you will have success unless you buy the proper kind of plants. An attractive fernery must be entirely covered with growth. When filling it, plant to the outside edge, and the foliage will droop gracefully all round. The soil for filling should be rich. Never allow the fernery to become too dry, but too much water will be harmful. When selecting your plants, see that they are well rooted, with firm foliage. After each meal, it is better to remove the fernery to a cool place with plenty of light, and give the foliage a gentle spraying. Don't dress the fernery dish with ribbons and fancy paper, but let it be plain and simple.

To Restore Hair's Color.

J. A. B.—Here is a formula which may restore the natural color of your hair, if it has not turned too far: Sugar lead, one-half ounce; lac sulphur, one-half ounce; essence of bergamot, one-half ounce; alcohol, one-half gill; glycerin, three ounces; tincture of cantharides, one-half ounce; ammonia, one-half ounce. Mix all in one pint of soft water. Apply to the roots of the hair, which must be clean.

Indian Pudding.

D'D any one ever try the coarse meal or chicken meal for Indian pudding? You will find it much nicer. Scald three pints milk and stir into it one cup sifted meal. When cooked through add two-thirds cup molasses, one egg, salt. Pour into a pudding dish and bake one hour, then pour in one pint cold milk. Bake in a slow oven three hours.

HARMONY AND HITTING IN McCLOSKEY'S CAMP; STONE COMES TO TERMS

Champion Batter Will Be With the Browns for at Least Two Years and Perhaps Longer---Teams Are Getting Into Great Form for the Opening Series---Browns Meet New York Saturday.

BY NIE.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 22.

THERE will be no need for St. Louis fans to worry over where George Stone will play ball for the next two years, at least.

The champion batsman has practically agreed to stick to the Browns for that length of time, and a contract to that effect will be signed in the American League office as soon as the team gest back to St. Louis. Although Stone has been holding off this year on signing a contract, he has apparently taken no chances in being out of condition, and evidently has done a good deal of work before coming South, for he is in first-class shape now, and throwing and fielding as well as the men who have been down here a week or two. Since his arrival Stone has had on a uniform almost continuously, working mornings and afternoons. He has not had much of an opportunity to handle a bat, but will get busy Saturday and Sunday and try and show that his eye is as good as ever.

Stone is down to weight, looks well and is anxious to lead the league again this year. He says himself that he feels better than he did last spring and that he is confident that he will have the measure of any pitcher who may be sprung this season.

Today the regulars are taking only light practice preparatory to going over to San Antonio to meet the Giants tomorrow and Sunday. It will mean a lot for the St. Louisans to down the New Yorkers; it is going to be the big attraction of the baseball year in the Alamo City, and the fans overe there look to see the Browns beaten. They figure it out that if the best St. Louis could do was to tie San Antonio in 11 innings the Browns must be a poor bunch. They overlook the fact that the team which played the San Antonios last Sunday was made up of five pitchers and three men out of their regular positions.

There is an old St. Louisan here in Austin, one Pat Breen, who used to be a telegraph operator up home. Now he runs a big pool room, where the limit is the ceiling, and where you can get a bet on anything from high five to the outcome of the Thaw trial.

Breen thinks the St. Louis crowd is the best collection of ball players he ever saw, and he is going over to San Antonio Sunday to back his judgment. As he usually carries a roll a hound dog couldn't jump over, there will be something doing if the Alamo sports limber up their wallets.

Stone, like Glade, did not report to the team the day of his arrival, or if he did McAleer kept it under cover. He slipped over to San Antonio and put in a few hours in the baths out at the hot wells, and, when the rest of the team and some of the newspaper correspondents got their first look at him, the fielder appeared not to have done any traveling at all.

The New Yorkers were due to arrive in San Antonio yesterday afternoon, but it was after midnight when they did get in, and it was a tired, wornout crowd of ballplayers that showed up. As a result they will not work very hard today and save themselves for the clash with the Browns tomorrow. McAleer will take the regulars to San Antonio at 8:30 to night and get in a little practice tomorrow morning before the first game.

MARSHALL HIT FIRST HOMER.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 21.

THE Cardinal colts seem to have had their lamps trimmed since last Sunday, when the Senators beat them, and they are now clouting the leather at a merry clip, mostly for extra bases. "Doc" Marshall walloped the horsehide yesterday for four sacks, the first of the season on the local ballyard. Doc's home run was somewhat scratchy, but it counts just the same. Marshall was the first up in the tenth and clouted the ball to the left field fence, where it got lost in the grass and Murray was unable to find it until Doc had raced around the ring.

The regulars and the colts played a game that was interesting and full of spicy episodes all the way. Both squads got a man around the ring in the third chapter and the melee was tied into a hard knot until the tenth session.

The battle wound up 3 to 1, the vets predominating. Both sets had men on the cushions many times, but the needful bingle failed to arrive until Marshall butted in with his belated and mildewed swat. After Marshall had made the circuit Tom O'Hara hit one to enter for two sacks, and Johnny Kelly sent him over the platter with a bingle to left. The colts came in for their tenth, but Blakeney sent them to the bench in rapid-fire order.

"Spider" Blakeney of the local team did the hurling stunt for the last four rounds for the Cardinal vets and had the colts wrenching their spines reaching for the elusive sphere and sent his rivals down the runless shaft in the four brief sessions he was on the firing line.

John Kelly was the main walloper of the matinee, lacing our four safe ones successively, one of them a two-bagger. Beckley, Bennett, Burch and Holly also knocked the pellet into safe territory, and gave a much improved exhibition with the hickory all around. The colts also got a few safe ones in the first six sessions, but the grand held work of the Cardinals kept them from crossing the finish mark, except in one inning.

The game was a fine exhibition of the national pastime and greatly enjoyed by the cluster of fans who saw the combat, a few of whom were ladies.

The team work of the Cardinals has vastly improved since the battle with Washington Sunday. Manager McCloskey, speaking of the team in general, last night said: "The main thing in a baseball team is harmony and sobriety and in these respects the present team is the best I have ever managed. The boys have all cut out intoxicating liquor drinking of all kinds, and the best of feeling prevails among the men. None of the players have a grouch against any other member of the squad and if there are any jealousies among them they keep it to themselves.

"Frequently in the years now past and dead I have had men on a team that would not harmonize and were not on speaking terms. Without their knowledge I had a register placed them so that they would be placed in the same room and by bringing them together they come to know each other better and become friends and thus restored harmony. The principal thing about team work is that the entire team should have a perfect understanding of what play is to come off, and how it is to be made. The whole nine men should be of one mind and be wise to the situation at all times."

McCloskey says when a team is not hitting they look slow and the fans think they are weak. The Cardinals are getting their eye on the ball and are hitting the ball on the crest of the trade mark and also doing about as good work with the bat as any of the big league teams. A code of signals has been doped out, and when one of them is flashed the team is wise to the play that is to come off. The Cardinals are in superb physical condition. There is not a lame whip or a sore muscle or a charley horse in the entire squad.

The Cardinals are getting down to team work. Not a man of the squad had a lame arm or a Charley horse and Mac is glad.

SPORT ERRATIC

BY NOTTA NOKKER.

St. Paul Caterwaul,
Set up a squall,
An awful bawl;
Out of heat,
Took a fall,
On St. Louis
Tried the call;
Bunch o' gall,
"Zinzie" landed
With her maul,
Then a pall,
That's all!
Poor St. Paul!

The language handed out by the St. Paul delegates yesterday was just a trifle hotter than the atmosphere in the convention room at the Southern. But the steelwork in adjacent skyscrapers refused to melt. 'Rah for Garry!

And in the midst of all this hullabaloo anent baseball, bowling and frenzied competition upon a canvas-covered floor, where 400 athletes taxed mind and muscle last night, a pause is taken to answer a correspondent, who this morning wrote to inquire "What kind of a sport is motor boating?"

That's easy.

Motor boating is the keenest sport outside of driving a "devil buggy" at 70 miles per, or roasting inwardly, outwardly and "atwardly" at a baseball game. (Guess the fans'll know what roasting "atwardly" means. In an auto your tire blows up, you go up, the earth comes up and relatives consign the remains to the family vault. In a motor boat you've always got a soft place to light on when you strke a snag and you can't help "ducking" disastrous consequences, 'cause the ducking gets to you first. Stentorian tones and ability to recite "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck" are the first requisites of motor boating. Thick-soled shoes are also advisable in case you should happen to step on the starboard tack. If a fog comes upon you while on the river it is only necessary to light a "seegar" of the cabbage leaf variety, take a whiff of the smoke, ring the bell and imagine you're trying to dodge a street car on Broadway or Olive street. This, of course, only applies to St. Louisans, they being the only people on earth, so far as we know, who can steer their family "crafts," "binnacle light" and all, through streets that a London chimney-sweep would hesitate to enter.

The "arm of the law" hasn't yet placed a speed limit on the river and you can go as far and as fast as you like. The delights of motor boating for the convivial are enhanced by the fact that one can stay "over the bay" with "three sheets (and a gasoline fore) to the wind" and remain "soaked" without contracting a night in the "cooler." That's motor boating as far as we have been infected with the disease.

A dispatch will have it that Mike Donlin celebrated his victory over McGraw on a demand for higher salary, by attending a dance. And—Mac had to pay the fiddler, too. There'll be many fiddlers to pay next year. The coming and going of the baseball team reminds us of how the "boys in blue" marched away to war. But the "boys in blue" always came home victors. So here's to the Browns, may the color not change the luck this year!

Can't somebody start the squash racquet game in St. Louis? From accounts gleaned from Eastern exchanges it is inferred that this kind of "racket" must be "sum punkins!"

Poor "Doc," he is surely carrying an air bubble around in his vest pocket. Charley Grimes is the latest to desert the swimming squad. The swimming team will have to work hard to "duck" a defeat at the hands of the Illinois bunch tomorrow night. Who's afraid? Doc's hirsute appendages will roll as large waves as ever and the boys from over the river may get a sousing anyhow. Goal!

Umpires will now order their spring suits of the blacksmith and have them double-riveted. "Steal" double-breasts with copper-lined "bases" are the styles this year. Batter up!

According to the glowing impressions made upon President Hedges by the Browns in the Southland, Manager McAleer will be in a quandary when he comes to judging who to hit with the "big stick" when the season opens. 'Tis a pity all of 'em can't stay.

"Cowboy" Smith and Fred Biele are glaring at each other and growling out how they can beat each other to it in a cross-country walk. Look out, boys! Select a starting point beyond the corporation line if you're thinking of exceeding the speed limit. "Skiddoo" wagon'll git yer if ye don't watch out!

INDIVIDUALS ARE DOING GOOD WORK

E. Matek of St. Paul Leads With a Score of 624—Grand Rapids Team Is Leading Five-Men.

Twice yesterday was the high score of 611 made by L. Vandersyde, in the individual competition at the annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress in progress at the Ceercent Rink topped, E. Matek of St. Paul scoring 624, while A. Beselin of Omaha rung up a 612 score, just one more pin than Vandersyde secured.

three teams in the standing of either the two-men or five-men team competition. The Schmidt brothers of St. Louis continue to lead in the two-men competition, while the Furniture City team of Grand Rapids, Mich., are showing the way in the five-men work.

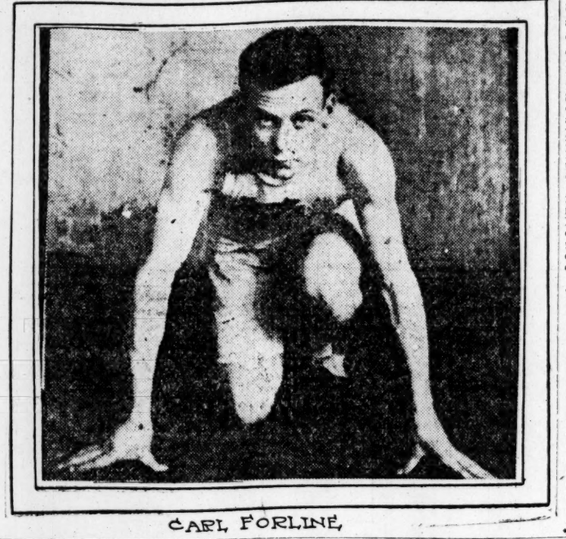

The bowling today started at 10 a. m. The first squad of two-men teams got down to work at 10 a. m. Four squads of two men are scheduled to bowl today. The individuals, of which there are nine squads of twelve men each, will begin at 2 p. m. today, an hour earlier than usual. The usual two squads of five-men teams are scheduled to take possession of the alleys at 7 p. m.

Most of the out of town "boosters," delegates, newspaper men and others not active bowlers, left for their homes last night, leaving only the active bowlers which made the tournament hall seem a bit quiet today after the stirring times earlier in the week. The tournament, however, will not wind up until Wednesday, March ... when the two national women's championship competition will be started.

Graham Knocked Out.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—Jack Graham of Kansas City was knocked out in the third round of the wind-up bout of the Broadway Athletic Club last night by George Gunther of Australia. Gunther led from the start, landing all the effective blows. In the third round Graham fell to the mat from a right hook to the jaw and was unable to get up.

Y. M. C. A. SPRINTER WHO BROKE THE WORLD'S RECORD LAST NIGHT FOR 50 YARDS AT ST. L. U. MEET

CARL FORLINE.

CARL FORLINE WINS THE WOLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP IN 50-YARD DASH

Three World's Records Were Smashed in St. Louis U. Meet and Eddie Cochems' Lads Carried Off the Point Trophy Honors by a Double Score Over the Next Best.

BY MILES J. BURKE.

In Carl Forline of the Central Y. M. C. A. St. Louis now has the champion indoor 50-yards sprinter of the world. Forline is built more for a hurdler or at best a 220 yards man, but hardly for the marvel or the short dash that he proved himself last night at the St. Louis University annual indoor athletic meet at the Jai Alai. Forline won the final heat of the 50 yards invitation race in 5 1-5s, starting one foot from behind scratch.

Some athletes, spectators and critics scoffed at Forline's record. Nevertheless even they conceded that if the record was not authentic, Forline had defeated Archie Hahn of Milwaukee, champion sprinter at the Olympic games held at Athens last year. Hahn and Forline broke to a false start and were put back one yard so that they started on even terms.

Six Men in Invitation.

Six men in all were in the special 50-yards dash, invitation. They were Farline of the Central Y. M. C. A., Warner of the Missouri A. C., Hahn of the Milwaukee A. C., Grover of Washington University and Dick Murray of the Missouri A. C. and Clarence Kenney of St. Louis University.

In the first heat Hahn won over Grover and Murray, but he was pressed to his limit and covered the distance in 5 2-5s, 1-5s better than the record, of which Murray is a joint holder. Murray got going slowly and was third.

Forline, Warner and Kenney was the finish of the second heat. The time equaled the world's record of 5 3-5s. This should have given the crowd an idea of what to expect in the final. Forline, Hahn, Grover and Warner met in the final heat and finished in the order named.

It was an exciting race. Hahn, short, stocky and wearing the track suit with the American shield on his shirt which was the emblem of the American team at Athens, was the favorite with the crowd. Warner, well built and powerful, with a don't care anyhow air, was favored by some. Jack Grover, slender looking, seeming from all outward appearances a distance runner, seemed outclassed. Forline was nervous and pranced up and down the new soft pine straight away for all the world like a 2-year-old going to the post for its maiden race.

Champions Set Back.

Hardly had the men set themselves for the start than Forline and Hahn broke. Both were set back a foot by Starter Bob Leacock. They got on their marks again, set and the gun was fired. Forline got away from the mark like a bullet out of a gun. He did not beat the gun, but he did beat Hahn away. Down the men struggled, with Forline in the lead; Hahn second, Warner third and Grover last. They finished in that order, with the exception that Warner showed up near the line and Grover beat him out for third. One foot separated Forline from Hahn. The same distance was between Hahn and Grover, who was half that distance in front of Warner.

Then came an unfortunate occurrence. Warner ran up the incline at the end of the dash straight away, but his speed was so great that he stumbled and hit his head a terrific bump against the wall, knocking him out. Athletic Director Bassett of the Missouri A. C., one of the three-timers, forgetful of everything, ran to the assistance of Warner, unintentionally snapping his snap watch without looking at it, which allowed the hands to jump back, and he was unable to give the time. Three watches at least must be held and agree to make it possible to establish a record. There is no doubt but that Forline ran the distance in record time, judging from the time of the previous heats. It is doubtful if he will be allowed the record of :05 1-5, although Hahn will undoubtedly get credit for his world's record of :05 2-5, made in the preliminary heat. Hahn, after the race, stated that he was satisfied. He had only been beaten away from the mark twice in as many years, and one time was last night. Hahn and Dick Murray left for Kansas City immediately after the meet, where they will meet in a special 50-yards match race at the annual meet of the K. C. A. C. this evening.

Coe Breaks Record.

Wesley Coe of the Boston A. A. broke two records. In the 12-pound shot put Coe heaved out the leather-covered shot 58 feet 6½ inches, which was ¾ inch better than the record.

In the 16-pound shot put handicap Coe's best put was 46 feet 7¾ inch. This did not get him a place because of the liberal handicaps, Robinson winning with a put of 48 feet 7½ inches, including his 12-foot handicap.

Coe was given considerable applause every time he threw off his bath robe to perform. Coe resembles Flanagan of New York. Broad shouldered, not tall, but possessing tremendous strength, and brown as a berry, he attracted great attention. His great work is the result of a peculiar style. He puts the shot, turns completely around and hardly recovers in time to watch the ball land. Coe received quite a reception every time he put the shot.

Lightbody's Great Run.

James Lightbody of Chicago, the champion mile runner, was the other lion of the evening. Lightbody started in the half mile handicap. The big fellow, running with his same old matchless stride that won for him at Athens, over the world's best, ran around the big bunch in front of him and only missed catching Swift of St. Louis by about 10 yards. Swift was allowed 60 yards handicap.

Frank Cornett of St. Louis university won the final of the 50 yards dash, starting from the 6-foot mark. Hahn also competed from scratch, as did Forline, but both were defeated. Forline in the preliminaries and Hahn in the semifinals. Hahn was almost put out in the preliminary by Frank Mason of the M. A. C., who had a 6-foot allowance and raced Hahn to a nose finish in their heat.

Millhouse Made Good.

The only other event that attracted much attention was the mile run. Frank Millhouse of the Central Y. M. C. A. started from scratch. For five of the twelve laps he was hardly able to move away from the limit handicap men, who were almost at his back, so large were the handicaps. Millhouse's style is far from impressive. He is an excellent judge of pace and when finally on the eleventh lap he passed O'Grady of the M. A. C., who had been leading all the way after receiving a 70-yard handicap, the crowd displayed the greatest enthusiasm of the evening. Millhouse sprinted the last half lap. His time was 4m. 38s., remarkably good when it is considered that he had to run around nearly forty other contestants entered in the race, all of whom were allowed big handicaps on the Y. M. C. A. boy.

As for the result of the meet, few seemed to care. It seems that whatever the wonderful Mr. Edward Cochems turned his hand to is a success, and his track men earned the point trophy by an overwhelming majority with 34 points. The Central Y. M. C. A. tied the Missouri A. C. for second honors with 17 points.

A fashionable crowd filled the boxes and parquet and the spare space on the running floor. It was in the balcony and gallery where the real enthusiasts sat, and when Millhouse won their applause, rendered by thumping on the sheet-iron floor of the gallery, was terrific. The meet was a success. St. Louis U. won the meet and made it a financial success, and St. Louis athletes greatly distinguished themselves, even gaining the honor of one world's championship. What more could be asked of even a promoter of the ability of Cochems?

SMITH CHALLENGES BIELE TO COMPETE IN DISTANCE WALK

"Cowboy" Smith, better known to St. Louisans as "Old Pop," has issued a challenge to Richard C. Biele to compete in a long distance cross-country walk during the coming month, wagers and distances to be fixed by the challenged. Biele announced in the Post-Dispatch last Sunday that he was contemplating a cross-country walk during the spring and Smith, who has won many championship in the various styles of walking and is now in his forty-second year, says he still feels spry enough to contest if Biele will make it interesting.

Both men are veterans in the walking game and met several years ago in six-day matches at Pine Bluff and Little Rock, Ark. Smith says he is open to accept any conditions and any route and desires Biele to communicate with him through the sporting editor of the Post-Dispatch.

RUN IN MARATHON IN FIFTIETH YEAR.

BOSTON, March 22.—Although nearly fifty years of age, Peter W. Foley of Medford, Mass., will compete in the Marathon race in Boston, April 19. The veteran runner is considered by many to have a grand chance to be among the leaders at the end of the 25-mile run.

Foley, who is a member of the Boston A. A., is an allround athlete. For the past three years he has started in the Marathon race, and although he never won, he always finished strong.

Garments Kept in Repair and Pressed Without Cost

Don't Be Deceived

By Fabulous Statements

Some tailors might tell you they can make a garment and have it finished by Easter if you order it by next Thursday or Friday.

We say order no later than tomorrow if you expect superior workmanship without disappointment in time of finishing.

DEMOCRATS SPEAK IN THREE WARDS

SAUNDERS NORVELL BUSY

Shows Himself to Be the Star Campaigner and Orator on Ticket.

The Democrats were busy in three wards Thursday night. Five of the Council candidates, Saunders Norvell, William H. Hauschulte, Arthur J. Fitzsimmons, Frank P. Crunden and John J. O'Brien, made speeches in the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Wards.

The Twenty-sixth Ward meeting was held at the Northwest Turner Hall, 3948 Easton avenue. The other meeting was held at Jefferson and Clark avenues, in the Fourteenth Ward. The Twenty-seventh Ward meeting was at O'Connell's Hall, Marcus and Easton avenues. Candidates for the House of Delegates in the two wards, and several of the campaign orators, appeared at both meetings.

Saunders Norvell, who is president of a wholesale hardware house, is proving to be the liveliest campaigner on the Democratic ticket. When Mr. Norvell gets warmed to his subject he handles issues like the skilled political speaker, but deals directly with the issues that interests St. Louis instead of appealing to the political prejudices of the people.

In his speeches Thursday night Mr. Norvell referred to the Ziegenhein administration's failures to the dark and unpaved streets, and said his face burned with shame when he remembered that his city was governed by such officials.

Demand Reasonable Rates.

He asserted that the public service corporations, now enjoying privileges in St. Louis, should be be required to give good service to the people at reasonable rates.

"The foundation of all progress," said Mr. Norvell, "is honest, intelligent, energetic municipal government. If the people pay taxes cheerfully they must know that these taxes are honestly administered. If I am elected to the Council I shall go into office unpledged and will do my duty."

E. M. Grossman, one of the retiring Democratic members of the School Board, who was asked to go on the Republican ticket in the place of Edward J. O'Neill, has tendered his services to the Democratic City Committee. He will make some speeches.

The School Board wrangle may result in the refusal of the Democrats to put the names of Robert Moore and Christopher W. Johnson on their ticket. It has not been officially determined whether the Republicans can substitute the name of August L. Abbott on their ticket instead of E. J. O'Neill. As O'Neill did not withdraw it is claimed that no vacancy exists and that under the law the Republicans have no power to put on any one else.

HURT BY HAZERS SWORN TO SECRECY

Illinois Youth Crushed by Fall of Tombstone to Which He Was Tied.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KEWANEE, Ill., March 22.—After having his legs crushed and being injured by the fall of a tombstone to which he had been tied by hazers, as the result of his efforts to free himself, and frightened almost out of his mind, George Stone, 16 years old, a High School boy, was carried to a vacant building by his tormentors, who, before they would call a physician, forced him at the point of a revolver to swear secrecy.

Young Stone was enticed to the outskirts of the city last night and set upon by a gang of youths who took him to the cemetery and tied him to the tombstone. Masked and garbed in sheets, his tormentors frightened him to such an extent that his mind almost gave way in terror.

Leaving him bound and gagged to the tombstone, the gang departed, telling him that he would have to remain there all night. For an hour they prowled about the graveyard looking for other ways of fightening their victim.

Upon their return they found Stone worked up to high pitch of excitement as a result of the experience. As they came closer, apparently to execute some of their threats, Stone, with a sudden tug, pulled the monument over upon him.

Seeing the monument fall and without casting another look at Stone, the hazer fled. For a long time the boy was left alone, with the weight of the stone upon him, his bonds making it impossible for him to move either hand or foot, and the gag in his mouth preventing him from making an outcry.

Some time later several of the gang of hazers mustered up courage enough to return to the graveyard and remove the heavy stone. They picked the boy up and carried him to a vacant building, where they administered stimulents, in the hopes of reviving him.

Upon discovering his crushed limbs and recognizing the need of medical assistance, the gang decided to call a physician, but, fearing that Stone would give their names to the authorities, they first threatened him with a revolver and made him take on oath not to divulge their identity.

EXIT CURTAINS REMOVED.

New York Theaters Comply With Health Board's Request.

NEW YORK, March 22.—As a result of the crusade made by the Board of Health, all curtains covering fire exits of the different theaters were removed yesterday. Dr. Bonsal of the Health Department said that the Iroquois fire in Chicago showed the danger of such draperies.

"It was definitely proved then," he said, "that the presence of curtains at the ends of the aisles had helped largely to promote the panic. People grasped them as they passed and pulled them down to the floor and the crowd, following after, tripped and fell. Two persons falling in a crazy mob like that are sufficient to cause a helpless piling up of kicking, struggling humanity. That is the reason for our action."

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting [illegible]. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery", to purify and enrich the blood.

Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppurating, or running, sores and puts them in the best possible condition for healing.

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for all open, running, or suppurating, Sores or Ulcers. For healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed.

If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive it by return post.

In treating all open sores, or ulcers, boils, carbuncles and other swellings, it is important that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery be taken persistently to purify the blood and thereby remove the cause of the trouble. It is in the blood that the great battle of health has to be fought. The ulcer and the sore are simply the scarlet flowers of disease, with roots running down into the blood. These roots must be eradicated or the disease will break out afresh. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood of all foul and poisonous accumulations, pushes out the dead and waste matter, and thus purifies the entire life current. Disease in the flesh must die out when it is no longer fed by foul blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" effectively cures disease in the flesh by curing its cause in the blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid, or lazy, liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and its attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Cures Women's Ailments.

Dr John Fyfe, one of the Editorial staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW, says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica), which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription:"

"A remedy which invariably acts as an invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, associated with chronic diseases of the organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

HOWE, ILL, WON'T LEAD IN CAMPAIGN

Republican City Chairman Has Nervous Collapse and Will Take Long Rest.

AULT BACK IN THE FOLD

City Collector Confers With Leaders and Kratz Ouster Is Planned.

Jeptha D. Howe, chairman of the Republican City Committee, following a nervous collapse on the street Thursday afternoon, will retire from the active management of the Republican campaign. Howe's condition was improved Friday, but he is still confined to his room at his home, 5026 Minerva avenue.

Since the failure of his pet scheme to nominate a House of Delegates and Council ticket of representative men, Howe has been on the verge of a nervous break-down. The day after the Republican convention he went to De Soto, Mo., for a rest, but returned last week and again took up the management of the party affairs. He has been trying to bring the discordant elements of the party together.

Howe expected to make the opening speech at the campaign rally at Concordia Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Arsenal streets, Thursday night, but his sickness caused a derangement of his plans.

He will probably leave St. Louis in a day or two and may be gone for several months.

The Republican campaign was opened in South St. Louis Thursday night, the Ninth, Tenth and Twelfth Wards being especially represented. These were the wards under the leadership of Kratz, Wurzburger and Louis Alt that broke up the Republican convention and nominated the Council and House of Delegates ticket. Alt was at Republican headquarters Thursday conferring with Howe and other leaders.

Alt Back in the Fold.

Alt, it is said, has been taken back into the party organization with the understanding that Kratz and Wurzburger are to be driven out of it.

Judge Franklin Ferriss presided over the meeting Thursday night. Lon O. Hocker, one of the Council candidates, who was billed for a speech, failed to appear. Hocker wanted to withdraw from the ticket, but was persuaded by Howe to stay on. Nicholas R. Wall, who also wanted to withdraw, made his appearance at the meeting and delivered a speech.

Congressmen Bartholdt and Coudrey were the principal speakers. During the course of his remarks Congressman Bartholdt suggested Judge Ferriss as the next Republican candidate for Mayor. In the course of his remarks Judge Ferriss stated that the Democratic candidates had pledged themselves to support Mayor Wells and his policies. He thought this was one good reason why they should not be elected.

Charles Kluegas, Arnold J. Heilmich, Bernard Greensfelder and George A. Slatery of the Council ticket, all made short speeches. Frank N. Simmons of the Tenth Ward, George T. Kollas of the Twelfth and Joseph Schell of the Ninth Ward, candidates for the House of Delegates, made talks.

The Republicans also held meetings in the Second and Twentieth wards Thursday night.

CONRIED OPERA SEASON'S DEFICIT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The New York season of the Metropolitan Opera House will close on Friday of next week, and it is estimated that the deficit will be about $100,000. When asked the reasons for this unusual loss Herr Conried is reported to have said:

"The opposition opera has nothing to do with the season's losses. In fact, after the sixteenth week of the opera the books show that the receipts at the Metropolitan Opera House were $54,000 more than for a corresponding time of any previous season of opera given at this house.

"I attribute a great part of this loss to the removal of Richard Strauss' 'Salome.' The remainder of the deficit must be charged to the loss of scenery and costumes in the San Francisco fire last spring.

It is estimated that the total receipts of the season at the Metropolitan Opera House are about $1,000,000.

Calls Police Law Breakers.

Policemen who manufacture evidence by inducing citizens to buy drinks on Sunday are violators of the law, according to Judge Taylor of the Court of Criminal Correction. Judge Taylor's comment was made in connection with the cases of Charles Enyart, Arthur Fisher, George Von Stromer and Fred Vichman, officers of the Monroe Club, 1200 North Market street. The four were found not guilty of selling liquor on Sunday in the City Hall Police Court, and the cases were taken to the Court of Criminal Correction on an appeal filed by Cl. Attorney Anderson. Judge Taylor upheld Judge Tracy's ruling, and discharged the four men. Policemen Kirby and McNulty of the North Market Street Station testified that Sunday, Dec. 23 last, they induced a "citizen" to buy drinks for them. "The policemen were the violators, not the club officers," Judge Taylor said.

Vacation of Palm Street.

At a meeting of the First Ward Improvement Association Thursday night a committee was appointed to attend the public hearing Mayor Wells has promised on the bill to vacate Palm street near the National League Baseball Park, which has passed the Municipal Assembly. The protest of this committee will be supported by delegations from the Nineteenth and Twenty-sixth Wards. A resolution was adopted indorsing Gov. Folk's proposal to call an extra session and favoring another public utilities measure.

RIOTING GROWS; MANY DEAD

Roumanian Towns Destroyed, Inhabitants Slain.

VIENNA, March 22.—According to the news received today in Budapest from Moldavia, the present movement in Roumania is spreading. The town of Dorogoi has been sacked and burned by the peasants. The inhabitants were compelled to flee for their lives.

At Cucuteni, where many Hungarians live, a fight occurred between the Hungarian and Roumanian inhabitants. Four Hungarians are reported killed and 30 wounded.

TOM JOHNSON IN WRECK.

Pennsylvania's New York-Chicago Limited Leaves Track.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 22.—The Chicago Limited from New York for Chicago on the Pennsylvania Railroad, while going about 35 miles and hour, was wrecked early today at Stewart, Pa., about 17 miles east of here.

The engine and the first five cars were derailed, but no one was hurt, and the passengers were transferred to the three rear cars and brought to this city, where another train was made up and they continued their journey.

It is said that evidence leading the officials to believe that the track had been tampered with was found at the scene of the wreck.

BOYS ON CIVIL SERVICE.

Prize Offered for Essays by High School Pupils.

The boys of the junior and senior classes of the Central High School are to be given a chance to tell what they know about good citizenship and civil service and, at the same time, to win a prize of $10.

At the last meeting of the Civil Service Committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs it was decided to offer a prize for an essay on this subject. The matter was taken up with Superintendent Soldan and Principal Bryan, both of whom indorsed the plan.

At the meeting Mrs. L. L. Werth, former chairman of the committee, read an extended paper setting forth the reasons for this work and for interesting the boys therein. Her idea was that the women could help to reform the civil service and that one of the best ways of doing it was to interest the boys.

Ever since I opened this store last Saturday, I've been up against it—TOO MANY CUSTOMERS and not enough salesmen.

My goodness—but what a reception I did get. And I know—just as sure as I know I'm alive—that all these Suits and Topcoats at $10 and $15 that have been going out are going to be the biggest advertisement I could get.

For it stands to reason when a man gets a $15 value for $10—or a $25 value for $15—he is going around town talking about it—and that means MORE business for me.

Please remember—if you want a hat or a tie or a pair of shoes—I don't sell them.

I'm just scalping the profits on MEN'S SUITS AND TOPCOATS AT TWO PRICES ONLY—$10 AND $15—and on MEN'S TROUSERS at two prices—$3 AND $4.

And I'm putting all my time, energy and experience toward giving you GREATER VALUES at these prices than you can get anywhere else.

See these goods in my windows and in the store—note the styles and fabrics—and if you don't agree that they're the best values you ever laid your eyes on, don't take them.

P. S.—I've got two more salesmen for tomorrow and that should help some.

The Tragedy of a Missing Nickel

Number 2

Unexpected company—lunch time—nothing fit to eat in the pantry. Only way to save the day is to call up the grocery and give a rush order—so far so good—but—it is a slot phone and there isn't a nickel in the house.

Even the visitors haven't a nickel after you have embarassed yourself by asking for it, and they have to eat hash.

Protect yourself against the many little inconveniences, as well as the more serious ones, occasioned by a slot phone—you can get unlimited Kinloch service for less than you now pay for the other limited service.

You can reach more people by Kinloch long distance (in St. Louis trade territory) than by the other service.

"WHAT'S BECOME OF FOLK?" IS QUERIED

BRYAN IS O. K. NOW

Roger C. Sullivan, the Democratic "boss" of Illinois and National Committeeman from that State, while awaiting the arrival of his family at the Planters Hotel Friday, asked:

"What has become of this man Folk?"

"He is still Governor of Missouri," Mr. Sullivan was informed.

"Well, he's been getting a good deal of outside notoriety. How does he stand with his own State?" was the next inquiry. After a resume of the Governor's achievements, the Illinois Democrat puckered his mouth and said:

"Let's see, Folk's term expires in a year, doesn't it? And Stone? Does he want to go back to the Senate?"

Mr. Sullivan expressed the opinion that the mutual desires of the two Missourians might crowd things. Then he was requested to give his idea of Democratic possibilities for 1908.

"It is still too far away to begin pickling a Democratic horse. There are likely to be a great many changes in public opinion between now and the time for the Democratic convention."

"Mr. Bryan, for instance"——

Should Not Have "Butted In."

"O, that little difference of opinion between us has apparently died a natural death," interrupted the Chicago Democrat. "Mr. Bryan is all right, but, he tried to interfere in a State where he should have had nothing to say. No one would like me to come 'butting in' over in Missouri. No, there is too much independent political vision just now to make predictions. The work of various state legislatures, now closing, give the wise man a nudge to keep quiet and keep his eye peeled for what men and conditions may be brought forth in the short space of one year.

"This is a period of fancies among the people, engendered by agitators. There is no telling what a year will produce. I believe in government and state regulation of large quasi-public corporations, when the exercise of that control is based on business methods and not political ones.

"Commissions composed of men who know the difference between economic science and the mere desire to get elected to an office are what we want when it comes to regulating corporate interests. Such a wise control would benefit both the corporation and the private citizen dependent in whatever degree upon its operation.

"By all means let us suppress the agitator and get more of the real business interest into politics. When the spoilsman is eliminated, no one will quarrel about the control of public corporations by the people, through their elected government."

KIDNAPER BREAKS IN WITH A JIMMY

Boys Aged 3 and 5 Taken From Their Beds While Mother Shops.

Mrs. Anna McKeon of 3539 Chouteau avenue spent nearly all Thursday night searching the city for her sons, Raymond, aged 5, and Omer, 3 years old, who were taken from their beds while she was shopping in the neighborhood of her home between 8:30 and 9:30 p. m. Whoever took the children forced his way into the house by prying a window with a jimmy.

Mrs. McKeon said that before departing to make her purchases she put the little boys to bed and left them asleep. On her return she found evidence that someone had been inside. Clothing and other articles were scattered on the floors, and a rear window was open. When she found the children missing from their bed she was greatly agitated and began screaming.

Further investigation led to the discovery that an oil painting of herself and her husband had been pulled from the wall and torn to pieces. The fragments of the picture littered the rear yard. All her sons' clothing had been carried away.

Mrs. McKeon believes her husband, Matthew McKeon, aged 29, from whom she has been separated since July 4 last, can explain the occurrence. Mrs. McKeon told the police that when she heard last from her husband he was in Port Huron, Mich. She says she believes that if he did not take the children himself he hired someone else to do so.

None of the neighbors, so far as the police have learned, heard or saw anyone in the McKeon home.

La Petite Adelaide May Do Her Toe-Dance on Horseback

LA PETITE ADELAIDE

"The Blue Moon" Danseuse Receives Big Offer From Barnum & Bailey.

It now seems likely that La Petite Adelaide will soon duplicate on horseback in a tanbark ring, the dancing doll act which she is this week giving as Tootsa in the first act of "The Blue Moon" at the Garrick. R. M. Harvey of the business staff of Barnum & Bailey's circus, who is now in St. Louis, is so impressed by her toe dancing in "The Blue Moon" that, after obtaining the necessary authority from his principals in New York, he says he has offered La Petite Adelaide $1500 a week to join the Barnum & Bailey forces.

The negotiations were expedited by Manager Fishell of the Garrick, himself an "alumnus" of the Barnum & Bailey staff, and the danseuse herself seems to regard the proposition favorably.

"I know such a thing as toe dancing on the back of a horse has never been attempted," she says, in discussing the matter, "but that is no proof it cannot be done. In fact, I know I can do it, and, just to satisfy myself, I am arranging to secure one of Homer Davenport's best Arabian horses and begin my practicing. The offer made me by Mr. Harvey is very tempting, and if I can assure myself of success in the new experiment, I shall try to get a release from the Messrs. Shubert for the remainder of the season and go on to join the Barnum & Bailey circus, which begins a five weeks' engagement at Madison Square Garden this week."

NOTHING CAN STOP ST. LOUIS' BIG STORES.

With Odds Against Them, They Win Big Victory.

The most striking example of St. Louis "push" for many days is the remarkable transformation brought about by one of the big stores in the last three weeks. Gutted by fire, two floors destroyed, much of the new spring stocks damaged, the Globe Store rolled up its sleeves and met the conditions in a manner that is a credit to St. Louis. Every buyer in the establishment was at once dispatched to the markets for new spring stocks. Hundreds of workmen were immediately put to work day and night, getting the big structure in shape for business; thousands of clerks got to work straightening the goods. In less time than such a task was ever before accomplished in America, the adjustment with the insurance companies was made and a Fire Sale started. Tremendous crowds cleaned up most of the damaged goods in a few days. Then by express and freight, hundreds of cases have been unpacked and placed in stock as fast as they came in. This whole sequence of events is most interesting and the Globe's managers assert, with pride, that the store is now ready with complete spring stocks in all departments.

"It's an ill wind that blows no one good," says Mr. Leo Landau, manager of the store. "Our buyers, just returned from the markets, inform us that they got big bargains, on account of the lateness of the season and also their willingness to use tremendous quantities of fine goods. This means lower prices to our customers. We're in fine shape to take care of the trade. All our Schloss Bros.' suits and topcoats are in, also the ladies' cloaks and millinery; in fact, you'd never know anything ever happened, as far as the stocks are concerned. It was hard work and our employes have been faithful and we appreciate it, too."

Mr. Landau's statement that the clothing buyers and others got big price concessions and that buyers may expect rare bargains will probably interest those in search of Easter finery.

TRAIN HITS CAR; 12 HURT.

Barnum & Bailey Show Opens.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Barnum & Bailey show inaugurated its thirty-sixth annual season at the Madison Square Garden last night, playing to the largest opening performance in the history of the show. The usual ring feats and the arenic novelties, with "The Dip of Death," the great thriller of last year, and the new star number "Ski Sailing," by Carl Howelson, formed a most interesting program. In the latter act, this daring Scandanavian skis down an incline 90 feet long, over a chasm 75 feet wide. The act is a most sensational one.

TO BE BURIED SUNDAY.

Arrangements Made for Funeral of Justice Otto Preiss.

The funeral of Justice of the Peace Otto Preiss who died suddenly at his home in Clayton, St. Louis County, will be held at 1 p. m. Sunday.

His death followed a stroke of apoplexy which caused him to fall unconscious in his office at the Clayton Court House last Friday. He rallied from that attack and seemed to be well until Thursday morning when he was unable to leave his home.

At 2:30 p. m. while talking to his wife in the parlor of their home he collapsed. As he toppled from his chair Mrs. Preiss caught him in her arms. In a few minutes he was dead.

He was widely known as the marrying justice. Since his appointment as justice of the peace in April, 1906, he had married more than 500 couples. Justice Preiss was born at Dwyer, St. Louis County, in 1856. For many years he had been active in Republican politics and had served as Assessor and Deputy Recorder. He is survived by his wife and six children.

WE CURE MEN FOR $12.50

Until April 5th

We Will Treat Any Single Uncomplicated Ailment for $12.50

PAY US FOR CURES ONLY

OUR SPECIAL OFFER: In view of there being so many afflicted with special, chronic and internal diseases who are treating with quack specialists and inexperienced physicians without receiving any benefit, we have decided to make a special offer to charge only one-half of our regular fee for curing those who are now undergoing treatment elsewhere and are dissatisfied, provided that you come to us before April 5th. For instance, if you are afflicted with either Urinary Obstruction, Varicose or Knotted Veins or Nervous Decline, our charge for curing either of which without any complication is $25.00, we will guarantee to cure you for $12.50, and accept the money in any way you wish to pay. We will also cure Contagious Blood Poison for $25.00, which is just half our regular fee. The liberal offer is made to enable those to be cured who have spent their money in doctoring without relief, and to show the many who have treated with dozens of physicians without benefit that we have the only methods that produce a lifelong cure.

Our methods are up to date and are indorsed by the highest medical authorities of Europe and America. Hence our success in the treatment of men's diseases. Remember, our specialty is limited to the diseases of MEN, and MEN ONLY.

Strawberry Preserves In Vacuum Sealed Jars

Fruit preserves coming in contact with air "work" or ferment. Even the fruit preserves you put up yourself won't "keep" if a little air is left in the top of the jar. The least bit will cause the preserves to "work" and lose the fresh fruit flavor.

Some manufacturers use preservatives to prevent "working." In Clymer's Temtors no preservative is necessary. Our new Vacuum Sealed Jar is absolutely air-tight. It does away with preservatives and makes fermentation impossible.

The preserves retain and hold the flavor of the natural fruit in our Vacuum Jar. You will recognize the fresh fruit taste in Temtors. Made from the freshest berries and above the pure food requirements.

Your Money Back if You Want It

Your grocer will refund your money instantly if for any reason you do not like Temtors. Try some delicious Strawberry Temtors on this "taste" plan, entirely at our risk. We really want you to, for we know you will like it.

Your grocer also has Clymer's Temtors in Cherry, Red Raspberry, Blackberry, Peach and Plum. Any one you can taste on trial, and money back if you say so.

St. Louis Mercantile Library Association.

At the regular monthly meeting of the St. Louis Mercantile Library Association, held on March 20, the following memorial was spread upon the records:

"The directors of this association have learned with profound sorrow of the sudden death of their friend and associate, Charles Gordon Knox. For many years a member of this board and for nearly two years its vice-president, those who had known him as a friend and as the best type of American manhood found in his devotion to the work of this body the same invaluable aid and intelligent and hearty co-operation here that he contributed to the least of the many other duties in this community, which his rare capability marked him out to assume, and which he always so punctiliously discharged. Modest and reserved by nature, he sought none of the honors or responsibilities which are the ambition of many of our best and ablest men, but in spite of his tendency to avoid, rather than seek, these badges of honor, his lofty character and strong, clear mind made him a man to lean upon in the hour of trouble, a resource to those who needed help, and a guiding, though self-effacing, influence in the broadest and best work of this city. It is not our purpose to elaborate upon his virtues, for that would be out of keeping with the simple modesty of his character; but we cannot revert to the useful years he spent among us without thankfulness for his high, pure life, and without bitter sorrow that we are deprived of his wise counsel and companionship. We may well turn for guidance to the lesson of his life, and find inspiration from his steadfast and unfailing devotion to duty.

HENRY C. SCOTT, President.

LEGAL.

TRUSTEE'S SALE—Whereas, Catherine A. Gerlts, now more than nine months dead, and Louis Gerlts, her husband, by their certain deed of trust, dated the 12th day of March, 1902, and recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, in book 1709, page 221, conveyed to the undersigned trustee, the following described real estate, situated in the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, to-wit:
Lot No. twenty-eight (28), in block No. two (2), of Lincoln Heights, and in block fifty-two hundred (5200) of the City of St. Louis, having a front of twenty-five feet on the north side of Spalding avenue, by a depth of one hundred and five (105) feet, more or less, to an alley, 15 feet wide, in trust, to secure the payment of certain notes in said deed specified; and, whereas, two of said notes are now past due and remain unpaid; now, therefore, at the written request of the legal holder of said notes and in pursuance of the conditions in said deed of trust, the undersigned trustee will sell the property above described at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, at the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange, in said City of St. Louis, on Tuesday, April 2, 1907, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., for the purpose of said trust.
LINCOLN TRUST CO., Trustee.

YOUR DRUGGIST OUR AGENT. (36)

The Sunday Post-Dispatch has over ONE-HALF MILLION more readers than any other newspaper west of the Mississippi.

Lost and Found

IF YOU LOSE ANYTHING—Advertise it here. It will be returned to you if an honest person finds it. Remarkable recoveries are brought about every day through this column. All druggists receive Want Ads for the Post-Dispatch at office rates.
IF YOU FIND ANYTHING bring it to the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau, 210-212 North Broadway.

Get a claim check for it. Have it advertised. Reclaim it if the owner does not.

THE LAW—People who find lost articles are interested in knowing that the State Law (section 8475 to 8480, Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1899), is strict in requiring them to seek the owners through advertisment and otherwise, and that a failure to do so, if same can be proven, involves a severe penalty.

NEW BRICK HOMES

AT BEAUTIFUL FOREST PARK.
The best homes for the money in St. Louis; four large rooms, granitoid overground basement, with inside and outside stairways, sanitary plumbing; on the highest point around Forest Park, one block from the best street car line; granitoid walks; two street fronts with each house, one of which is made; with sewer, water, gas, all connected and paid. The basement can be utilized for kitchen and dining room, making them six-room houses. At a small additional cost the second story can be added, as all necessary provisions have been made for this, including the laying of joists for second-story floor. With this done, the owner can collect enough rent to clear his own, while the lot on the adjoining street will grow faster than money with the trust company. If interested in owning a home, you will find here a combination that will appeal to your good sense, and you can obtain one for a small cash payment and the remainder on monthly payments. Call at office for full particulars. Take Market car, get off at Forest Park University, walk two blocks west to 6155 Crescent avenue. STOCK MARKET OPENS LOWER

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The stock market opening was lower Friday, but the decline was not so marked as at the opening of yesterday.

Amalgamated Copper opened higher and a few of the less active rail issues were fractionally above Thursday's close.

The forenoon developed nothing further than persistent decline in the price of stocks. The losses were not great, however, but the general character of the decline made it more depressing.

The inherent strength of the American position, as referred to here with reference to the increase of the Bank of France discount rate, is the very thing that points toward practical measures by banks on the other side of the same kind, and acts as a bear argument on stocks.

The trading has not been heavy thus far, the sales to noon being only 361,000.

ALLEGED GAMBLERS GIVE $200 BOND

Deputy Sheriff Refuses to Make Public Names of Those Who Surrender.

Thomas Healy, clerk of the East St. Louis City Court, issued Friday capiases for the arrest of 15 men under 26 indictments of gambling.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Goetz went after the men. The men were simply notified and went to police headquarters with their bondsmen. The bond of each man on each indictment was fixed by Judge Caughn of the City Court at $200.

Altogether five men gave bond Friday morning. Some of the men under indictment are not in East St. Louis. Deputy Sheriff Goetz refused to give the names of the five men who gave bond.

"These men don't want it to get into the papers," he said; "there has been too much publicity already. I'll wait until they are all in."

East St. Louis News

Charles Arn of Columbus, O., and Miss Mayme Berger of Washington, Pa., were married Thursday by Rev. John C. White, pastor of the Episcopal Church. Arn had been refused a license in Belleville and in St. Louis because his intended bride was not with him, but when she arrived Thursday morning from Pennsylvania, the license was granted.

The nomination papers of candidates for city offices at the coming election were certified by City Clerk Williams to the Board of Election Commissioners Thursday. John Domhoff, independent candidate for Alderman in the Fifth Ward, withdrew his petition and will not make the race. This leaves only one independent candidate in the field, Harry W. Davis, for Justice of the Peace.

The members of Mary Urchin Tent No. 8, National Alliance Daughters of Veterans, have presented their president, Mrs. Carrie B. Geary, with an engraved gold ring, in appreciation of her efforts in behalf of the order. The presentation address was made by the department president for Illinois, Mrs. Josie Blackman.

The Jefferson Dramatic Club of St. Henry's Church will produce the morality play, "Everyman," at St. Henry's School Hall Sunday night.

John Bericha, a jail builder, and Mrs. Josephine Morris, both of St. Louis, were married Thursday by Justice Driscoll.

Samuel Swalley has filed a suit for divorce in the City Court from Ruth Swalley. They were married June 15, 1900, and lived together until April 1, 1902.

The body of Kenneth Morris, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Morris of 1114 St. Louis avenue, who died Thursday of pneumonia, was taken to McLeansboro Friday afternoon for burial.

The funeral of Mrs. Magdalene Soldmann, 79 years old, who died Thursday at St. Mary's Hospital of old age, will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. from the home of her son-in-law, Edward Wachtel, in Alta Sita, to Mount Carmel Cemetery. She is survived by several grown children.

The funeral of Charles S. Gaylook, 58 years old, who died of apoplexy Thursday at his home, 511 North Thirty-sixth street, will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. from the family residence to Mount Hope Cemetery.

The funeral of Rosie Thornton, the 11-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thornton of 717 Exchange avenue, who died Thursday of bronchitis, was held Friday afternoon from the family residence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

BROTHER ACCUSES HIM.

Arrested for Hitting Mother After Pursuing Wife.

Christopher Wild of 421 South Church street, Belleville, was arrested Friday morning on warrants charging assault and battery on his mother, Mrs. Mary Wild, and assault with a deadly weapon on his brother, Henry Wild of 708 South Church street. The arrest followed a disturbance caused by Wild at 10:30 p. m. Thursday, when he pursued his wife to his mother's home.

Wild went to trial Friday afternoon before Justice Wangelin on the charge of assaulting his mother, which he denies. He waived examination on the other charge and was held to the grand jury under $400 bond.

When he applied for warrants Henry Wild made a statement about the case, saying:

"Christopher's wife came in and tried to get me to interfere for her husband. I refused. A few minutes later Christopher rushed in, and his wife fled. He then ran toward my mother and myself, putting his hand to his hip pocket. Annie, our sister, cried out: 'Look out, mother, he has a knife.'

"He made a lunge at me. He struck me under the jaw with his left hand. That sent me to the floor. He then attempted to stab me in the back, but the leather crosspiece in my suspender caught the force of the blow.

"My brother Fred, 12 years old, struck Christopher across the wrist with a bookjack, causing him to drop the knife. Because my mother picked up the knife and threw it out the window, Christopher rushed at her and knocked her down. He was holding a chair in the air above her body when I hit him with a club, and he ran away."

Christopher found it necessary to visit a physician to have a scalp wound dressed.

PARENTS OBJECT TO CIVIC PLANS

Children Forbidden to Perform Tasks Outlined by Mrs. Ernest.

The Alta Sita Civic Improvement League, recently formed for the purpose of administering a spring house cleaning to Alta Sita, a residence suburb of East St. Louis, has been given a rude jolt. The parents of several children attending the public school have refused to allow them to assist in cleaning up and decorating vacant property, as planned by Mrs. Finis P. Ernest. Mrs. Ernest was a member of the World's Fair Board of Lady Managers.

Mrs. Ernest addressed the pupils of the Alta Sita School Wednesday and formed the Junior Civic Improvement League, which was to act in conjunction with the senior league, organized last week. The children elected Mrs. Ernest president of the league, and the following pupils were elected to other offices: Vice-president, Orville Franklin; secretary, Mamie Hill; treasurer, Aline Ford.

It was planned to make each Friday afternoon a general cleaning-up day, when the children were to pick up all unsightly objects on the streets and vacant property surrounding their homes and relegate them to the dump heap. Proud of being intrusted with the task of beautifying the suburb, the children hurried home from school and unfolded Mrs. Ernest's plans to their parents.

The children of James Stidger of 3101 Virginia place told their father of the plans, and insisted on taking rakes, hoes and shovels and beginning operations immediately on the surrounding lots. Stidger vetoed the plan and told the youngsters to get to work in their own yard with their beautifying, and to leave the cleaning up of the vacant property for the owners to attend to. Other parents voiced the same sentiment, and the beautifying project is now at a standstill.

Protest Against Weed Plan.

It is also planned to plant flowers in the school grounds and to have the children plant and tend a school garden in an adjacent lot. This will be under the supervision of Principal Huddle. Mrs. Ernest, whose husband is the agent for a syndicate which owns most of the vacant Alta Sita property, and has it for sale, has offered to donate the use of ground for the planting of flowers in various places. The children are to be divided into squads and given plots of ground to cultivate and small prizes will be given for the best flower plot.

This plan is also objected to by several parents, who insist that their children should be allowed to care for their own yards and assist in beautifying the school grounds, leaving the outside weeds to be cut at the expense of the owners.

A donation of 5 cents has been requested of the pupils, to be paid into the treasury for the purpose of buying the necessary seeds to carry out these plans.

Work will be commenced in clearing out the abandoned nursery at Thirty-third street and Bond avenue. This has been temporarily taken off the market and its use donated for the formation of a park and children's playground.

The pupils composing the Junior Civic Improvement League have been requested to report for duty Saturday to assist in clearing up the park and making it presentable. They will be assisted by a few men who will be paid for their labor. Some of the parents say their children will not report for work.

CORN SOMEWHAT LOWER

Oats Iactive—Argentine Shipments Again Very Large—Cash Markets Dull.

Local wheat, after opening firm, advancing slightly early in the day, breaking and declining a fraction, advanced suddenly near the end and the close was ⅛@¼c higher for the day. Corn closed ⅛@⅜c lower and oats nominally 1-16c to ⅜c lower.

May wheat opened ¼c higher at 75¼c, advanced to 75½c, declined to 74⅞c and closed at 75¼c bid. July wheat opened 1-16c lower at 75⅞c, advanced to 76@76⅛c, declined to 75⅝c, and advanced to 76c at the close.

May corn opened 1-16c higher at 44⅝c, declined steadily to 43⅞c and recovered to 44¼c at the close. July corn opened ⅛@½c lower at 44½@44⅝c, declined to 44c and advanced in the late trading to 44⅜@44⅝c, closing with bids at the high point.

There were no sales of oats. May option was offered down ⅜c below Thursday's close to 40⅝c and July was quoted at 36¼c sellers.

Argentine wheat shipments were 4,632,000 bu, against 4,760,000 bu last week and 3,824,000 bu a year ago. Argentine shipments from Jan. 1 to date were 32,264,000 bu, an increase of 6,068,000 bu over the same period last year. The Argentine wheat market is weak, with large offerings. Arrivals from the interior are very heavy and of a satisfactory quality. Liverpool cables closed ⅛d higher to ⅛d lower on spot wheat and unchanged to ⅛d lower on the futures. Paris closed ½c to 1c lower on wheat and unchanged to ½c lower on flour. Antwerp wheat closed unchanged to ⅛c higher. Berlin wheat unchanged and Budapest wheat 1⅜c higher.

Local values opened firm, the chief features being the crop damage reports. Temperatures are still abnormally high in the Southwest and damage from hot winds were reported from several sections. Green and chinch bugs were again reported, and some samples received this morning from Southern Kansas are said to be alive with the bugs, and the plant badly damaged. A good part of the crop of California is said to be irreparably damaged by the recent floods in that State. There was a good demand from all sources at the start and prices advanced about ⅜c. Some liquidation appeared when the high point was reached, however, the weakness in corn, the very large Argentine shipments and indifferent Liverpool cables being the bearish factors. Prices receded steadily from the high levels, declining about ⅜c under Thursday's close. Prices were rather dull in the middle of the day, but in the late part of the session trading picked up suddenly and just before the close was very active. The business was mainly on the buying side, caused principally by late advances at other markets, and prices were bid up sharply just before the end, the close being higher for the day. The cash demand for wheat was quiet, and the market dull. Prices were about steady. Clearances of wheat and flour for the week were 1,870,000 bu and today's clearances were 81,400 bu.

Corn opened weak and declined steadily in the early part of the session. Local traders were inclined to sell, the chief feature being the early sharp decline at Chicago. Prices declined ⅝⅜ to 1c below Thursday's close, but the late strength in wheat caused a partial recovery near the end and the close was ⅛@⅜c lower for the day. Trading was fairly active. Liverpool cables closed unchanged to ⅛d lower on spot corn and ⅛d lower on the futures. Argentine corn shipments were 40,000 bu, against 64,000 bu last week and 98,000 bu a year ago. Argentine shipments of corn from Jan. 1 to date were 5,100,000 bu, an increase of 1,598,000 bu over the same period last year. The Argentine corn market was inactive, with a steady demand. Arrivals from the interior are practically nil. The cash corn market locally was dull. The demand was slow and prices rather weak. Clearances of corn for the week were 2,250,000 bu and today's clearances were 233,000 bu.

Oats was again inactive, there being no sales and few quotations. May option was offered ⅜c and July option 1-16c below Thursday's close. Cash oats prices were lower and the demand was weak. Oats clearances for the day were 24,100 bu.

The Modern Miller crop outlook says that reports from the sections infested by green bugs show serious damage to the wheat crop in Texas and the Indian Territory, but no damage of consequence in Oklahoma or the southern counties of Kansas. An Oklahoma miller telegraphs that bugs are working in the fields; another that hot winds are killing the bugs. Several millers report exceedingly high temperature, accompanied by dry, high wind. Complaints of poor crop prospects continue from Michigan and Northern Indiana and Ohio. Elsewhere prospects are favorable, especially in Kansas and Nebraska.

Minneapolis stocks increased 675,000 bu and Duluth stocks 725,000 bu for the week. Following are the Northwestern car lots: Minneapolis, 310, against 250 last year; Duluth, 94, against 38 last year; Winnipeg, 110, against 168 last year; total, 514, against 456 last year.

Primary movement: Receipts—Wheat, 578,155 bu, against 493,561 bu last year; corn, 793,269 bu, against 344,260 bu last year; oats, 570,849 bu, against 435,081 bu last year. Shipments—Wheat, 239,225 bu, against 217,000 bu last year; corn, 558,125 bu, against 262,000 bu last year; oats, 494,930 bu, against 572,000 bu last year.

St. Louis receipts and shipments: Receipts—Wheat, 30,175 bu; corn, 121,840 bu; oats, 81,600 bu. Shipments—Wheat, 32,220 bu; corn, 121,865 bu; oats, 84,685 bu.

LIVESTOCK.

Receipts—Cattle, 1500; hogs, 6500; sheep, 500; horses and mules, 200.

CATTLE—A few pretty good steers were included in the 900 native cattle received and the 600 quarantine supply embraced some pretty good Texas steers and Oklahoma heifers, as well as the usual proportion of common and fair kinds; the market was slow and weak in both divisions.

HOGS—The run today was fairly liberal, about 1700 larger than a week ago, but more than 3000 less than the same day last year. Quite a number of trashy lights and rough hogs were included, but the general quality was fair. The market opened 10c to 15c lower, but trading was fairly active at the decline.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET DULL

BANK ISSUES ARE QUIET

Ely-Walker Dry Goods common issue exhibited great strength at the forenoon session, advancing in the bid from 120 to 127 and at the close 35 shares selling at 124, with 123⅛ bid and no offers.

Traction issues remain firm in the bid and ask, but the only issue traded in was the 4 per cent bonds, unchanged at 82⅛.

FINANCIAL.

Local bank clearings and balances: Clearings for Friday, $10,976,172; last week, $10,641,947; balances for today, $668,855; last week, $852,768. Increase clearings, $334,225; decrease balances $189,413.

Messrs. George H. Burr & Co., commercial paper brokers, 304-5-9 Security Bldg., report local money: Indorsed bills receivable, 4 to 9 months, 5¾ to 6 per cent; high-grade and single-name paper, 4 to 6 months, 6 per cent; other names, not so well known, 6 to 6½ per cent; call money on good security, 5½ to 6 per cent on first-class security. Market very firm. Demand for money continues good.

Reports from other money centers that the redemption of United States Government 4s of 1907 is tending to ease the situation do not have much effect here. St. Louis financiers say that there has been little or none of this since the first of the month. Rates are holding up very well both for time and demand loans. Preparations for the usual quarterly disbursements, beginning April 1, are now being made.
